"On this spot now made sacred to all that we hold dear, where the blue of the great inland sea blends with the azure of western sky, stands this imposing dome, rigid and immovable by day, but in the night, when the stars sing together, it bows as it faces toward the graves at Arlington and the poppy fields of France."

Thus did Rush L. Holland, former grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, describe his fraternity's war memorial headquarters at the dedication yesterday afternoon.

Chief Event of Day.

Coming as the principal event of the sixty-second annual convention, the dedication was replete with all the Elks' impressive ritual. Thousands grouped on the memorial grounds at Lake View avenue and Diversey boulevard saw and heard the leaders of Elkdom laud the sacrifices of their soldiers, both the dead and the living.

The loop last night was filled with a smiling, laughing, milling crowd of Elkdom's subjects, while competing bands marched about. At the Chicago lodge, 174 West Washington street, the crowd was thickest, and open house was held until early morning hours.

"Hello Bill" was the greeting, and it mattered not whether a hat band was decorated with a delegation designation, the hail was given to all.

Big Parade Today.

Today the convention activities center about the grand lodge parade, starting from Michigan and Chicago avenues at 3 p. m., and winding north through Lincoln park to the war memorial headquarters. More than 30,000 will be in the line of march, William J. Sinek, grand marshal, estimated.

Mr. Holland, principal speaker during the dedication ceremonies at the memorial building, formerly was an assistant United States attorney general. In his address, which preceded the actual dedication of the building by the grand exalted ruler, William Hawley Atwell, Mr. Holland described the Elks' from the founding of the order in 1868 to the present, dwelling on the war records of its members.

Tells of Elks' War Services.

"More than 70,000 of our boys went away to the world war," he said, "and 1,000 now sleep in foreign graves. The Argonne, Chateau Thierry, the battles of the Somme, all the great American engagements of that conflict exacted their toll of lives from the ranks of Elkdom.

"So now, in their memory, it is fitting that we establish this memorial which will stand until its solid rock, marble, and bronze are buried in the dust of the ages, silently proclaiming love of liberty and devotion to those who made the sacrifice, that liberty might not perish."

Preceding his address, ex-Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, who once headed the order, spoke in the name of the memorial committee.

Reports Completed Work.

"Now that this duty is completed," he said, "we feel that we have built a shrine, not a sepulcher, and here, in fancy, is an abiding place of spirit and life, where all Elks may come and kneel before the light ever burning upon the altar of memory."

To this, Mr. Atwell replied in the name of the order, "Thank you, Tener. The shrine you have built is a marble poem, it is the music of material. It is a harmony for those who have died that we might continue to live unordered by another nation."

Then came the ritual, the placing of the emblems of the virtues of Elkdom on a pedestal of the flight of steps leading to the memorial's entrance.

Escorted by William J. Sinek, grand esquire, four young women, clad in white and bearing the ribbons of Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love, and Fidelity, each walked to the pedestal and deposited the ribbons.

Flag, Bible, Elk Head.

First Miss Mildred Masters of Charlevoix, Pa., with Mr. Sinek, placed a silk American flag on the top of the pedestal. Next, Miss Maxine Rain, of Fairbury, Neb., laid the Bible, open, on the flag. Following, Miss Kathleen Price, Columbus, O., placed the head of an elk, with spread antlers, over the book.

Lastly, Mrs. Marion Gardner, of New Orleans, carried a shining star, affixed to a base, and placed it beside the antlered head. Each of the women was presented with a large bouquet of flowers by Mr. Atwell.

Following the address by Mr. Hol-

INDICT FIFTY OFFICIALS FOR ELECTION THEFTS

Grand Jury Trailing McSwiggin Murder.

As the special grand jury continued yesterday to grind out indictments against vote thieves—precinct officials—it was reported that more than 50 judges and clerks already have been named—the business of gauging the full extent of the vote steal went industriously on in the election commissioners' offices.

The vote-fraud indictments will be returned before Chief Justice Thomas J. Lynch tomorrow, it was reported.

The true bill against Harry Hochstein, recognized as the Deneen-Lundin representative in the 20th ward, was reported to have been voted following investigation of the 3d precinct of the 20th ward.

Where Stolen Votes Went.

Precinct clerks are reported to have confessed that 249 ballots had been voted by themselves for eligible voters who had not claimed ballots. On the face of the recount, the 249 stolen votes must have been given to 24 candidates of the Crowe-Barrett faction, and to two Deneen-Lundin candidates, Diamond Joe Esposito, for county commissioner, and Samuel Heller, for city judge.

Hochstein, it was reported, was questioned as to whether he had transferred his allegiance shortly before the primary from the Deneen-Lundin to the Crowe-Barrett faction. He replied that he had not.

Tabulations on the recount of the Democratic vote for county judge were made public by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, the nominee to succeed himself, and they revealed that in 11 precincts recounted in the notorious 20th ward he had been given 442 more votes than he was entitled to.

Jarecki Loses Total of 508.

John J. Byrne, who opposed Judge Jarecki in the primary, was found to have been cheated of 66 votes, which made the total Jarecki loss in the 11 precincts 508 votes. Judge Jarecki suffered losses in all the precincts recounted, and Byrne lost in two precincts, gaining in the other nine.

Although the recount can have no effect, Byrne not having sought a recount, Judge Jarecki decided yesterday to count all of his votes, since it had been pointed out that he was recounting the Joseph P. Savage-Daniel P. Trude Republican vote for county judge, though no recount is ordered.

The standing in the Savage-Trude recount for county judge now gives Judge Trude a net gain over Savage of 2,394 votes.

Democratic Frauds Grow.

Democratic thievery in the primary was even more extensive than that committed by the Crowe-Barrett and the Deneen-Lundin Republican factions combined, it was indicated by the recount figures made public last night by County Judge Jarecki.

An average of 1,198 votes was stolen for each of 13 candidates of the Brennan faction of the Democrats in only 35 precincts, it was shown.

In 194 precincts, covering 5½ times as much territory, the average steal for the 52 candidates of the two Republican factions was 2,225 votes each.

The net average steal of the Crowe-Barrett faction alone in 194 precincts is 3,165 votes per candidate, and of the Deneen-Lundin faction, 1,285 per candidate.

McSwiggin Queries by Grand Jury.

Edward Moore, an executive of the sanitary district, and Crowe-Barrett committeeman for the 30th ward, was questioned by the special grand jury yesterday and, according to reports, was asked whether he was present in the automobile when Prosecutor William H. McSwiggin, James J. Doherty, and Thomas Duffy were murdered in Cicero.

Denying that he was present, Mr. Moore is reported to have given the jurors his exact whereabouts on the night of the murder, and to have declared that a half hour before the shooting, in Cicero, he had been talking over the long distance telephone to his wife in Milwaukee. Mr. Moore said he had placed the call from his office on South Michigan avenue and that it could be verified by the telephone company.

McSwiggin's father on the day after the murder declared that his son, upon leaving the house the night before, had said he was going "to see Ed Moore," and Mr. Moore believes that that statement has led to the rumors he was with the slain prosecutor that night.

Special State's Attorney Charles A. McDonald, beyond admitting that Moore had been questioned, refused to comment upon his testimony.

TALL? HERE'S A TALL YARN FOR SIX FOOT MEN

It's a long story—this tale about tall men.

Benjamin Ostlind of Marshfield, Ore., who stands 6 feet 4, has ascertained that there are more than two million six footers plus in the United States. Mr. Ostlind, a visiting Elk, is distinctly of the opinion that something should be done about it.

Low awnings, short bathtubs, low ceilings, short beds, short sheets, short shirts, low mirrors, cramped automobiles, close theater seats, short Pullman berths, short operating tables, and even short jail cells.

But there's relief in sight. The Tall Men's association, of which Mr. Ostlind is the founder and president, is spreading a tall propaganda.

Through the efforts of the organizations founded by this comfortably prosperous lumberman from Oregon, hotels throughout the country have taken cognizance of the needs of taller men. One hotel now has an entire floor built for tall men, with extra inches added everywhere, from doorjambs to bathtubs.

A conference recently with officials of the Pullman company practically assured the addition of six inches to the two end berths in each sleeping car.

"Until just lately," confesses Mr. Ostlind, "about the only clothes I could buy, ready to wear, were hats, handkerchiefs, and neckties. And have you ever considered the predicament of a long fellow on a short operating table?"

GIRL KILLED BY BOY BICYCLIST RIDING ON WALK

Struck by a bicycle being ridden on the sidewalk, 10 year old Jennie Zigmunt, 2432 Marmora avenue, was fatally hurt last night. She was running after a ball that was bouncing in front of her home when a bicycle ridden by Frank Fejdascz, 13 years old, 2457 North Mason street, struck her. The boy was arrested and held in the Juvenile home.

Fansto Ronnis, 39 years old, 127 North Cicero avenut, was fatally hurt when a motorcycle on which he was riding in Columbus park was struck by an automobile driven by Chester Dean of Lisle, Ill. Ronnis died in the West Suburban hospital, raising the total deaths in the county since Jan. 1 to 424.

County Highway Police Seize Stills in Stickney

Three large stills and 175 barrels of mash were captured in a raid at 6540 South Cicero avenue, Stickney township, last night by county highway police led by Sergts. Bokholip and Sebeck. The stills are claimed to be part of a chain owned by the Al Caponi interests.

Robert Scott Sentenced to Life in Prison

CRIMINAL COURT.

Everett Lee, murder, sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary; Joseph Waterman, embezzlement, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell, by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Eskil Nelson, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Emanuel Eller.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

Robert Scott, 25 years old, whose older brother, Russell, is under sentence to hang on Oct. 15 for the murder on April 2, 1924, of Joseph Maurer, loop drug clerk, yesterday was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge William Nelson Gemmill, before whom he had pleaded guilty to the same crime, the while denying that he had fired the fatal shots.

Two factors, Judge Gemmill indicated, influenced him in imposing a life sentence, rather than the death penalty, for the crime which he characterized as "a cold blooded murder the like of which I have not heard in my experience."

What Influenced Judge.

Those two factors were:

Robert Scott's plea of guilty.

Robert Scott's testimony from the stand, together with other corroborating evidence, that he did not do the actual killing.

"While Robert is in a sense as guilty as his brother," the judge pointed out in his summary preceding the reading of the sentence, "he is not by any means as much to blame as Russel, who, the evidence now shows, was the actual murderer of Maurer and fired the fatal shots.

"It appears that Russell took the initiative throughout the entire affair."

Judge Blames Russell.

After suggesting the possible need of a law prohibiting the infliction of the death penalty in a case where a plea of guilty is entered, except, he emphasized, "where the case is so revolting that the death penalty is a universal demand," Judge Gemmill had this to say of Robert Scott's case:

"Of course, under the law, all participants in a crime are equally liable as a principal. But since there is no further doubt that Russell fired the fatal shots and since the law contemplates, by providing three different penalties, that different conditions may govern different crimes, I feel that Robert is not as guilty as Russell and is entitled to some consideration.

Under Brother's Influence.

"Robert did not seem to be the leader. He is seven years younger than his brother, was in Russell's employ and under his influence, and came to Chicago at his request. If Robert were as bloodthirsty as most of the robbers that we try here every day, it seems to me that with a revolver in his hand during the struggle preceding the shooting, Robert could have killed Maurer at any time, but he made no effort to do so."

The salient points of the case, as reconstructed in Judge Gemmill's court, were these:

Maurer, commanded by Robert to open the cash register of the City Hall pharmacy, where he [Maurer] was employed, dodged away from Robert's revolver and the two scuffled. They both rolled on the floor and grappled with each other. Presently there was a shot. No one but Russell and Robert knows which one fired it. At his trial Russell declared that Robert, who was then missing, had fired it.

Robert, persuaded yesterday to take the stand provided he would not have to testify against his brother, swore that he, Robert, had not fired it. Further evidence showed that Robert was beneath Maurer when Maurer was shot in the back.

Thomas Scott, Robert's father, said of the sentence, "It's better than a hanging."

Flees Police at Station and Is Shot to Death

A man, identified by papers in his pockets as Raymond Kennedy, caught in the act of attempting to crack the safe in the Walgreen drug store at Madison street and Homan avenue this morning, was shot and killed as he attempted to escape from the patrol wagon at the Fillmore street police station.

Shortly before 6 o'clock Patrolmen William Fick and George Armbruster were making their rounds near the drug store when they saw a flash in the rear of the store. Investigating they found two men at work on the safe, and laid plans for their capture. Going to the rear door one of the policemen started to enter. The two men heard him and ran, one of them escaping. The other was captured after a chase.

The captured man was taken to the station in the patrol wagon. Being "tall and thin," he reasoned the police would probably miss him if they fired on him, according to their theory, and decided to attempt an escape.

As he was taken from the wagon he wrenched himself free of the policeman's hand and fled. Patrolman Sherman Prindiville fired three shots and all struck the fugitive. He was started for a hospital but was dead when he reached it.

13 Hang for Plot to Kill Turk Ruler

KEMAL PASHA.

Djambolet Bey, former minister of the interior and one of the leaders of the Union Progress party, warned his executioners that the wholesale hangings would bring misfortune to new Turkey. His speech was cut short by the noose.

Mournful Sight on Quay.

Daybreak revealed a mournful sight on Smyrna Quay, where four years ago hundreds of refugees found safety from the great fire which literally removed all traces of the Biblical city. Stretching in an unbroken and ominous line down the short waterfront street were thirteen rude gallows—in reality simple tripods — with short nooses attached. The street was deserted, save for a few Greek and Turkish shopkeepers, who craned their necks fearfully from the doors and upper windows of the shops that crowd this quarter.

Soon was heard the tread of marching feet, and at one end of the cobblestone street appeared the silent band of executioners with their prisoners.

Little groups clustered around the thirteen tripods, the nooses were adjusted, and at one signal the thirteen conspirators were swung into the air and left hanging.

Life of Republic Periled.

The trial of the condemned men, who were charged with plotting the death of Kemal Pasha on his arrival at Smyrna on June 18 last, disclosed that the very existence of the new Turkish republic was threatened by the plotters. The public prosecutor maintained that if Kemal had been assassinated his partisans would have inevitably reacted against the promoters of the plot, and civil war would have followed, and certain of Turkey's foreign enemies might not have remained passive.

Among those hanged were Chukri Bey, deputy from Ismid; Zia Hourchi Bey, a former deputy, and Ruchdi Pasha, deputy from Erzerum.

Four men went to Broussa to assassinate Kemal Pasha, but, finding no opportunity, returned to Constantinople, where it was decided the assassination should take place on Kemal's entry.

Small hand grenades were prepared and one of these was to be handed in a bouquet to the Turkish president by a woman. Kemal canceled the visit, and it was then planned to attack him during a holiday in Smyrna.

URGES UNBIASED STUDY TO MEET ISSUE SQUARELY

Moral Breakdown Bared to Bar.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Denver, Colo., July 14.—[Special.]—America's greatest spectacle of prohibition and crime, the breakdown of respect for law that has followed Volsteadism, the futility of courts in a straitjacket of antiquated procedure trying to cope against hardened, organized malefactors with great finances of bootleg, rum-running, moonshine, and bank robbery money, formed the composite topic at the opening day's sessions of the American Bar association.

MAYOR W. E. DEVER.

Mayor William E. Dever of Chicago said that, after six years of Volsteadism, such appalling phenomena cluster around the liquor question that it is impossible to get good government in the large cities. He said that laws to regulate ordinary human conduct were regarded by many exemplary folks as "tyrannical intrusion" on personal rights. He said it was an "impossible task" to obtain respect for such laws.

Justice in Handcuffs.

A picture of Justice not only blindfolded but handcuffed and placed in a straitjacket by too many laws and too antiquated procedure was painted by Chester I. Long of Wichita, Kas., president of the bar association, in his opening address. He said that the courts are helpless and futile before the onslaughts of modernized crime.

"Slow down the legislatures and speed up the courts, let that be our slogan," Mr. Long said. "Crime today is organized and it faces an American bar that is not fully organized."

Behind the Times.

"Lawyers are usually conservative. Reforms, however, should come from within the profession and not from without. In this age of accuracy and speed our judicial machinery is not up to date. Let us remove the obstacles that impede the progress of jury trials.

"The public has lost faith in the efficacy of the courts and their results in the enforcement of the criminal law. Crimes of violence have become so frequent that in several states certain classes of citizens have taken into their hands the protection of their lives and property. This is true of bankers. It is the greatest reflection on our courts."

Restore State Control.

Encroachments on local self-government and upon liberty were opposed by Mr. Long.

"Liberty has been imperiled by the impairment of local self-government. Let the states resume and exercise the powers reserved to them. Restore liberty by restoring state control over local state affairs. Local self-government is in great danger today. The disposition is to do everything in Washington and as little as possible in the 48 state capitals."

Guy A. Thompson of St. Louis gave a report of the Missouri crime survey, similar to the work which the Chicago Crime commission was the first to start.

The association today chose Chicago as its permanent headquarters and all business activities of the association will be handled from the Chicago office.

Suggests Unbiased Probe.

Reiterating his position before the senate wet and dry committee last May, Mayor Dever urged a scientific study of the prohibition issue by an unbiased commission.

"Such an investigation should be at the direction of congress," he said, "and might consist, for instance, of representatives of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the American Federation of Labor, the American Bar association, the American Medical association, and other disinterested national organizations."

1. An increased number of criminal court judges so all cases could be tried in thirty to sixty days.
2. Quicker choosing of juries by limitation of the challenging rights of attorneys.

3. Decision of sanity cases by official commissions instead of the testimony of "alienists."

4. Quicker appeals of criminal cases through hearings by the higher courts on the typewritten record of proceedings.

5. Stiffer parole laws and a restriction of the pardoning power of the governor.

Turns to Dry Law.

Prefacing the main part of his address with these points, Mayor Dever then plunged into his attack on the Volstead act.

"The prevalent belief that there is a growing disrespect for law is, in a measure, but not entirely, well founded," he asserted. "Many, probably most, of the laws that exist for the protection of life and property are as respected today as ever.

"The trouble arises from the laws not at all aimed at eliminating things of moral turpitude but rather for the regulation of human conduct in certain matters regarding which in many parts of the country there is a dominant belief that lawmaking authorities have no right to interfere.

Evils of Prohibition.

The attempt to eliminate drunkenness by precept and example, Mr. Dever pointed out, was highly successful. The benefits were pronounced. Then came the 18th amendment and its consequent evils.

"For the first year or two the effect was encouraging," he said. "But soon we had the organizations of bootleggers, beer runners and official corruptionists; and now a new and extremely disturbing development, the widespread making of beer and hard liquor in private homes.

"It is charged, I do not know how truly, that there are 5,000 private stills operating in Chicago. This presents a problem of grave danger and the only legal way to deal with it is by use of the search warrant.

A Dangerous Writ.

"And the search warrant, I believe, is the most unpopular, oppressive and dangerous writ known to the law. But that is the remedy we must now use if we are going to stop home brewing and the making of moonshine by private families.

"The intent of the law has not been realized. Neither the use nor the abuse of intoxicating liquor has been eliminated by prohibition, and it is not known today by anybody whether there is more or less drunkenness than before the adoption of the 18th amendment."

Nation's Chief Problem.

The senate committee did little to settle the liquor question, the mayor asserted. It has grown steadily more acute until it is the chief domestic problem of the nation, he said, challenging the basis of government.

Outlining his plan for an investigating commission, he concluded:

"The adoption of a recommendation of such a commission would, in my opinion, go far toward reëstablishing that general public demand for law observance without which the most highly organized and efficient judicial machinery must function inadequately and uncertainly."

Draft Code to Put Criminals in Cells and Keep Them There

New York, July 14.—(AP)—The finger of the national crime commission was pointed at the weak spots in criminal law today. From a six months' study to determine why 90 per cent of major criminals are not apprehended and why 75 per cent of those caught escape punishment, the subcommittee on criminal procedure and judicial administration emerged with 20 recommendations for putting the criminal in jail and keeping him there.

The provisions, contained in a report made to the commission, recommend, among other changes in criminal law, that judges be allowed to comment on evidence, that attorneys be permitted to draw inference from the failure of a defendant to testify in his own behalf, that the power of district attorneys to quash proceedings be modified and that activities of professional bondsmen be curtailed.

"Under these provisions," Chairman Herbert S. Hadley, chancellor of Washington university, St. Louis, said, "The trial of the criminal will become less a game of skill, cunning and endurance between opposing lawyers and more of a judicial investigation under the trained and impartial direction of a judge to ascertain the truth."

Will Urge Code's Adoption.

The report is offered as an outline of a code of criminal procedure. Adoption of this code by state legislatures will probably be urged.

The "third degree" was the first subject considered by the subcommittee. It was recommended that every person charged with a felony be taken before a judicial officer and, after being informed of his rights, be permitted to make public statements and answer questions regarding the charge.

Limitation of the presumption of innocence to the extent of placing upon the state only the onus of proving a defendant guilty beyond reasonable doubt and a "five-sixths" verdict by jury in all except cases involving capital punishment was recommended.

Courts authorized to place defendants on probation and those authorized to pardon or parole would be required to give notice to prosecuting officers under one provision. Mr. Hadley said this was directed at abuses in the pardon and probation systems in some states. Another recommendation was that defendants appealing from a judgment or conviction for bailable offenses be held in custody unless the trial court certify a reasonable ground for appeal.

Would Curb Insanity Pleas.

Recommendation was made that persons desiring to make pleas of insanity be required to present such pleas ten days before trial, and that where the plea is insanity at the time of commission of crime the judge may call three disinterested qualified experts to testify and shall fix the fees of such alienists.

The limitation of the nolle prose qui power of district attorneys would be accomplished by a provision making it necessary for prosecutors to advise courts in writing of reasons for such action and the granting to courts of power to overrule prosecutors in such cases as the courts decided should be tried.

The subcommittee stated the opinion that those committed to penal institutions in error should be reimbursed for suffering due to miscarriages of justice.

GLOBE CIRCLERS SET RECORD OF 28 DAYS 14 HRS.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Edward S. Evans and Linton O. Wells set a new record for encircling the globe today when, at 4:10 p. m., they dashed up to the curb in front of the Pulitzer building in Park Row in a fast automobile, ending a journey of 20,100 miles by fast trains, express liners, airplanes, and motor cars.

The official time of their trip around the world was twenty-eight days, 14 hours, 36 minutes, and 51 seconds. Announcement of this was made by Vilhajalmur Stefansson, the arctic explorer, who greeted them at the curb as official timekeeper.

"We've had a lot of fun," said Evans.

Started June 16.

The two travelers started from Park Row at 1:30 a. m., June 16, in dinner clothes. They sped to the battery in an automobile, took a coast guard speed boat, and overtook the Aquitania, which already had sailed down the bay. They arrived today in grimy khaki overalls, their faces burned by the winds of eight countries through which they have passed and smeared with the grease of the planes in which they made their final sprint across country today from Rantoul, Ill., to Mitchel field, Long Island.

In the crowd which welcomed the travelers today was John Henry Mears, who set the previous record in 1913 by encircling the globe in 35 days, 21 minutes by train and ship.

8,500 Miles by Plane.

Evans and Wells traveled some 8,500 miles of the total distance by airplane and made eleven landings. They had no mishaps, but two or three times they reached their landing fields with only enough gasoline left to run them another ten minutes.

"The most thrilling part of the trip," said Evans, "was in a night flight we made over the Vosges mountains. We were flying from Cologne to Magdeburg, ond our planes were not equipped for night flying. Our hardest jaunt was from Cherbourg to Omsk, but we were excellently treated by the Russians. They did everything to facilitate our journey, establishing special landing fields for us and gave us official welcomes at our stopping places. The Japanese also extended us every possible courtesy and assistance."

F. R. ESTY WINS PERMIT TO VISIT HIS 4 CHILDREN

Frederick R. Esty, president of the Central Bank Note company, was granted permission yesterday by Judge Harry Lewis to see his four children once a week.

Several weeks ago Esty's troubles began when he was ordered to pay his wife $400 a month temporary alimony when she testified that it cost her about $471 a month to live in the manner to which she had been accustomed. At that time Mrs. Esty's suit for divorce named Mrs. Marie Willens, who, she charged, was promoted from switchboard operator to confidential secretary by Esty.

CUMMINS' GLUM AUGURY FAILS TO WORRY COOLIDGE

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Paul Smiths, N. Y., July 14.—[Special.] — President Coolidge today evinced no interest in the gloomy prognostications of Senator Cummins [Rep., Ia.] respecting the political future of the President and of the Republican party.

The senator's view that the President will be deterred from being a candidate for another term by unpropitious political prospects and that the Republican party, split by insurgency in the middle western agricultural states, will go down to defeat before a united Democratic party was brought to the attention of Mr. Coolidge at White Pine Camp. He had no comment to make.

Not Even Interested.

In fact, he did not appear to be interested. He was vastly more deeply interested in the weight of a pike he had just landed in Osgood lake after a brisk five minute fight. The pike weighed an ounce or two over three pounds.

That Mr. Coolidge would ignore the views of the Iowan was exactly what was expec [illegible]. Mr. Coolidge habitually discounts the opinions of defeated candidates for office. He has noted that they always view with alarm the future of the part of the nation, and of mankind.

There is reason to believe that the President is not greatly impressed by predictions of a party split on agricultural legislation. He regards such prophecies as the result of resentment on the part of leaders of the corn belt lobby at their failure to put over the Haugen bill.

Carried Corn Belt.

The administration has heard these threats before, notably in 1924 when the rejection of the McNary-Haugen bill by the President was going to cost him the support of the middle west, according to the advocates of that measure. But the predicted insurgency did not materialize, Mr. Coolidge carrying the corn and wheat belts solidly and losing only Wisconsin.

The Republicans may lose control of the senate in the elections this year, but if they do it will not be on account of the agricultural issue, according to the administration view. The prohibition issue will be more responsible than the farm relief question for returning Democrats in place of Republicans, for the Democratic attitude toward the Haugen bill was no more satisfactory to the corn belt than was the administration attitude.

WOMAN FAINTS AS SHE TELLS JURY OF ATTACK

Mrs. Jeanette Beckhelm, 13930 South Wabash avenue, Riverdale, collapsed yesterday in Judge Emanuel Eller's Criminal court after she had told the jury of her experience last November with James J. Allen, colored youth, charged with attacking her. She had to be assisted from the courtroom.

Assistant State's Attorneys Dempsey and La Rochelle have announced that they will ask the jury to impose a life sentence on Allen, who is also charged with the murder of Miss Emma Bacon, Dolton nurse, who was attacked and murdered shortly before the assault on Mrs. Beckhelm.

Seek Radio Operator as Key to Mystery of Aimee

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—[Special.]—All efforts today centered on locating Keneth Ormiston as the key figure in the Aimee Semple McPherson mystery. Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, gave a report to District Attorney Asa Keyes, identifying Ormiston as the writer of a telegram the discovery of which today gave the case a new trend. Ormiston was radio operator at Angelus temple, where the evangelist preached.

The telegram was sent from Oakland on May 21 to Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Mrs. McPherson. The date of the telegram was three days following Mrs. McPherson's disappearance at Ocean Park bathing beach May 18, and at the time Mrs. Kennedy had proclaimed her conviction that her daughter was drowned. The telegram said:

"Mother McPherson, Angelus Temple, Los Angeles—Daughter O. K. Do not worry. Communication proven. Am signing for J. H. A. (or J. H. K.), whom I believe O. K. in mail."

Identify Photographs.

Mrs. Kennedy today stated that "sister is broken hearted at this latest frameup." The mother stated that the telegram, when it arrived at Angelus temple about 1 a. m. on May 22, was tossed aside as one of a score of crank communications. Mrs. Kennedy today denied that she had ever received a letter from Ormiston giving intimation that the latter knew of her daughter's safety. Mrs. Kennedy said that she was convinced of Mrs. McPherson's death until she heard her voice over long distance telephone from Douglas, Ariz., on the morning of June 23, explaining that kidnapers had held her in Mexico for six weeks, seeking $500,000 ransom.

Will Testify of Letter.

Carlson will be one of the witnesses before the county grand jury when it reconvenes tomorrow. Carlson has informed the district attorney that he is prepared to identify Ormiston's handwriting as similar to that which scrawled the Oakland telegram. Carlson also says he is ready to give testimony concerning the four hundred word ransom letter, signed "The Avengers," which was delivered to an attendant for Mrs. Kennedy on June 19.

Plans have been arranged for Mrs. McPherson to be recalled by the grand jurors tomorrow. Ten other witnesses are summoned.

Judge Arthur Keetch, who yesterday informed the grand jury that it would overstep its powers by making a public finding on the McPherson case unless it returns an indictment for the crimes of kidnaping or conspiracy, today was upheld by the district attorney.

The Rev. Robert (Fighting Bob) Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, south, today became spokesman for an element of Los Angeles citizens demanding an official statement by the grand jury. He urged Judge Keetch to permit such action.

CATSKILL HOTEL FIRE CASUALTIES MAY REACH 20

14 Bodies Recovered; 6 Persons Missing.

Haines Falls, N. Y., July 14.—[Special.]—Fourteen persons are known to have been burned to death and six more are missing and are believed to have perished in a fire which early this morning destroyed Twilight Inn, a hotel in Twilight Park, a restricted cottage community perched high in the Catskill mountains.

Thirteen injured persons are in the Red Cross hospital at Tannersville and several others are being cared for at cottages in Twilight Park. Most of them suffered their injuries when they leaped from upper stories to escape the flames.

Bodies Not Identified.

The eleven bodies recovered had been so badly charred that identification was impossible. The hotel register was destroyed, making the work of checking up on the guests most difficult. There were forty-eight guests and thirty-five employés in the frame inn when the fire started.

All of the guests and the employés were asleep at the time, except Cuyler Strycker, the heroic night watchman, who discovered the fire and is now among the missing. He was seen to return to the hotel after having warned the guests and is believed to have perished in an attempt to save some of them.

Once the alarm of fire had been raised by Strycker the upper floors of the inn were soon filled with screaming guests most of them scantily clad.

Race with Flames.

So close was the fire on the heels of the escaping guests that a mother who was leaving, followed by her two daughters, saw one of them falling into the flames when she turned to look for her as she herself passed to safety.

TIMOTHY HOWARD, 30 YEARS ON FORCE, NEW SO. PARK POLICE CHIEF

Timothy Howard, 6546 Ingleside avenue, for 30 years a member of the South park police department was promoted to a captaincy yesterday and made chief. Capt. Howard topped the list in the recent examination for the post which was made vacant by retirement of Capt. T. E. Richards.

When Capt. Howard started on the park force there were 59 members. Today there are more than 300.

Capt. Howard is 54 and has been a lieutenant of police since 1924 having been promoted to that grade from the rank of sergeant, which he had held since 1906.

Charged with bigamy and confidence game, Maurice F. Lee, 30 years old, a sailor and recently a tubercular patient at the Great Lakes Naval hospital, will appear before Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen this morning to explain why he married Alice Sittner, 920 Margate terrace, on July 3, without the formality of a divorce from his wife, formerly Florence Dupuis, the pretty daughter of a wealthy French baker of Cornwall, Ont. Lee was arrested while trying to cash alleged bogus checks.

UNION CHIEF WILL TAKE HAND IN "L" WAGE DISPUTES

Mahon Arrives Today to Seek Settlement.

William D. Mahon, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employés of America, will arrive in Chicago this morning from his home in Detroit to investigate all angles of the wage controversies pending between the Chicago Rapid Transit company, the North Shore line and employés of the two companies.

On his arrival Mr. Mahon will be taken to the headquarters of the "L" employés' union in the Ashland boulevard auditorium where he will attend a conference with union representatives of both locals of traction employés.

Surface Lines May Join.

It was said that officers of local 241, trainmen of the surface lines, will also sit in at the meeting, which is being held to discuss the general situation. After becoming acquainted with all the details of the disputes Mr. Mahon, it was said, will attempt to iron out the differences.

To date both the "L" union heads and those representing the employés of the North Shore line have been unsuccessful in their efforts to obtain wage increases.

The "L" employés are asking for a wage boost of 5 cents an hour, along with insurance provisions in the event of sickness or death, while the trainmen of the North Shore line are requesting a wage boost of 6 cents an hour. Surface lines motormen and conductors are also asking for increases similar to those of the "L" employés.

Denies Talk of Strike.

John Bruce, veteran head of the "L" employés' union, last night said that strike talk up to date has been a lot of hokum.

"To my knowledge," he said, "there has been no talk of a walkout in union circles, but from the way unreliable reports about the situation are being circulated it wouldn't surprise me a bit to get up some morning and find a strike has been called and then settled before I reached the union office. There has been no special meeting ordered and it is hoped that all differences will be amicably ironed out."

Gov. Small to Confer with Welfare Group on Prisons

Gov. Len Small has notified the Illinois committee on penal affairs, composed of members of Chicago welfare organizations and headed by Graham Taylor, that he will arranged a conference with it following his return from a tour of the correctional institutions. Prof. Edith Abbott of the University of Chicago was appointed chairman of a facts finding subcommittee. The data compiled is to be used to determine how best the inmates may be served after leaving the institutions.

CIVIC CHIEFS FOR LIFTING TRACTION OUT OF POLITICS

O. K. Call for Special Committee.

Many civic leaders and business men of the city united yesterday in a hearty indorsement of the plan for a citizens' committee, appointed by Mayor Dever, to aid in the solution of Chicago's traction problem.

The city council transportation committee in placing the proposal before the council for a vote next Wednesday, it was agreed, took a long step toward settlement of a question involved in politics for over half a century.

"I believe the council, at last, is going in the right direction," declared Eugene S. Taylor, manager of the Chicago Plan commission. "Everything else seems to have failed. Why not try a citizens' committee?

Recalls Success with River.

"The success of the river straightening agreement has set a fine precedent and I cannot see why another group of men of the same caliber cannot have equal success with the traction question."

A similar opinion was expressed by Walter Fisher, president of the City club. Mr. Fisher, who led in drafting the ordinances, expiring next year, said the traction committee of the City club would be glad to coöperate.

"It is one more attempt really to get at the bottom of the city's most acute trouble," he said. "The present congestion is restricting the development of Chicago."

Harry Eugene Kelly, president of the Union League club, asserted that he believed a citizens' committee would do effective work.

Although doubtful that an unbiased committee could be chosen, Tomaz F. Deuther, west side publisher, said he would approve the plan if it took traction out of politics and gave a square deal to the parts of the city outside of the loop.

Merchant Favors Plan.

"Certainly public-spirited, unprejudiced citizens could be found to act on the committee," D. F. Kelly, president of the Fair, said. "I cannot imagine any one who would not be glad to serve the community in that way. I think the plan is good."

In discussion at the city hall yesterday it was suggested that James Simpson, president of Marshall Field & Co., probably would be a member, if the council authorized a committee.

Mr. Simpson was chairman of the committee on river straightening. Other names mentioned as possible committee members were those of George F. Porter, capitalist; Charles H. Wacker, president of the Chicago Plan commission; Elmer Stevens of Charles A. Stevens & Bros., W. R. Dawes, president of the Association of Commerce; William R. Abbott, president of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, and George M. Reynolds, chairman of the board of the Continental and Commercial National bank.

Mayor Dever, in Denver to address the American Bar association convention, thus far has not expressed his opinion on the committee idea, but his approval probably would carry the proposal in the council.

HOST OF JOB SEEKERS UNDER PROVISIONS OF NEW PROHIBITION LAW

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Prohibition authorities both in Washington and throughout the nation are being swamped with applications from men who want to join the "dry army," it was disclosed here today.

The second deficiency bill, which provides funds for several hundred new inspectors, under cover men, and investigators under Gen. Andrews, enforcement chief, is held responsible for the increased applications.

Frank Dow, acting dry chief, estimates that an average of fifty men a day apply at his office alone. Administrators in other parts of the country write that an unusual number of men have applied.

Chester P. Mills, prohibition administrator at New York City, reported to Mr. Dow today that from 400,000 to 500,000 gallons of industrial alcohol was diverted monthly into bootleg channels in New York.

Andrews to Confer with British.

LONDON, July 14.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, America's prohibition enforcement chief, will have his first meeting with British government officials tomorrow to seek ways of curbing the trans-Atlantic bootleggers. There will be a round table discussion at the foreign office between all the American experts of Gen. Andrews' mission and representatives of the British foreign office, board of trade, admiralty, customs department and colonial office. Announcement of the program was made after a conference today between Gen. Andrews and the American ambassador, Alanson B. Houghton.

Leaving his hotel for the embassy, Gen. Andrews noticed the doors of the public houses displaying ale, stout and whisky signs were closed. When he asked about this, it was explained that the pubs didn't open until 11 o'clock.

"Oh, so you do have a little prohibition here?" he remarked to an Englishman.

"Yes," said the Englishman, "about fifteen hours daily."

3 BALLOONS IN ELKS' RACE STILL DRIFTING SOUTH

One Over Mississippi; 2 Believed Over Arkansas.

Three of the four balloons which were released here Tuesday in the Elks' national contest for $2,500 in prizes were believed early this morning to be drifting toward the Gulf of Mexico.

Definite information was received from but one, the Hi-Ball, which bore the number 4. Its occupants, R. A. U. Rasmussen and Edward J. Hill, dropped a message at 7 p. m. while they were over Byhalia, Miss., about thirty miles southeast of Memphis, Tenn.

This point is 495 miles in an air line from Chicago. The balloonists stated that their altitude was 1,700 feet and requested that the officials in charge here be notified.

One Balloon Forced Down.

Earlier in the day balloons were sighted at Herrin, Mount Vernon, and Mounds, Ill., Caruthersville, Mo., and Blytheville, Ark. The fourth entrant, Capt. H. E. Honeywell, in the Greater St. Louis, was forced to land at dawn near Thompsonville, Ill., because of a leaking gas intake.

The balloons sighted in Arkansas and Missouri were too high for watchers to determine their numbers. It is assumed that they continued to drift in a direction almost due south or bearing a little to the east.

Hope to Break Records.

At the time the start was made here a forty-five mile wind was blowing in the upper atmospheric strata, while the lower strata had only a nine mile breeze. Officials were still hopeful at midnight that records would be broken, pointing out that conditions were reported to be favorable for the big bags to continue in the air.

Other aeronautical experts, however, expressed the opinion that the balloons sighted in Arkansas and Missouri would descend during the night.

All the craft, it is said, are far short of existing records. The endurance mark is 87 hours in the air, set by a Dutch balloonist in 1917, and the distance record is 1,896 miles, which has stood since 1914.

$250,000 Monkey House to Ward Off Pneumonia Germ

Contracts for the new $250,000 monkey house in Lincoln park were let yesterday by the Lincoln park board. Special ventilating systems will prevent visitors from giving the animals pneumonia, and vice versa. The present monkey house will be remodeled as soon as the new one is ready.

Elks Crown Queen

Amid the applause of 10,000 convention visitors, Miss Jaen Marre, blonde and youthful, was crowned last night as the queen of Elkdom. The ceremonies took place in the Aragon ballroom, Lawrence avenue near Winthrop avenue, opened to the public for the first time on this occasion.

Alexander Wolf, exalted ruler of Chicago lodge, made the presentation speech, in which he said Miss Marre had been found most suitable among hundreds of beautiful girls, to represent Fidelity, the crowning virtue of the order.

The other winners in the beauty contest, Miss Marie Hanley as Justice; Miss Marjorie Moline as Charity, and Miss Mona Leis MacMillan as Brotherly Love, were presented with their insignia following the coronation of the queen.

Grand Esquire William J. Sinek gave a dinner yesterday to 250 chairmen of convention committees and other notables of the order. George E. Brennan, senatorial candidate and an Elk for 32 years, was a guest, as was Justice Floyd E. Thompson of the Illinois Supreme court, Alexander Wolf, Exalted Ruler of the Chicago lodge, Edward J. Kelly of the South Park commissioners and others.

◆

The trap shooting contest honors were awarded during the day. Wisconsin nosed out Illinois and Iowa for first place with a score of 478 targets broken out of a possible 500. Iowa scored 477 and Illinois 476.

◆

ELKS DEDICATE MEMORIAL TO HEROES OF WAR

"In honor to its beauty, in honor of the fineness of the courage that has made it, in honor to all those who have lived, and, in honor to all of those who have died, I pledge this memorial of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, to the God of the nation, the flag of the nation, and, to those things that shall honor both."

At the end of the ceremony, three gold keys to the portals of the building were then presented to the order's officials by John G. Hegeman, president of the Hegeman-Harris company, which built the memorial. The keys are identical in shape with those in regular use, and could be used if needed.

"Inculcating the Principles of Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love and Fidelity; Promoting the Welfare of and Enhancing the Happiness of Mankind, Quickening the Spirit of American Patriotism."

The business offices of the grand lodge soon will be moved to the Memorial building.

Like the groups of wandering minstrels of medieval times, twelve bands engaged in a circulating competitive contest last night at twelve stations throughout the loop. The business district was full of music.

As each band moved away from a station another took its place, the twelve playing a quota of twelve different numbers so that the great crowds that filled the vicinity of each station should have variety. Three prizes, $100, $50, and $25, were given to Seattle, Wash.; Madison, Wis., and Detroit, Mich., respectively.

The judges were Albert Cooke, Ben Sincere, and James Hannan, all connected with the former prize winning band of Chicago lodge No. 4

In the national band contest yesterday morning, Detroit, Seattle, and Reading, Pa., placed first, second, and third, respectively.

Recovers Girl's Stolen Purse, Then He Weds Her

When Detective William Taub of the Sheffield avenue station retrieved a purse snatched from Miss Cecilia Tagrin three weeks ago, he met his future bride, it developed yesterday, when he and Miss Tagrin were married by Judge Joseph Sabath. A thief snatched the purse while Miss Tagrin was walking on Diversey boulevard at Lakeview avenue. Detective Taub chased the thief and caught him.

Assassins Are Hidden by Multitude of Motives.

Society had decreed Jules Portugese an outlaw and had sentenced him to prison, but certain of his fellow outlaws decided otherwise and yesterday he was doomed as an outlaw among outlaws.

The body of Portugese, a hijacker, jewel thief, and gunman, was pitched from an automobile early yesterday morning at Milwaukee avenue and Glenview road, and now the police are confused by the multiplicity of motives that might have actuated the assassination.

Identified in Gem Robbery.

It was discovered that perhaps his latest crime was the robbery of $80,000 in gems last Monday which Wilbur R. Brown, president of a New York jewelry concern, said were taken from him in his room at the Congress hotel. Yesterday he looked at the body of Portugese and said, "He was one of them."

Jules had hopes of another large haul before going to prison, Portugese's father told the police. Tuesday night he told his father he was going to Cicero to meet a man and discuss a pay roll robbery. The father thought the man Jules was to meet was Myles O'Donnell, notorious bootlegger and gunman.

Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker, however, thought the pay roll robbery suggestion was a ruse by which Portugese was lured out into the country in his automobile. Evidence later established that he was shot three times in the head as he sat at the steering wheel of his car, perhaps while it was in motion. Some one in the seat behind him had put a revolver against his head and fired.

O'Donnell Due in Court Today.

O'Donnell was sought but not found. He has a case in court today in which he is defendant of the charge of carrying a revolver. Portugese had a similar engagement with a court yesterday, he and Sam Kaplan having been arrested for gun toting and the case continued until yesterday.

Kaplan, Portugese, and another named only as Sammy the Greener, were known to be birds of a feather and they flocked together. They were regarded as the most piratical of the crooks of Chicago. In addition, Jules was known to have sold to other hijackers information concerning the booze shipments of his associates.

Last September Jules was shot down in the street, but he recovered. The shooting was ascribed to south side bootleggers who sought revenge for Portugese's hijacking activities, and it is one police theory that his assassination yesterday was the completion of this revenge. Another leading theory is that he made way with more than his share of the Brown gem loot.

Another act ascribed to Jules was arranging the holdup of a gambling house in which he was a partner. That alone was considered as meritorious of the extreme penalty which gangsters inflict, but which juries seldom do.

Also, he has long been regarded as one of the plotters of the murder of Dean O'Banion, if not one of the killers. His automobile was seen circling the block just before and just after O'Banion was slain and his job was thought to have been to block any possible pursuit.

His prison sentence was due to his having been caught red-handed in a $360,000 diamond robbery at State and Monroe streets. He and a confederate held a revolver to a jewelry salesman, seized the grip of diamonds, and ran only to be caught within a half a block.

For this his punishment was fixed by a jury at imprisonment for ten years to life. He was out of jail, however, on an appeal to the Supreme court. Judge Francis Borrelli also sentenced Portugese to one year's imprisonment and was wondering yesterday why it was not served.

Louis [Big] Smith, under indictment for the murder last February of Teddy Stein, a bootlegger, at 2153 West 13th street, was arrested early this morning by Lieut. Michael Grady and his squad as a suspect in the Portugese murder. Smith will be questioned today by Chiem Schoemaker as to his connection with the slain gangster.

The murder on Tuesday night of Joseph Ciccone, bootlegger, shot to death in front of his home at 3139 Flournoy street by two men who escaped in an automobile, is not believed by the police to be connected in any way with the Portuguese slaying. The police are hunting Cazimir Ippoletti, 23, of 1036 West Polk street, as the driver of the Ciccone murder car.

FIREMAN SAVES THREE CHILDREN.

DIVORCE, $25,000 ALIMONY, WON BY MRS. G. S. CLARK

Mrs. Florence Montgomery Burkhardt Clark, 116 Fuller lane, Winnetka, daughter of William Burkhardt, member of the Illinois commerce commission, and niece of former Mayor William Hale Thompson, was granted a divorce and $25,000 alimony yesterday after she told Superior Judge Joseph Sabath that her husband, Gordon S. Clark, had been cruel to her.

Questioned by her attorney, Mrs. Clark testified that Clark, wealthy yachtsman, had beaten her on several occasions. Their marriage was peaceful for two years after the ceremony in January, 1923. Then their first quarrel occurred, in July, 1925, she said. A month later he again knocked her down, according to her testimony.

Clark did not contest the suit. He filed a formal answer denying the charges, but his attorney made no effort to introduce evidence contradicting Mrs. Clark's testimony.

MAID TRIES TO END LIFE.

Miss Edna Johnston, 21 years old, maid in the home of Miss Marie Fellman, 512 Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park, sought to end her life yesterday by taking poison. An unhappily ended romance is believed to have been the cause of her act.

REAL ARMY RULE FOR WILLIAMSON NEXT OUTBREAK

Small Warns County to Obey Law.

Springfield, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—After splitting a three months' tour of duty between a dozen National Guard units, and spending $200,000 maintaining Williamson county peace with soldiers, Gov. Small today decided to try the effect of threatening the community with real martial law.

Announcing the withdrawal of Company G of Decatur from the county, the executive issued a statement addressed to the people of the county declaring that if troops were again demanded for suppression of lawlessness they would be sent to the county with authority to take charge of its government. Heretofore the instructions to guard officers have been to act under instructions of the civil authorities.

The governor's message follows:

"To the people of Williamson county: On several occasions during the last four years it has been necessary to use the Illinois National Guard in Williamson county to suppress lawlessness, riot, and murder. For the last three months troops have been continuously stationed in your county. The expense of maintaining these troops has been borne by all of the people of the state and paid from appropriations made by the legislature, and has amounted to more than $200,000.

"This condition cannot, and must not, continue. I appeal to the law abiding citizens of Williamson county and to the elected officials of the county to maintain order and enforce the law.

"If they fail to do this and it again becomes necessary to send troops into Williamson county, I feel that it will be my duty to comply with requests made and declare martial law in Williamson county, suspending the civil authorities in the municipalities and the county.

"I wish to make it clear, much as I regret the necessity to do so, that if I am compelled to return troops to Williamson county they will return with full authority to govern the county and the municipalities where civil government has failed."

W. H. Lewis Is Freed on Bank Embezzling Charge

William H. Lewis, accused of embezzling $105,000 from the West Town State bank, was acquitted yesterday by a jury in Circuit Judge George F. Rush's court. The jury deliberated for twelve hours and finally decided that Lewis did not take the money to bet on the races as charged by the state. George A. Preble, former paying teller of the bank, served an eleven month sentence for embezzlement of the money.

POLICE CHIEF AND JUDGE CONFESS SPEED TRAPPING

Indictments to Be Asked for Markham Pair.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Grand jury indictments on charges of extortion and conspiracy will be asked for Chief of Police Charles Morley and Justice George J. Liesenfeit of the village of Markham, it was announced last night by Assistant State's Attorney William Steinberg, as the result of yesterday's speed trap investigation.

Signed statements of both officials, according to the prosecutor, admit the levying of illegal court fees, loose and negligent handling of police and court records, and of the funds collected from motorists arrested on the Western avenue highway, and a policing organization designed for revenue rather than for traffic safety.

Judge Lays Blame on Chief.

Both officials were called into State's Attorney Crowe's office following an examination of the fifty-four arrest slips and the newly made court docket which, they declared, represent all the arrests made in the sparsely settled subdivision since May 15. Under direct questioning, Justice Liesenfeit laid the blame for excessive fee collections on Chief Morley, admitted that he is ignorant of state statutes concerning court fees, and declared that the chief instructed him in trying all cases brought before him in the new village police station.

Morley, a former Chicago park policeman, who is said to have a record for brutality on various city forces, denied that he instructed the justice in each speeder case, but admitted, according to Mr. Steinberg, that speeders are regularly trapped within the village; that he is custodian of the fines collected, and that he wrote out the court docket submitted for investigation. He added that, although his salary is supposed to be $175 a month as chief of police and he employs four officers at $125, neither he nor his men have drawn any salary since they began work on May 15.

Hints Motorists Pay Salaries.

"Motorists pay the freight, eh?" suggested the prosecutor.

"This is a clear cut speed trap case," Prosecutor Steinberg declared after the quiz. Morley went into this subdivision, which was incorporated only last October, and organized his forces with a view of cleaning up on the motorists. He imported Lisenfelt and told him what to do.

"Morley admits that he hides behind a bridge on Western avenue and posts another man a short distance down the road behind a shanty. The motorist is overhauled and in many cases a cash bond is taken from him right there on the road. All notations in the case are made on an arrest slip and the money is put in a drawer of the chief's desk.

"When the case is called the chief pulls the money out of the top of the desk, the justice pockets $7 court fees—five more than the law permits—and turns the remainder of the fine over to Morley, who says that he has been keeping it to turn over eventually to the village trustees. He has not been asked for a receipt for this money, and I am certain that these 54 cases are only a small proportion of the arrests made in Markham."

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, announced last night that the speed trap drive will be made state-wide.

FRANCE HONORS SPAIN'S DICTATOR ON BASTILLE DAY

De Rivera Reviews Big Military Parade.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, July 14.—Up the broad and glittering Avenue des Champs Elysees, where crawled on Sunday a pathetic procession of wounded and blind veterans, appealing to the American sympathy to soften the terms of the Mellon-Berenger debt accord, today snappily marched a brilliant display of the great French military establishment. The parade moved under the halo of national pride.

For the first time in three years the French capital observed Bastille day with a traditional review, done up in all the splendor of the old days. Paris again satisfied its craving for color, music, and martial circumstance, from which it has starved in recent years under the menace of financial ruin and collapse.

All Paris went to the Champs Elysees, gilded with the sunlight, packed the great expanse of the Etoile, and cheered wildly at the sight of its gorgeous military playthings.

Spain's Dictator Reviews Parade.

It was a paradoxical celebration of the day that is symbolic of history's greatest assertion of individual liberty. Two guests of honor—Moulay Youssef, Sultan of Morocco, who, within the limits of French control, exerts the power of life and death over his subjects, and Primo de Rivera, dictator of Spain—had come to review the troops which crushed the presumptuous Abd-el-Krim's revolt in the Riff against foreign authority.

Tonight 100 communists and liberals of various denominations, who dared call attention to this paradox with hisses for the guests of honor, lie in jail, badly bruised.

Scuffles and minor riots enlivened the progress of the grandiose demonstration. The gentry, who were indiscreet enough to express themselves, promptly were overwhelmed by half a dozen policemen, effectively beaten on the head, and dragged off to cells.

De Rivera Hit of Day.

Standing in the midst of a blinding display of diplomatic suiting and haberdashery in the shadow of the Arc de Triomphe, President Doumergue, Sultan Moulay Youssef, and Dictator Primo de Rivera reviewed the picked troops passing in a blaze of color, while a flock of planes cavorted overhead. The Spanish dictator was the hit of the day, with his bow legs enclosed in tight red breeches, showing his none too sylphlike torso, and a little shako with a yellow feather duster affixed at the top. The sultan merely wore a fulsome white nighty, known as a burnoose in his part of the world. His bodyguard of 100 blacks on white horses made a big impression.

The troops were led by Gen. Gouraud, one armed military governor of Paris, who stood firm on the Champagne front on July 14, 1918, with the 42d division, the Americans being an essential part of his line north of Epernay, against the German offensive launched that day.

Paris, forgetting its troubles, has been turned into a vast ballroom.

RIVERA DEFENDS HIS IRON-FISTED RULE OF SPAIN

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, July 14.—Primo de Rivera, dictator of Spain, today gave THE TRIBUNE a vigorous apologia for his régime and wrathfully denied that the recent abortive rebellion had any real significance.

"If the rebel activities of Gen. Aguilera, Count Romanones, and their gang amounted to anything, do you think I would be in Paris now?" barked the dictator, who holds the destiny of Spain, and even of the family of Bourbon, in his hand. He came to Paris, braving the hostile manifestations of local communists and real danger of violence by his enemies who have taken refuge in France, in order to sign the Franco-Spanish agreement on the Riff and to review the Bastille day parade today.

"Our critics reproach us with having strangled the liberty of Spain," he said with a half grin and with a touch of cynicism, "and doubtless that is in some measure true. We have diminished Spanish liberties, but I think that when we took over the country in September, 1923, Spain was sick and rendered anæmic by a nefarious régime.

"You can't make a sick man get out of bed and walk, talk, drink, and eat as he pleases without killing him," the big framed dictator said. "To cure him you must spare him aggravated fatigue, keep him from talking too much, and put him on rations of both food and drink, and, in all, be his conscientious doctor. Spain is a sick man, and my colleagues and I are its doctors and we intend to keep close watch over him until he is completely cured.

Encouraged by Majority.

"Besides, we are greatly encouraged by a great majority in the country. If Spain were not satisfied with our services, it would let us know through other sources than Gen. Aguilera and the politicians of the old régime who figured in the recent conspiracy, which I think is completely squelched. The conspiracy was doomed before it was born. Only fourteen officers of mediocre authority supported it. If we severely punished the leaders, it was because we wanted to put an end to this nonsense which hurts the good name and the economic interests of the country."

Dictator de Rivera was wearing a fawn colored suit with spats and a striped shirt. He affably explained how Spain has been benefited by his rule.

"We even instituted a sort of co-operative ownership of the mines," he said proudly. "A miners' committee once came to me and said the owners felt that they could not make money and were giving up their concession, thus throwing thousands out of work. I asked them if they thought they could run the mines and they said they could, whereupon I arranged for the opening of credits and now they are getting on famously.

Assassins Curbed.

"Also, we completely curbed the series of assassinations of employers that made Catalonia uninhabitable. The workers all over Spain are our best friends. We have had no trouble with the unions."

The dictator is watched every minute here by a guard of 150 secret service agents. The greatest secrecy surrounds his movements.

POLITICAL PRESSURE VS. PUBLIC SUPPORT.

Pressure is being put on the state's attorney's office in an attempt to stop the investigation into speed traps in the country towns surrounding the city. Particular effort is being made to turn the grand jury's attention from certain towns considered important in the scheme of local politics. That such pressure would be applied, immediately the inquiry got under way, was, of course, inevitable.

What is heartening to citizens fed up with the system of official highway banditry which has gone on unchecked in Cook county is the assertion by Mr. Mueller, the assistant whom State's Attorney Crowe placed in charge of the investigation, that the campaign against this uniformed lawlessness would go on, pressure or no.

Certain village officials, presumably innocent of any complicity in the abuse of vehicle law enforcement, add their open protests to the underground clamor to go easy. Naturally, they do not like to see their communities given a bad name. They are, of course, very shortsighted. Their communities are being done a service, not a harm. They are getting free of charge a housecleaning that will bring their towns more business and greater prosperity. They already have the bad names; the state's attorney's office is trying to give them good ones.

Assistant State's Attorney Mueller is handling a difficult job with apparent courage, fairness, and energy. Political pressure and well meaning protest are hard things to work against. The investigation should be given every public support possible in order that it may successfully wipe out a very real and very aggravating evil.

SENATOR CUMMINS' PREDICTION.

Senator Cummins' remarks on Republican prospects receive prompt and immediate applause from the Democratic press, but as a prophecy they will be somewhat discounted in consideration of the prophet's recent experience. It is natural that in the hour of defeat the venerable senator should lack a certain optimism and, if we were to indulge in prediction also, who should hesitate to countersign Senator Cummins' views at this time?

Nevertheless, they are not to be lightly put aside. THE TRIBUNE itself, while not prophesying disaster, has tried to impress upon the eastern Republican mind a little more sense of the seriousness of western dissatisfaction than it has shown. Our estimate of the actual situation is that the Republican party has the stiffest of fights on its hands to hold its position in the west either in the coming congressional election or in 1928. Factors external to politics will have much to do with political events, as always in the past, but about the worst contribution eastern Republican leadership can make towards victory is the smug complacency and narrow outlook which marks it.

But a more important consideration for us in the west is how we can organize our strength and employ it to our advantage without resorting to a course of action which would injure the prosperity of the country and our own. The sensible west has no disposition to burn down the house to roast the pig. We may complain of the shortcomings of Republican sectional selfishness and shortsightedness, but the alternative of Democratic would be worse. The Democratic prescriptions for our ills are not acceptable to the west, which has voted Democratic usually in reaction, not conviction, and we are confident we can work out our remedies in due time in our own way. The Democratic leadership at Washington has been no more helpful than seaboard Republicanism. Do hopeful Democrats imagine the westerners cannot see that?

A BROAD VIEW OF JAILS.

Sheriff Hoffman has gone from one jail to another, from the Du Page county jail as an inmate to the Cook county jail as its boss. He went in as a ward of one because his wards in the other got away from the warden too frequently to go to the dentist and to have parties. It was an unusual experience for a sheriff and Mr. Hoffman says he thinks that it has broadened him.

A broadening experience is usually valuable. It improves the view and causes reflection. A person frequently can take higher ground afterwards. Even a broader view of jails can be turned to account. Here in this state, however, we'd like to look a broader view over carefully before passing on it. It is generally accepted as liberalizing.

Whoever took a broad view of Mr. Lake and Mr. Druggan when they were serving federal bootlegging sentences in the Cook county jail was directly responsible for Mr. Hoffman's experience in the Du Page county jail, the federal court having held him accountable for the impermanence of their tenure.

This broad view has been exercised in the state penitentiary. It has been the most prominent quality of penal administration. The governor and the board of pardons and parole have been notable for it. Liberality in days off, leaves of absence, paroles, and pardons have made it almost impossible to reduce the criminal population at large. The broad view has given murderers and robbers their liberty with the idea that it was illiberal to keep them away from their work.

It is to be hoped that in broadening his life Mr. Hoffman has not found his experience inclining him to the belief that the prisons need more liberalizing. Our opinion may be incorrigibly tory, but it is that bolts are needed which politics and money cannot pull. We are addicted to the idea that a felon's sphere is the penitentiary.

THE KING AS DICTATOR OF BELGIUM.

King Albert of Belgium has been given a grant of dictatorial power by the chamber, principally to deal with finance and food supplies. The country is described as being in excellent condition industrially and agriculturally and yet on the edge of a financial breakdown.

Mussolini's theory is that parliamentary government has been outlived and that it cannot govern in modern conditions. With regard to about half of continental Europe he seems to speak by the book and have the present day facts with him. Italy did not make it work. France is not making it work. Spain and Portugal are governed by intrigue and for the time being the Belgium parliament surrenders in acknowledgment of its inability to legislate.

Mussolini forced from the Italian parliament in revolution what the Belgium parliament at least temporarily relinquishes at request. The parliamentarians are politicians and as such they lack courage to propose and execute measures which being necessarily severe might cause their political confusion. The real democracies are not oppressed by the apparent verification of Mussolini's theory in parts of Europe. Its only import to them is to illustrate that self-governing ability has deep roots and is not a mushroom growth.

With agriculture and industry sound the position of Belgium ought not to be serious and probably is not. It is interesting that the king was selected as the man most fitted to be dictator, offering a semblance of a return to absolutism and possibly in more than semblance exposing the crown to the consequences of a failure.

THE BAR'S RESPONSIBILITIES.

The American Bar association assumes its most obvious public duty when it addresses itself to the problem of efficient administration of criminal justice.

We are aware that the subject is not new to the deliberations of this distinguished body, but the layman's test must be pragmatic, and by that test we do not think the American bar has taken its responsibility as seriously as it should. We think it is fair to look to the profession of the law, in its organizations national, state and local, for a good deal more of guidance and restraint in legislation upon the substantive law of crime than it gives us and also—an easier duty—for the construction of an efficient organization and procedure in the administration of justice.

The former is a task in which lay opinion, sentiment and prejudice may and do intervene. But as to the highly technical problems of judicial organization, practice and procedure, the bar and bench, we are confident, can and do have their own way. We laymen cannot pretend to the special knowledge and active experience required to prove and amend the mechanism of courts. But we do suffer from the weaknesses of that mechanism and cannot afford to go on forever enduring them. If the expert will not show us what to do, we must finally act for ourselves, and costly blunders will be less our fault than that of the profession which has neglected its special resources and its special duty to the commonweal.

How often has this appeal appeared in these columns? But now the conditions of crime in our country have grown in extent and in complexity and in gravity until they have become a major problem of our society. The statistics of crime in the United States are a nightmare. They challenge the self-respect of every citizen. We realize that causes run deep into our social history and character and are not all to be reached by any amendment of machinery. But we also realize that among the most serious are amendable weaknesses in the technical processes of justice.

To these weaknesses we earnestly hope the American Bar association will address itself not merely to provide a coherent and practical program of correction, such as the British were able to realize, but also to take an aggressive leadership in getting such a program adopted in spite of legislative inertia, evasion, and politics. That leadership is assured in advance of the active support of the responsible press and by a little effort in public education can have also the aid of civic organization.

We could wish the bar association might also rebuke the perversion of the American constitutional system, which the passion for lawmaking and the zeal for shaping the conduct of our neighbors into conformity with our own notions of good, has brought about. As lawyers, as judges, the members of the bar and their associations, ought to take special cognizance of this tendency and special responsibility for pointing out to the public its present evil effects and worse potentialities. But the problem of making our judicial processes efficient and expeditious involves little that is seriously controversial and its solution is within the power of the bar if the bar will act with vigor and persistence.

Editorial of the Day

INDIANA'S SENTENCED EDITOR.

[Baltimore Sun.]

George R. Dale, editor of a little weekly paper in Muncie, Ind., who has been fighting the Ku Klux Klan's domination of government in that locality, has been sentenced to ninety days in prison and fined $500 for contempt of court. He publicly attacked the grand jury as a body of grafters, and later attacked the county judge's jury commission on the ground that it had packed the grand jury.

It appears from the dispatch from Muncie that in the course of his troubles with the local court Dale filed the second editorial as part of his answer, and offered to prove all of the charges set forth therein. But that merely aggravated his offense, in the eyes of the local court. And the Supreme court of the state, according to the dispatch, found occasion to lay down the rule in its lengthy opinion that "the truth is no defense"—this evidently meaning that, whether or not Dale's charges were true, he was in contempt of court in making them.

This seems a monstrosity of the law. But Dale's sentence would seem a monstrosity of the law even had the Supreme court made no such ruling. If a newspaper may not criticize the action of a grand jury or of a court, liberty is destroyed and the filthiest abuses may be perpetrated in the sacred name of law. To say that a newspaper or a citizen may make false charges, or to say that Dale made false charges in this specific instance, is no excuse for the use of arbitrary contempt proceedings. There are libel laws through which those unjustly attacked may seek redress.

TUBERCULOSIS VACCINATION.

IN FEBRUARY of this year Calmette and his associates told the French academy of their progress in vaccinating children and lower animals against tuberculosis.

Dr. Calmette is one of the oldest and most prominent of the students of Pasteur. Not only has he been a member of the Pasteur institute staff for a generation, but he was a worker there in the days when Pasteur himself was alive and active in the research carried on in the institute. In those early days Calmette took consumption in man and animals as his life work. All of his scientific life has been devoted to finding a method of vaccinating against tuberculosis.

The particular method he is now using he began working on just twenty-one years ago. Six years ago he was certain enough of his ground to write a book on the subject. Since then he has reported progress at least twice a year. His method consists in growing virulent tubercle bacilli obtained from cows, on culture media which contains bile. After being grown on this medium for a long time the bacilli become incapable of causing tuberculosis, or of doing harm in any way. At the same time they are capable of immunizing animals against tuberculosis. The immunization can be done either by an injection, or by feeding the bacilli by mouth.

Calmette and Guerin and associates report that they have vaccinated 5,183 babies. Of these 1,317 were first vaccinated more than eighteen months before the report was made. These babies were of tuberculous mothers and lived in homes where the exposure to tuberculosis was constant. Only 2 per cent of them have developed tuberculosis. Twenty-four per cent of unvaccinated children under similar circumstances would have become tuberculous. The babies were vaccinated within the first few days of life. The vaccine was fed them in milk.

Details of the method of vaccinating are given in the Annals of the Pasteur institute for February, 1926. None of the babies were in any way harmed by the vaccination. Calmette says, so far as he can say now, vaccination should be repeated once a year, at least throughout the years of older childhood. However, experience with monkeys shows that vaccination once every three years is often enough with those animals. In time it may be found to be frequent enough with humans.

The vaccination of grown people is not advised unless possibly it be those who do not give a negative reaction with tuberculin.

MEASLES ARE CONTAGIOUS.

Mrs. J. B. writes:

1. Are measles contagious?
2. Where there are several children in a family, would all of them be liable to get it?
3. Is it proper in a case like this for the other children of the family to go to school?

REPLY:

1. Yes. Highly.
2. Yes, provided none had had measles.
3. Yes, if they are excluded from the sickroom. In a well run school the other children would be examined daily for early symptoms of measles, especially during the second week after exposure.

A COLIC REMEDY.

Mrs. I. V. T. writes: Mrs. J. C. H. wrote of her three week old baby having colic. Our boy years ago had it continually until his father, in desperation, gave him slightly sweetened lime water—plain, old fashioned lime water—to see if that would help. It did, and always did thereafter, and I have told others about it, and they have had satisfactory results. One may have to experiment with the amount of sugar, but not too much. We used as little as possible, just making it palatable. Then give the child all he can take. It won't hurt.

REPLY.

There are a thousand remedies for the colic.

There is no harm in trying it, but probably it will not help other babies as much as it did yours. Maybe your baby was different.

ALIEN'S PROPERTY.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—An immigrant from England lived in the United States for over sixty years, but was never naturalized. He died recently, leaving a will wherein he bequeathed the proceeds of his estate to his relatives, all of whom were American citizens. Can the executor give a clear title to buyers of the real estate?
E. S. S.

The facts which you state would not make the case exceptional. The usual steps would be necessary to show title and the payment of debts. If you contemplate the purchase of real estate we advise you to employ an attorney to examine the title and represent you in the deal.

JULY 15, 1861.

WASHINGTON.—Gen. McClellan's official report of the battle of Rich Mountain says: "I have received propositions from Col. Pegram for the surrender of a remnant of his command, say 600 men. I shall have nearly 1,000 prisoners to take care of when these come in." The latest account of the battle gives the rebel loss at 150 killed.

FORTRESS MONROE.—Forty-five of Blenker's regiment went out without leave and were fired upon by the rebels. One man was killed and several wounded and taken prisoners.

ST. LOUIS.—Accounts of the fight at Carthage received from Memphis confirm the report that Ben McCullough was in the battle and that a guard of 100 men left by Sigel at Neosho was captured by the rebels. The rebels compute the Union loss at 500 killed and theirs at nothing. Sigel's men who were captured are said to have taken an oath binding them not to bear arms against the Southern Confederacy, whereupon they were released. The Missourians wanted to shoot them, but McCullough refused to agree to it. Gov. Jackson and Gen. Price are both with the rebel troops and it is their avowed intention to occupy Jefferson City before July 22, thus preventing the convention from assembling.

WASHINGTON.—Advices from the squadron off Charleston say that it is now impossible for vessels to run the blockade.

NEW YORK. — The New York Herald has commenced stereotyping its daily forms by a process long in use in London and introduced into this country by the New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON.—The secretary of the interior has notified the speaker of the house of representatives that he has apportioned the representatives to the thirty-eighth congress among the states according to the last census. The total number of representatives is 233. Illinois will have 13, Indiana 11, Iowa 5, Wisconsin 6, and Michigan 6.

CHICAGO.—The residence of B. Ackley, corner Fulton and Morgan streets, was entered by a burglar and a thorough ransack made, the scamp taking nothing but watches and money.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 15, 1901.

PITTSBURGH.—The strike of steel workers ordered by the Amalgamated association will be made general. Every union man employed in any capacity by the steel trust is expected to quit work. Even nonunion workers are eager to take a hand in the fight and employés of two nonunion plants voted to refuse to return to work until the demands of the Amalgamated association are complied with.

CHICAGO.—Negotiations are believed to be under way for Capt. A. C. Anson's return to the Chicago National league baseball club in a controlling position. Rumors of President Hart's retirement have been heard for several weeks. Capt. Anson evaded the question when asked directly about the report.

CHICAGO.—With a capitalization of between $1,000,000 and $3,000,000 twelve of the chief vaudeville theaters between Chicago and the Pacific coast are about to be merged into a single property. The largest interests involved are the Kohl & Castle theaters of Chicago and the Orpheum circuit theaters of the west.

CHICAGO. — Yesterday (Sunday) marked the beginning of a new epoch for John Alexander Dowie. In a big tent at Zion City he gathered 5,000 of the faithful and the curious and added to the fervor under the stress of which they will today buy at exorbitant figures the lots of his holy city.

NIAGARA FALLS.—For the fifth time Carlisle D. Graham rode through the rapids in a barrel. Thousands of spectators lined the cliffs and bridges to witness the feat.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 15, 1916.

LONDON.—This city was thrilled by the news yesterday that Gen. Sir Douglas Haig had opened the second phase of the great offensive in the Somme region. In a battle that exceeded in violence the first assault thirteen days ago, the British carried the second German line for four miles, captured the villages of Bazantin le Petit, Bazantin le Grand, Longueval, and Ovillers, and carried the remaining German positions in Trones wood.

CHICAGO.—Miss Pauline Edgerton, daughter of I. V. Edgerton, a commission merchant on South Water street, summoned the Austin police to trap a burglar in the Edgerton home, 5449 Midway Park, Austin. The police came, and in the confusion that followed shot and killed Miss Edgerton's sweetheart, T. Palmer Miller, Dartmouth graduate, an official of the Consumers' company, and vice president of the Perry Pipe company. The burglar escaped. Detective Sergeant James Garry, who killed Miller, declared he thought Miller was the burglar and was about to draw a gun on him.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The big navy collier Hector, carrying fifty-two marines in addition to a crew of twelve officers and seventy men, sank off Charleston, S. C., in a hurricane which swept the southern Atlantic seaboard. The crew was taken off in small boats and the men are adrift on the sea.

CHICAGO.—It was "Metro day" at the Motion Picture exposition at the Coliseum, and Alice Brady and Pauline Fredericks were the particular stars that received the plaudits of the throng. Today is Mary Pickford day.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

WITCH-BALL.

Some one has a witch-ball—haven't you heard?
Bought it down New Bedford way—set it, with a word
Of easy laughter, in his house. Did he not make
Triangle and pentacle, the powers to placate?—

Have his friends not warned him?— No?— Before the new moon
He must draw the circle—so— He must importune
Hecatè and Astorath, they who pluck and twitch—
Where there is a witch-ball there is sure to be a witch!

Tell us, do the depths stir?— What predestinate
Hands must meet and hands must part?— What of joy and pain?—
Peeringly and fearingly—turn and look again!

Cauldron simmer! Broth boil! Phantom future rise!
Who is this with burning hair—mocking green eyes?—
She who has his past endeared his future will enrich—

OH GEE! Life has a new thrill. We can hardly wait for daylight to come now so that we can run to the front door and grab the paper. OLD ED MOORE came over yesterday with the Musical Courier and showed us the picture of W. Drummond Fife, who teaches vocal in New York. Old Ed tried his best to horn W. Drummond Fife into our Academy of Immortals. But nothing doing. Still, if that bird's first name is Will, we think we can make him a member of the Line Silver Cornet Band.

So's Your Old Man.

R. H. L.: Yesterday, I was introduced to a dear old lady. I asked what I supposed was the customary question, "To what do you ascribe your old age?" She replied, in staccato tones, "To the fact that I was born in 1844!" I could think of nothing to answer. What should I have said that was very snappy and up to date?
M. T. HED.

Never Mind, Mr. Bason.

Dear Mr. Biddle: I found two calls from you, each signed Richard Henry Biddle, when I went into my New York office Saturday. What! Not the Philadelphia Biddles? I've heard of them. Anyhow, you remember the Englishman who said, "What are Biddles?" As ever,

ANOTHER GANGSTER was taken for a ride yesterday and the body found on Glenview Road. And about five minutes after we read about it, Howard Ellis dropped around and said he was coming around some evening and take us for a nice little ride. We got white in the face and trembled. The things that are going on these days do get on a body's nerves. So we told Howard no. He's a fine lawyer and a nice fella, but we read the papers too much and when any bird says to us, "I'd like to take you for a little ride," we just go all to pieces.

Certainly Not Evanston.

Something particularly noticeable was: on signs painted on windows, over shops, on stores, lawyers' signs, physicians' signs, no names other than American names [like your own, or any good American name] . . . Nowhere in Marblehead—[that I saw]—was a foreign name. It was good for one's eyes.

BLUE LAWS.

Peoria, Ill., July 13.—I have just read your editorial "Motors at the State University," and as one who was a junior there last year, enjoyed a car, attended church regularly, and made a good scholastic average, I cannot possibly picture the average college student as a brainless fool who would waste his time in a car rather than study faithfully. I know too many with cars who get by and too many without who don't.

The mental picture I draw from the latest edict is of some of the Urbana people (and in doing so I believe I am in accord with your attitude towards some Indiana legislative measures) who will feel pleased that some of the students cannot now play golf in Monticello or see shows in a near by city, and consequently will have to attend church.

You, no doubt, know that baseball, movies, golf, tennis and all such works of the devil are barred under Sunday conduct regulations in the twin cities. Only last spring an attempt was made to open movie houses on Sunday via the referendum route, but some one tipped off the church federation and the anti-movie backers of Urbana to the fact that the students living in Urbana were for movies. What happened? O, it was a slight technicality, but it was sufficient to prevent the student from casting his vote. A few weeks before, however, the same crowd worked mightily for McKinley, soliciting the student vote and urging each student to get to the polls. Different situation there.

Abolition of the automobile won't send the student flying bookward any more than prohibition of Sunday entertainment will "drive him to church."

A petition has been circulated and signed by a large number of students, asking the University of Illinois officials to open university grounds for baseball, tennis, and golf on Sunday, only, however, before 9 a. m. and after 2 p. m., thereby giving those who wish the opportunity of attending church without feeling that the devil is cutting up while they are doing so.

I do not know if this petition has as yet been filed, but if it is, I sincerely hope the favor is granted or else some good reasons given for refusing its pleas.
P. H. HENDERSON.

THE DURKIN VERDICT.

Chicago, July 12.—Your editorial, "The Durkin Verdict," is an oasis in the desert of Durkin sob articles and senseless comments. THE TRIBUNE well deserves the community's thanks for its attitude toward the crime situation and its courageous fight against criminals.
H. F. H.

THE ARSENAL DISASTER.

Oak Park, Ill., July 12.—Ninety millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money blown away and a score of lives destroyed through incompetence and neglect. Why is powder and ammunition placed so that one explosion always sets off another? Will the army and navy ever learn anything?
A. R. SARNOST.

TRACK ELEVATION.

Chicago, July 10.—A Chicago paper published an article about the wonderful development of the "Greatest Railroad Center in the World," the service of the Baltimore and Ohio and other east bank railroads having a magnificent station in the "loop." In the meantime the killing of pedestrians crossing tracks which should have been elevated, according to city ordinance, for the last twenty years, is going on. Not more than three months ago a prominent business man was killed at 47th and Leavitt streets due to this neglect.

The ordinance covering elevation of railroad tracks has again been passed this spring. The newspapers published an item stating that the elevation of the B. & O. and Pennsylvania tracks would start in May. Col. Sprague promised property owners and business organizations that the elevation of the tracks would be started immediately. There is, however, no sign of any such activities as yet. Yesterday another south side man and his horse were killed and his wagon wrecked at 51st and Leavitt streets. If enough money is available to erect beautiful stations, then surely there should be enough money spent to stop the slaughtering of people due to neglect to elevate these tracks.
JOSEPH BRABEC.

A CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS.

Chicago, July 12.—The daily report in your columns of the corruption in the recent primary election would be a laughable farce if it was not a cowardly, criminal offense. If a petition requesting the appointment of designated reputable men and women as poll officials is filed with the election commissioners from each precinct, we would probably have enough appointed to have an honest count. Today the poll officials are appointed upon the recommendation of the candidates and party leaders. Ten thousand honest voters, men and women in charge of the voting places on election day solves the problem. Who will volunteer?

I will be glad to volunteer to do my bit again on the "firing line" and drill a squad in anti-fraud tactics in each of the two thousand precincts in Chicago. Are you interested?

HERE'S A TIP.

Chicago, July 8.—While the recount is going on in the primary election the ballots cast for county commissioners should be counted. We were instructed to give figures handed to us on slips which gave the whole vote to the ten leading names and to be sure to have Cermak and Whealan on top.
DEMOCRATIC ELECTION JUDGE.

WHY FAVOR THE TAXI?

Chicago, July 10.—What is the policy of the city government (for, of course, it must be with the authority of the city because the policemen execute the orders) in allowing any number of taxis to come to the theaters, but banning private cars?

We had to stand for 15 minutes while 20 or 30 taxis were allowed to come and carry off their passengers, among them only one private car. At the end of this time no one was left but a group of ladies, like ourselves, waiting for their cars.

The theater doors were locked, and even if the rain had been pouring there would have been no refuge. That seems strange treatment.
A READER.

INDEPENDENT WOMAN.

Chicago, July 9.—I wonder how many thousand years must elapse before some men awake to the fact that slavery has been abolished. "Coke" and "George Henderson" must be throwbacks to the middle ages.

A woman's virtue is not "property." It is her own divine attribute over which no one but herself has authority. I would like to ask these benighted men to whom their virtue and integrity belong, and what property rights are held over them. It is ideas such as these that cause such crimes as the De Kalb affair.

Men had better get over the idea that they own women and deflate their egos down to a normal outlook. Then they would be better off.
MOTHER OF DAUGHTERS.

ON THE NORTH SIDE, TOO.

Chicago, July 8.—These girls are absolutely right in what they say in regard to these "star gazers" stationed at elevated stations. I am a north side girl, but unfortunately we, too, happen to be bothered with some of these "pests" in our vicinity. And I, too, think it would be well for the officers of the police department in patrolling their beats to invite them to move on.

Kramer's

"The Place for Good Eats"

53rd and Blackstone

THIRTY-ONE years ago George Kramer opened a restaurant at Cottage Grove Avenue and 35th Street. The restaurant wasn't a particularly "Ritzy" or large one, as such places now go. There wasn't any gilt furniture in the place; no sparkling crystal chandeliers hung from the ceiling. And George Kramer didn't give himself some fancy French name like "Pierre" or "Georges," nor declaim about "tempting viands" or "delectable dishes." All he did was to serve the best food that anyone ever tasted anywhere—and always act the kindly, genial host which he was, and still is, to everyone who came into his place. And he just called his food "good eats"—which everybody knows is plain American for "cuisine."

But such food as it was! For George Kramer knows food. He is one of these rare geniuses who knows just how to select food. How to prepare it. How it should be cooked. How to sprinkle and dash and mix and stir the seasonings to give it just the right savor. How to concoct rare new dishes which will tempt even the most jaded palate. A real artist in foods.

And so the people came to his "place for good eats." And kept coming for 31 years. From South Side and North Side and West Side. From the great, gilded hotels downtown. From the farthermost suburbs. From New York and from San Francisco, when they were in town, lovers of good food went out to George Kramer's for at least one good dinner. Bishops and baseball magnates, mayors and judges, writers and artists, grand opera stars and stage celebrities, and thousands of undistinguished, everyday folks like you and me, who loved good food—all were friends of George Kramer's and dined at his little restaurant over and over again during those 31 years.

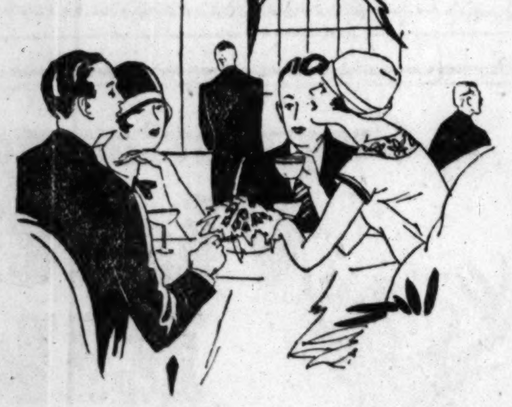
Most men would have been satisfied with such a business. But not so, George Kramer. For he was a dreamer of a great dream. "All my life," he will tell you, "it has been my ambition to have a real place." And when he says it, you know he is thinking of those thousands of old friends, and of how he will enjoy serving them in a place built just for him, according to his own ideas of what such a place should be.

And now George Kramer has his "real place." He wants you to come out and see it—cafe, food shop, kitchens, refrigerators, pantries, ventilating system—the whole works. He wants to take you on a personally conducted tour through his great food emporium—before there's any food in it. Did you ever see the "wheels go round" in a great restaurant? If you haven't, you'll enjoy this experience. For three days, July 17, 18 and 19, from 9 a.m. to midnight, George Kramer's "real place" will be open for your inspection. It's at 53rd Street and Blackstone Avenue. Come out, or come over, and see for yourself how George Kramer's 31-year dream became Chicago's greatest "place for good eats."

There Are Only Three Other Places Like This in the United States—Two Are in New York, and One in Los Angeles

Kramer's is both food shop and cafe. The cafe is not of the formal, "up stage" type, where grandeur stalks around, and the cost of the fancy scenery is added to the price of every sandwich you buy. It is beautifully decorated, of course, but in a quiet, friendly way (just as you'd know George Kramer would want it to be for the entertaining of his loyal friends) and prices will be moderate.

Breakfast will be served from 7 o'clock on, with Kramer's special coffee and piping hot rolls. Kramer's Silver Plate Luncheon from 11 to 2, dinner from 5 o'clock until closing time, with a special after-theater bill of fare from 10:30 to 1 o'clock.



The Food Shop

The Food Shop is directly in front of the cafe, and forms one of its main entrances. You've never seen a place like it, unless you've seen one of the two in New York, or the one in Los Angeles.

On each side of the broad center aisle, two gleaming counters of white—the counters refrigerated and filled with the most enticing food stuffs imaginable. Behind the counters, shelves and shelves of such goodies as you'll find nowhere else in Chicago.

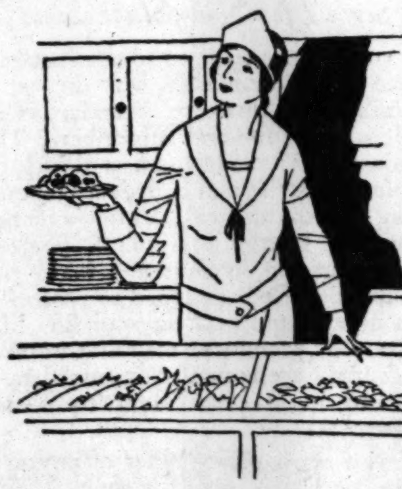
Here you can buy any imaginable food that is cooked in a kitchen, or foods uncooked. You can buy a "snack" or a full meal. Cold foods will be right from the refrigerators; fish always on ice; hot foods, piping hot. You can buy a pound of cold roast turkey, goose or duck, in season, or a whole fowl. And, when you wish it, anything they have in the food shop or in the cafe will be delivered to your home in special containers, as hot or as cold as it was when it left Kramer's.

And Such a Variety!

Sea Foods! Direct from the Coast every day. Pompano, lobsters, shell fish, white fish, brook trout in cold aspic jelly. A regular food aquarium! And all prepared as only George Kramer knows how to prepare them.

Bakery Goods! Fancy French pastries, luscious rolls, succulent pies—all made in the Kramer cookery. And such ice cream as you never before tasted—made and frozen in the Kramer freezerie, of course.

And even this place of specialties is to have one special specialty—Roast Chicken. Cold, or hot with dressing and red-hot gravy in special containers—you can get it every day in the week from 9 o'clock before noon to 1 o'clock in the morning—served in the Cafe, sold at the Food Shop counters, or delivered at your home—at a price very little above the cost of a chicken at the market.

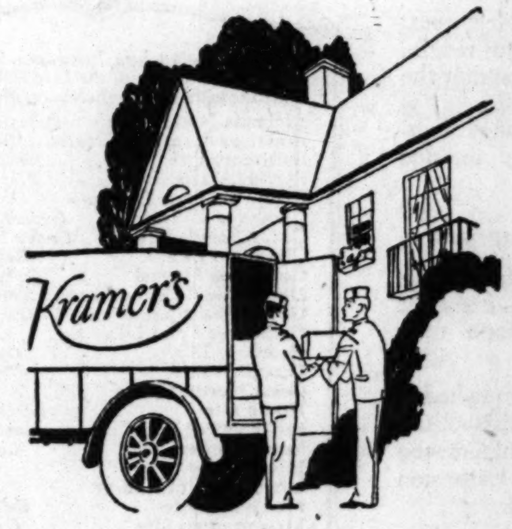


Even the Men Will Enjoy Seeing These Kitchens

"You have the finest kitchens in the United States," said a famous restaurateur to George Kramer. "I've been dreaming of such a kitchen all my life. You've got it."

Well, if George Kramer hasn't the finest kitchen in the United States it's because somebody has slipped something over on him that he didn't know about. For that is what he set out to have—the very finest. You see, this is the fulfillment of a life-long dream with George Kramer. And when a man brings his greatest dream to pass, nothing but the very best will do for him.

Walls of white tile to a height of seven feet—above that on walls and ceiling—white Vitrolite glass. Every modern kind of kitchen machinery, the very latest in ranges. And a remarkable ventilating system which entirely changes the air in the kitchen six times a minute (and in the cafe, four times a minute) to assure freshness and sweetness and cleanliness at all times. Of such are the kitchens at Kramer's.



There Are No End of Refrigerators

If cold places were all he wanted to see, Commander Byrd might have given up his trip to the Arctic regions and come out to see Kramer's refrigerators, instead. They are a whole frozen continent in themselves. Everywhere you turn, you seem to run into a different refrigerator—all cooled to just the right degree of temperature by electrical refrigeration. One for aging beef, one for fruits and vegetables; another for dairy products and still another for fish and other sea foods. All built of layers of cork and cement. And not to forget the great tanks for freezing water for making ice cream and iced drinks.

When you see these great refrigerators and storehouses you realize why the prices at Kramer's are so moderate. Large scale buying and real business organization make it possible.

* * *

This Is Kramer's

Come and see Kramer's for yourself. For three days, July 17, 18 and 19, from 9 a.m. to midnight it will be open for your inspection. Special guides will conduct you.

SMITH READY TO MEET BRENNAN ON ALL ISSUES

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Declaring that it has never been his habit to evade issues and asserting that he has a clear cut and definite program that will leave no doubt as to his position on Volsteadism or any other vital topic, Frank L. Smith, Republican nominee for United States senator, discussed the coming campaign yesterday in Chicago for the first time since his illness and operation six weeks ago.

Col. Smith, who left Henrotin hospital about a week ago, drove up from his home at Dwight yesterday for an examination by his physician. The wound from his operation has not yet fully healed. He rested in bed as he discussed his coming battle with his Democratic opponent, George E. Brennan, foe of Volsteadism whose main plank is modification of the dry laws.

Waiting to Get Well.

The G. O. P. nominee said he intends to get fully recovered and strong on his feet before he discloses the details of his program and that when he does he will be ready to smash vigorously into the campaign and lay his whole program before the people.

"It has never been my practice in politics to evade or to let the other fellow make and define issues for me," Smith said. "My program is clear cut and definite enough for the most exacting. I observe that my Democratic opponent has come out against the world court and for farm relief, the two things I stressed particularly in my primary campaign. I live out among the farmers and I know what they have been thinking all this time."

Laughs at Caraway Charge.

Col. Smith characterized as wild and extravagant the charges of Senator Caraway [Dem., Ark.] and others that the Smith primary battle against Senator McKinley was an orgy of spending. Anything further that he might have to say on the subject will be said to the senate slush fund committee when it comes here July 26 to open an inquiry into the Illinois primary expenses Smith said. He also said Samuel Insull, utility magnate and Smith backer is competent to do his own talking.

Brennan leaves today on the first lap of an extensive downstate tour. He starts at Danville and tomorrow will visit Hoopeston, Watseka and Kankakee.

Among yesterday's visitors at Brennan headquarters in the Bismarck was S. A. King, chairman of the Utah Democratic state committee who is here for the Elks convention. He is a brother of Senator William H. King [Dem., Utah] and headed the delegations from that state in the 1920 and 1924 national conventions.

Senator's Influence Lessened.

Another visitor, Dr. John Ascher of Freeport, Democratic nominee for congress in the 13th district, said it was time that the people of Illinois wake up to the fact that the reason this state receives such little consideration from Republican administration in Washington is that Illinois is so preponderately Republican that the influence of its senators is lessened.

FIGHTS TO KEEP FREE HAND FOR BRITAIN IN SUDAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 14. — Lord Lloyd, fiery British high commissioner to Egypt, is due to reach London Friday from Cairo for an important conference with the foreign office regarding the Egyptian situation He is expected to put up a hard fight with the foreign office over the question of the occupation of Egypt by British garrisons and the question of the Sudan governorship.

On the first question, the foreign office is inclined to admit the right of the Egyptian demands for the withdrawal of the British troops.

On the second question Lord Lloyd declares the Sudan is the future treasure house of the British empire, producing enough cotton to make Great Britain independent of American supplies, and refuses to admit that the British governor of the Sudan be dependent on the will of the Egyptian sovereign, although this was provided strictly in the condominium agreement with Egypt.

THE TRIBUNE understands also that Lord Lloyd plans to attack the foreign diplomats in Cairo by accusing them, including the American minister, of unjustified meddling in internal affairs.

GAME OF CHESS BY MAIL SAVES LIFE OF PATIENT

Rochester, Minn., July 14.—(AP)—A chess game that lasted two and a half years was revealed today as the probable means of saving the life of Louis D. Kovach of Aurora, Minn.

The game was started here Jan. 4, 1924, while Kovach was believed to be on his deathbed at a local hospital. A week ago Kovach, hale and hearty as ever, made the final move that checkmated his brother, Frank, and announced the result today.

Physicians said that without the chess game to keep up his determination to live, Kovach would never have recovered. He devoted many hours in the hospital to planning his moves, and then would write his brother, who also made his moves by mail.

MONEY TROUBLES GET BLAME FOR PREMIER FAILURE

Constant financial difficulties and malicious propaganda that the Ku Klux Klan was interested in the company were blamed yesterday as chief reasons for the $1,500,000 crash of the Premier Taxicab company.

These alleged causes were named in a bankruptcy hearing before Referee Frank L. Wean by Norman A. Waters of Detroit, secretary-treasurer of the defunct cab company, and C. T. Langmaid, vice president.

But it was mismanagement before he took over the financial reins in May, 1925, that really caused the falure, Waters said. There was no end to the company's money troubles and it was an impossibility to straighten out its finances, he said.

Waters was questioned by Ralph Hawxhurst, attorney for Receiver Sam Howard, about the procession of 95 cabs from Chicago to Indianapolis, Ind., a few days before the bankruptcy petition was filed and the receiver appointed by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter.

Those cabs, Waters said, were part of a delivery of an order for 500 machines from the Consolidated Finance company of Indianapolis, which was to lease them to the Columbia Cab company of Indianapolis. Repeated demands for the delivery were made, he said.

Waters testified that about $1,000,000 in stock had been issued when he took over the financial management of the company. Of this $350,000 was sold to the public, he said. He listed some of the larger creditors as follows: General Finance of New York, $800,000; Commercial Credit company of Baltimore, $75,000 or $80,000; Federal Finance company of Milwaukee, $125,000; Federal Finance company of Indianapolis, $35,000, and the Consolidated Finance company, $60,000.

COONTZ TO HEAD NAVY'S INQUIRY AT LAKE DENMARK

Washington, D. C., July 14.—(AP)—Rear Admiral R. E. Coontz today was named head of a naval court of inquiry which will meet Friday at Lake Denmark, N. J., to assess government losses in the arsenal explosion there.

Rear Admiral F. R. Harris was designated senior member of a separate board to determine damages to non-government property surrounding the explosion area. This board will meet at Lake Denmark tomorrow.

Mop Up Arsenal Ruins.

Dover, N. J., July 14.—[Special.]—Two hundred marines today "mopped up" the ruins of the Lake Denmark arsenal, with orders to shoot any looters disregarding orders to halt.

They had a hard battle extinguishing a menacing blaze in a storehouse on the grounds which for a time threatened to spread to buildings housing six inch shells and powder in cases.

The exact death list from Saturday's disaster may never be known, as not all the marines and civilian arsenal employés have been accounted for.

BOY DIES OF LOCKJAW.

Galesburg, Ill., July 14.—[Special.]—Herbert Wall, 13, died at a hospital here today from lockjaw which resulted from a wound received when he accidentally shot himself in the hand with a small revolver, July 4.

FOR Sour Stomach
PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentation in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

SAVING LIVES

THERE is a great class of workers—policemen, firemen, life guards, doctors, nurses, and others, whose enviable privilege it is to save human lives. For the most part, unheralded and unsung, they go about their work, expecting and receiving no reward other than the consciousness that they are performing their duty.

Within the past few years this great class, these savers of life "in the line of duty", have been joined by many of the progressive life insurance companies of the United States.

By extending to their policyholders free periodic physical examinations by the Life Extension Institute, these life insurance companies are accomplishing wonderful results in improving the health and prolonging the lives of their policyholders. While this is sound business, these life insurance companies have been prompted by genuine humanitarian motives.

400,000 Policyholders Examined

More than 400,000 policyholders have already availed themselves of this free offer and during the past year alone over 75,000 were examined.

What has actually been accomplished is shown by a study of 6,000 Metropolitan Life Insurance Company policyholders who took the services of the Life Extension Institute over a nine-year period.

18% Saving of Life

Over a period of nine years the Metropolitan checked 6,000 policyholders who took the Institute's examinations and compared them with the mortality of those who did not take these examinations. It was found that the death rate of those who were examined was reduced 18 per cent below that for all policyholders.

A similar study recently made by the Guardian Life of New York, covering a ten-year period, confirms these results.

If your company is willing to spend its own money to improve your health and prolong your life, isn't it worth your trouble to send a coupon to investigate for yourself?

FILIPINOS DENY THEY WILL YIELD FREEDOM CLAIMS

Tell Coolidge Envoy How Islanders Stand.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, P. I., July 14.—Following a formal call by Manuel Quezon, president of the senate, and Speaker Roxas, Col. Carmi Thompson, President Coolidge's investigator, expressed a desire to pay a return visit. The Filipino leaders then seized the opportunity to show their hospitality. All the Manila members of both chambers and some representatives from nearby provinces gathered this morning at a buffet luncheon, where they were presented to Col. Thompson and members of his party.

The conversations were entirely informal, and the newspaper men accompanying the President's envoy took up the question of independence, because an editorial in the Philippines Herald, organ of the Nationalist party, regrets that some correspondents had sent dispatches to America saying that the Filipinos had "given up independence and are paying more attention to economic development."

"Politeness," Filipinos Say.

Everywhere the mention of this feature of the situation has evoked the explanation that the leaders felt it would have been tactless to bombard Col. Thompson with petitions for independence the moment he landed, without giving time for observation so he would be able to discuss the subject.

"But if such politeness is misunderstood," said one of the most important men present, "we are prepared to use other tactics to prove that the people are united for independence."

It was announced that the national supreme council had adopted a motion requesting the legislature when it meets Friday to pass a resolution urging complete independence.

This has been an annual custom since 1907, but this year it will contain reference to Col. Thompson's presence in the islands and urge him to carry President Coolidge a plea from the Filipino people for self-government.

Will Call on Thompson.

President Coolidge's representative will be given particular prominence at the opening session. Following Gov. Gen. Wood's presentation of his annual message President Quezon will speak and then call on Col. Thompson for a few words.

INDICTMENT OF 2 FOR 3 MURDERS EXPECTED TODAY

James Crisius, alias Granite, who yesterday confessed a triple murder last Sunday night, and Thomas McWane, his companion, who admits the holdup but denies the shooting, will probably be indicted by the grand jury late today.

Assistant State's Attorney Frank Matousek, will present to the grand jury this morning the murders of Ludwig Rose, Checker cab driver, 3427 North Hamilton avenue; Miss Marie Blang, private secretary and Sunday school teacher who lived at 1533 South 59th court, Cicero, and Frederick Hein, church treasurer, 2300 South Kostner avenue.

The first murder trial, that for Miss Blang, will take place within thirty days if possible, according to present plans of the state's attorney's office.

At the double funeral service to be held for Miss Blang and Mr. Hein this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Salem Evangelical church, Washburn and Lincoln avenues, a letter of consolation will be read from the Evangelical Men's Council of the Chicago area.

LEE, WAR VET, GIVEN LIFE IN CELL AS KILLER

Everett Lee, 29 years old, who served in some of the major engagements in the world war, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday by Chief Justice Thomas J. Lynch, after he had listened to evidence in mitigation in behalf of the slayer of William Fuchs, 3535 North Racine avenue, a butcher. The murder occurred Jan. 13 during a robbery. Lee pleaded guilty.

Attorneys Milton D. and W. W. Smith, counsel for Lee, produced evidence to show that the slayer was suffering from shell shock.

42 NUNS TO QUIT MEXICO; CLOSE GIRLS' COLLEGE

Mexico City, July 14.—As a result of the recent decree prohibiting Catholic schools in which religious instruction is offered, forty-two teachers of Sacred Heart college for girls left yesterday for the United States. Sacred Heart college has branches in most of the principal cities of Mexico, all of which will be closed, as the nuns are unwilling to work as purely lay teachers.

Word from Pachuca says the parish priest, Aaron Villaneuva, has been arrested, charged with violating the religious laws.

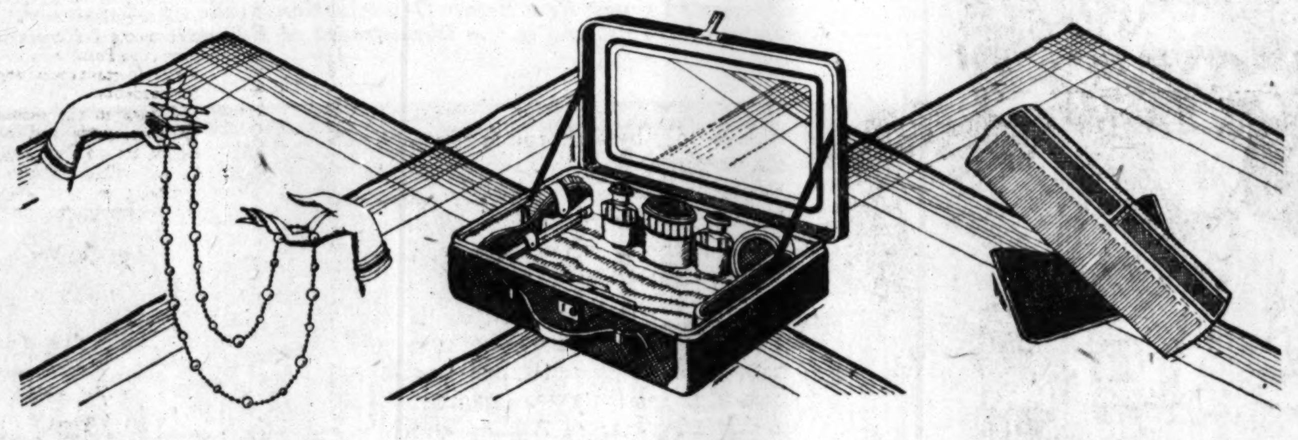
That demand has been anticipated in many of our First Floor, Wabash sections with numerous attractive articles, typified well by those described here.



A Sterling Silver Chain

The Chain is of sterling silver, 45 inches long and strung with pearls—white, smoked or a pastel shade of pink, as you prefer. The leather is cross-grained morocco. The eight fittings have enameled backs. And notice the large mirror in the lid. The Case is $35.

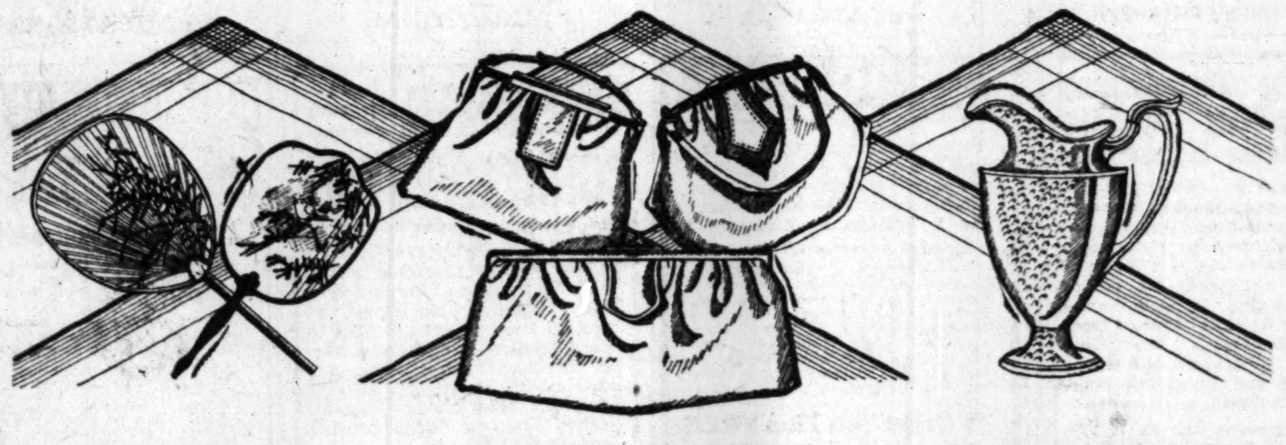
A Folding Comb

There can surely be no need to mention the many uses an active woman has for a Comb that fits easily into her hand bag. The one illustrated folds double, and slides into a case of ribbed silk. It has a top of engine-turned white metal that will not tarnish; $2.50. There are other models priced from $1 to $2.75.



Neat Summer Fans

A straw or palm leaf Fan is as cooling as one of silk, colorfully decorated. But you probably will prefer the silk one. We have them both. Our collection of Fans is pleasingly complete at this time, including styles of folding paper, palm leaf, straw, and printed and decorated silk. The prices range from 10c to $3.

Tailored Pouch Bags

These new Bags may be had in calf leather, pin seal or morocco, with long, adjustable or back-strap handles. The frames are either metal or covered. FRAUD EXPOSED IN WAR BRIDE'S $250,000 SUIT

The romantic story of a British war bride who claimed a quarter of a million dollars from the $6,000,000 Edwin B. Jennings estate in return for saving the life of the eccentric Chicago millionaire was branded as fiction yesterday by Probate Judge Henry Horner.

After throwing out of court the petition of Mrs. Marie Rengel of Brooten, Minn., the judge declared that he would be prepared to hear evidence tending to show that a fraud had been practiced upon the court. Attorneys A. B. Williams and Leo Kramer, representing the administrator, said they would make an investigation of the case.

Mrs. Renger came forward with her story last fall after reading in a newspaper that heirs to the Jennings estate were engaged in a legal battle concerning distribution of the fortune. She said that while stopping in Chicago in 1918, shortly after her marriage to a Yankee war veteran, she saw an unkempt old man about to be run down by a truck. She pushed the aged man from the path of the vehicle and he was so grateful, she declared, that he gave her a paper willing her $250,000 after his death.

Mrs. Rengel did not appear in court yesterday to back up her story. Instead, Mrs. Alfred Thoen of Brooten, Minn., took the witness stand and told how she had been asked by Mrs. Rengel to corroborate the story.

"Mrs. Rengel wrote me, promising me $10,000, a farm, and a trip to Europe if I would help her to get the $250,000," she said. "I made her no promises."

It was brought out that Mrs. Thoen was asked to testify that she also saw Mrs. Rengel save Jennings' life and witness the latter's promise to give her a reward.

Mrs. Rengel's attorney, W. J. Lewis, was also placed on the stand. He refused to testify. Judge Horner then dismissed the petition and indicated that an investigation should be made.

MILLION DOLLAR AD CAMPAIGN ON CANDY PLANNED

Atlantic City, N. J., July 14.—[Special.]—To teach to the American public the health value of candy, a million dollar advertising campaign will be conducted, according to a statement today before the 27th annual convention of the National Confectionery Salesmen's Association of America, in the Hotel Breakers. The campaign will continue for the next three years, Harry R. Wilson of St. Louis, in charge of the campaign, said. He declared that candy is a nourishing food.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LIMA, Peru, July 14.—"A nation of giants ruled by pigmies," is the latest aphorism hurled by Arturo Alessandri, some time president of Chile, at the United States as the Chilean steamer Aconcagua, carrying him steadily southward to his home town of Santiago, arrived this afternoon in Callao bay.

Going north only a few weeks ago, Don Arturo exuded belligerency and determination to place himself on the map of North America. Fellow passengers, however, say that the general indifference of Washington and New York to Señor Alessandri's existence has dampened his spirit. On the voyage from the United States he has merely played desultory chess, sulked in his cabin, and occasionally uttered bitter verbal onslaughts against the United States.

Reports of Bolivian-Chilean negotiations, emanating from Santiago, are given little attention here, being regarded merely as another fruitless attempt on the part of Chile to arouse discord between Bolivia and Peru.

For the time being, the Peruvian official and public opinion appears content to rest on what is regarded here as one of the greatest moral victories in South American diplomacy's history. The Peruvians will wait for another generation, if necessary, for territorial vindication.

ELMORE'S

Chicago Suburban Properties

for BUSINESS MEN and INVESTORS

THIS is the day of concentrated population—the day of tremendous cities dominating vast commercial, agricultural, and manufacturing empires. Because the territory of which Chicago is the metropolis is the most rapidly developing, the richest, the healthiest, and the most strategically located of any region in the entire world, Chicago has grown and is still growing into greater population and greater industrial power at a rate that is surprising even men of greatest education and widest vision.

The suburban properties of Chicago are cheaper in price today than they ever will be again. These properties are now within the reach of all thrifty Chicago people—people of every rank who are able to save consistently a few dollars a week.

The population of this great city is crowding into the suburbs. Thousands of miles of forty-foot roadways will be built of concrete and macadam within the next few years because of the demands of our suburban communities. Schools, stores, churches, clubs, parks, playgrounds, business districts, thousands of homes, great water systems and drainage systems and all the other adjuncts to community life are adding values to suburban properties around Chicago so rapidly that these properties are now considered by thinking men to be among the best investments for both large and small investors.

Elmore's suburban properties are improved, restricted and developed to keep pace with the growth of the communities in which they are located. In such developments in the past we have made millions of dollars for our customers. Our years of experience in this line of business, our substantial buying power, our knowledge of the needs and demands of our people, enable us to offer a wide variety of suburban properties to fit every pocketbook and every aesthetic demand.

It will cost you nothing to use our Statistical and Service Departments and to get full information about the growth of Chicago and the opportunities for investment in Elmore's suburban properties.

48 BANKS AND TRUST COMPANY CLOSE IN GEORGIA

Attributed to Naming of a Receiver.

Atlanta, Ga., July 14.—(AP)—Forty-eight Georgia banks and the Bankers' Trust company of Atlanta, operating company for 120 banks in the state, have closed their doors since Monday morning, the state department of banks announced tonight.

The closing was attributed to the appointment of a receiver for the Bankers' Trust company. By a temporary injunction, officers of the company were restrained from altering in any way the status of the 120 banks in the chain.

Under the order issued by Judge G. H. Howard in Fulton Superior court the affairs of the Bankers' Trust company were turned over to the receivers.

List as Reported.

The banks reported to the state banking department as having closed today were:

Ball Ground bank, Bank of Lexington, Bank of Plainville, Bank of Powder Springs, Bank of Roopville, Comer bank, Madison County bank, Colbert bank, Bank of Hamilton, Farmers and Merchants bank, Chipley; Bank of Hiram, State bank, Cochran Bank of Arnoldsville, Bank of Hazelhurst, Richland State bank, Bank of Alapaha, Temple Banking company, City Commercial bank, Woodbury; Bank of Warm Springs, Twiggs County bank, Jeffersonville; Bank of Stapleton, Bartow County bank, Kingston, and the Georgia State bank, which has executive offices in Atlanta and branch banking houses in the following towns:

Baxley, Bowdoin, Bronwood, Chatsworth, Cordele, Cumming, Douglas, Douglasville, Dublin, Greensboro, Hawkinsville, Mansfield, Maysville, Midville, Montezuma, Ocilla, Omega, Vidalia, and Winder.

Complaint from Florida.

Five banks closed yesterday, including the Bank of Palmetto, the Bank of Chaincy, the Alma State bank, the Bank of Leesburg, and the Commercial Bank of Dallas. Two banks closed Monday, the Bank of Abbeville and the Farmers and Traders bank, Atlanta.

The receivership of the Bankers' Trust company was granted upon the petition of the Bank of Umatilla, Fla., which alleged that the company had obtained $491,500 from the Umatilla bank to be placed on investment.

Youth Takes Cold Swim, Eats Hot Food, and Dies

William Cachman, 20 years old, 3156 West 26th street, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at St. Anthony's hospital after an illness of two days. Chilled from swimming in Lake Michigan Sunday the youth ate some hot food and drank cold soda water, thereafter complaining of violent pains. An autopsy by Dr. M. L. Trainer, coroner's physician, revealed the cause of death to have been general peritonitis.

Out in all kinds of weather, he wants "good food that tastes good, too"—so it's Puffed Rice for him

HUSKY men have a soft spot for dainty foods and should have them.

That's why Puffed Rice is such a universal favorite. It proves "food that's good for you" can be wonderfully delicious, too.

It provides the important carbohydrate energy of fine rice—and has the rich flavor of toasted nutmeats. Tastes entirely different from any other cereal known.

Each grain is steam puffed to 8 times its natural size, then oven crisped to rare flavor. Children take to it like to a confection.

It's a cereal dainty—plus fine, rich food. Costs a couple of cents a box more, maybe, than an ordinary "seven and six" dish; but that makes but little difference in a lifetime. The main thing is that the folks enjoy it.

Get Puffed Rice at any grocery store. You'll delight in finding the "something different" that you crave.

BIG TIM QUITS; BEATS OUSTER BY COURT WRIT

Timothy D. (Big Tim) Murphy was barred from attempting to run the affairs of the Chicago Tire Dealers' association in an injunction issued yesterday by Circuit Judge Ira Ryner. It was Murphy's first venture since his release recently from Leavenworth penitentiary, where he served a sentence for his participation in the Dearborn station mail robbery.

Murphy replied that he had resigned as head of the association two days before and was not interested in the court order. He is still a member of the association, but the order prohibits him from "acting as an official, collecting duties, or participating in any acts that would tend to interfere with the business of the organization."

It was charged that Murphy had been elected president at a secret meeting of certain of the members.

Reporter on Mussolini's Paper to Duel General

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, July 14.—Sandro Guiliani, reporter for Premier Mussolini's paper, Popolo d'Italia, has challenged Gen. Bencivenga, anti-Fascist, to a duel, saying that it was he, and not Arnoldo Mussolini, editor of the paper and brother of the premier, who was responsible for the story which raised the general's ire and led to arguments for a duel between the anti-Fascist and Arnoldo Mussolini. The duel is slated for tomorrow morning.

Ontario Rules Sunday Public Dancing Illegal

Toronto, Ont., July 14.—(AP)—A definite decision that public dancing in the province of Ontario on Sundays is illegal was made today by W. F. Nickle, attorney general, who ruled that it would not even be necessary for municipalities to refuse licenses to dancing places.

IMPOUND WAGES OF STRIKERS IN DAMAGE SUIT

New York, July 14.—(AP)—The wages of sixty-two leaders of the striking employés of the Interborough Rapid Transit company were impounded today.

The company has brought suit against the leaders for $239,000 damages and the action today was taken as partial security for any judgment obtained, according to James L. Quackenbush, the general counsel. The amount involved was said to be $2,500.

The company reported that three of the striking motormen returned to work and were put back on the pay roll at the foot of the list. Train service on the underground roads is steadily improving, the company asserted.

SMALL FIRE IN COUNTY BUILDING.

Three companies of firemen were called to the county building yesterday after a careless visitor had set fire to a bundle of paper in the men's washroom on the second floor. The blaze was extinguished without damage to the structure.

12 BUFFALO HERE TO TAKE PART IN HISTORICAL SHOW

Twelve head of buffalo from the Wainright ranch at Bashaw, Canada, arrived at Richton Park, Chicago suburb, last night for participation in the last buffalo hunt on the Old Sauk trail, an historical pageant to be staged by the Richton Park Regional Development association as part of the celebration of the Illinois Central railroad's surburban electrification and diamond jubilee. The pageant will be given twice daily from July 25 to August 1.

At each performance a band of Chippewa Indians on ponies will hunt the buffalo and each day one of the animals will be killed. The meat will be served in sandwiches as part of the refreshments during the celebration.

The herd, obtained through the courtesy of the Canadian government, was brought to Chicago by Dr. J. L. Himrod, lecturer and historian of the Chicago Historical society. The herd from which the twelve were obtained now numbers more than 8,000.

During July and August this store closes at 1 P. M. on Saturday

Radio Medley Given Praise; Censure, Too

Elmer Lauds Broadcast of Elk Ceremony.

BY ELMER DOUGLAS.

Hit or miss as we go—

The dedication ceremony of the Elks' Memorial temple, WBBM, 4 to 5:30, was yesterday's radio news and musical event. It was an august and impressive service over the air.

Suspecting that the evening would be otherwise uneventful, which was the case, I spent the 7 to 8 hour with the low wav length stations—an uninspiring experience last night.

WJJD, 6 to 7, organ recital—dedicating numbers, so not listened to.

WPCC, 7:55. A girl, apparently young, giving a public prayer meeting type testimony.

WBCN, 7. Always good, serious program. The soprano, who, at 7:30 sang "I Love You, Dear," should abolish the tremolo.

WORD, 7. The musical portion of this hour's broadcast always is excellent, the soloists frequently being of very fine music-world talent.

There were a lot of dance orchestras on the air between 8 and 8:30: Hotel Morrison orchestra, WOK; Riverview Park orchestra, WHT; the Troubadours at New York, through W-G-N, the latter playing less familiar numbers.

The first appearance of the Tripoli trio, W-G-N, 8:30, must have been immensely interesting to listeners who recognized them as members of the Troubadour quartet of colorfully costumed singers who enlighten late hours for Boul Mich diners.

The WLS instrumental trio, 9 to 9:30, in music by Russian composers, was delightful. I missed the Douglas park band concert at this station, 9:30.

I missed that concert because I became intrigued with the Arabian Nights orchestral entertainment, W-G-N, 8:45 to 10. For an hour and a quarter's musical run it's a humdinger, and the proposer of the idea is to be congratulated.

ARMED ROBBER KNOCKED DOWN IN LOOP CROWD

Seizing $1,200 from Miss Jennie Cashin, cashier in the Harmony restaurant at 21? South State street, at noon yesterday, an armed robber dashed to the door. But screams of women patrons attracted Joseph Drabney, 2004 West Monroe street, and he knocked down and captured the bandit as he emerged.

The robber, who said he was James Reno, a café owner of Norman, Okla., had slipped his revolver in his pocket after the holdup and was unable to draw it before Drabney struck him. Meanwhile Sergts. Charles Sauer and Steve Leddy, passing by, had come to the aid of Drabney, who is driver of a sightseeing bus. They seized Reno before he could use the weapon. The money was found in his pockets.

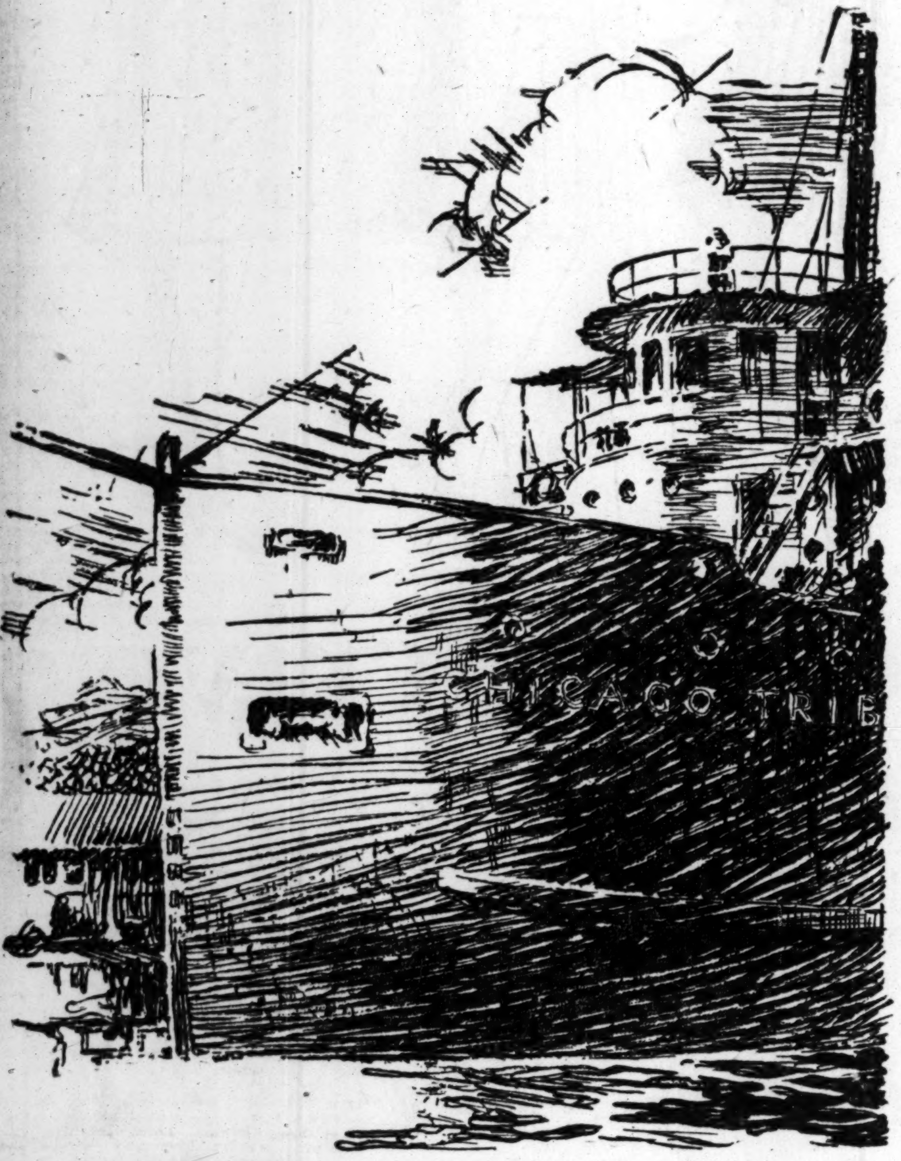
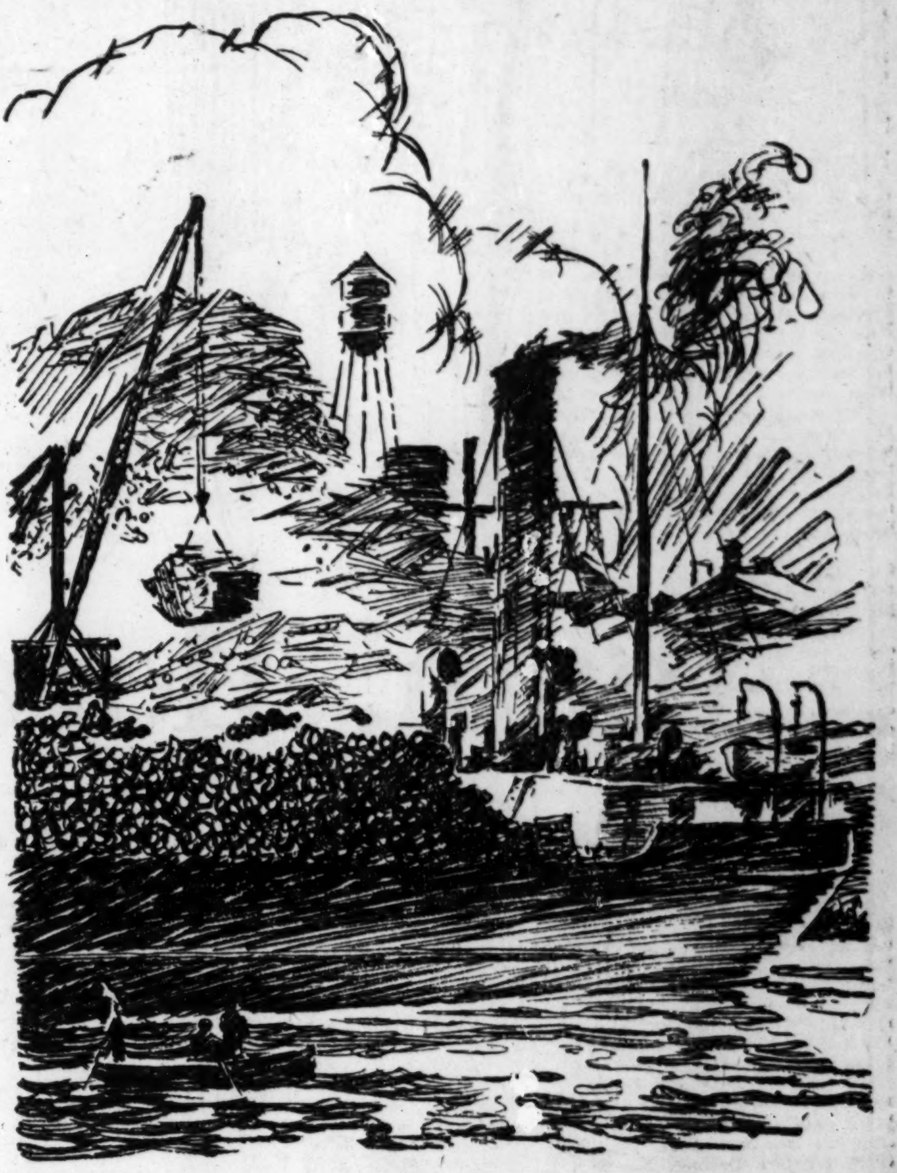
Quantity Production

makes this quality product the greatest advertising bargain in America





. . . . . . WHEN a woman buys a dress she notes the style, feels the material, checks the price, and determines fairly well in advance the value she is receiving. A man who buys an automobile knows what he is getting in appearance, in power, in durability, in maintenance expense. A value can be fixed in advance for nearly everything purchased.

And yet advertising space is so often considered intangible and uncertain. It shouldn't be. There are definite measurements to be considered in buying space.

One is the milline cost. The price of advertising is determined by the rate per milline and not the rate per agate line. It is through the milline that the advertiser determines the cost per reader. Quality of circulation is a consideration, and can be determined by the editorial and advertising content of the newspaper. A publication that makes sex appeal the basis of its circulation is hardly the American family newspaper. A newspaper that is filled with pages of cheap, cut-rate advertising is not the best place to advertise standard, quality merchandise.

The head of this advertisement states that quantity production makes The Chicago Tribune the greatest advertising buy in America. The tables of milline rates prove the statement.

Perhaps Ford cars are the best known example of the economy of quantity production. Ford owns his mines and forests and his factories. He makes his cars from raw material to finished flivver. He saves vast sums of money this way--but only because enormous production makes it possible.

The same principle applies to newspapers. The Chicago Tribune sells nearly three-fourths of a million papers every weekday. On Sunday, it sells more than a million. This is quantity production. In circulation it is exceeded only by The News, New York's tabloid picture newspaper (a Chicago Tribune publication). In the amount of paper used for editorial matter and advertising it is not equaled by any publication in the world.

The Tribune owns its timberlands—an area larger than the state of Delaware. It has its own steel ships to carry logs to The Tribune's two paper mills.

Because of this investment The Tribune spends less on the manufacture of newspapers than other publications, and more for news, features and services.

A Tribune man will gladly give you complete information and provide a plan to increase your sales in the Chicago Territory

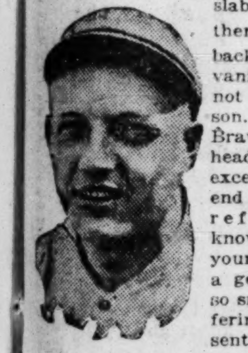
GEORGE HUFF NEAR DEATH IN ENGLAND

BRAVES CHASE ROOT OFF MOUND, SCALP CUBS, 6-4

PIERCY RUSHES TO RESCUE BUT ARRIVES LATE

Heavy Sluggers of Bruins Silenced.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.



BILL PIERCY.

Charley Root, mainspring of the Cubs' pitching staff, walked out to the slab yesterday and then walked right back again. His vanishing act was not without reason. The lowly Braves, who are headed nowhere except toward the end of the season, refused to acknowledge the young fellow was a good workman, so smashed his offerings freely and sent enough men over the pan to get a strangle hold on an affair eventually terminated with McCarthy's north siders on the light end of a 6 to 4 score.

So many things happened to Speed Ball Charley in his few minutes of toil that he was able to retire only one man. Four others hit safely, one was hit and one walked. This combination of happenings shoved three runs home and left three waiting on the sacks. One of the latter scored on rescuer Bill Piercy, and with four runs against them the Cubs spent the remainder of the afternoon in a vain attempt to catch up.

Benton Holds Back Cubs.

The main reason the Bruins could make no progress was that the top half of the batting order was not functioning properly. This was due to the fact that Larry Benton's pitching put them out of tune. Heathcote was the only man among the upper four who hit and he figured only in a run that went across in the ninth when it was too late to think of anything except dinner.

There is a bare possibility that Root's disastrous first inning might have been avoided if Schreiber had come up with a bounder with which Bancroft opened the game. The ball skimmed off Schreiber's glove for a hit, but he is not a third sacker by choice or training, so the offense can be overlooked. The horseshoe single was followed by F. Wilson's looping drive that Adams couldn't quite reach. This pair of breaks apparently upset Root and he walked Welsh, filling the sacks. Burrus' fly let Bancroft score. The other runners also advanced.

Brown followed with a very healthy drive that counted F. Wilson and Welsh. High slapped one safely to right and when E. Taylor was punctured by a pitched ball, Root was waved aside. One of the three waiting runners scored on Piercy when Zach Taylor uncorked a long fly.

Hack Fails in Pinch.

The Braves padded their margin with another run in the fourth because of a bad throw by Adams and then the Cubs started in their half, but the best they could do was three runs. A double by Stephenson and single by Grimm scored one of these. Then after Gonzales had doubled, Piercy surprised the crowd and himself by singling the two others over the counter.

Starting the fifth, F. Wilson slashed a double to left and eventually scored Boston's sixth and last run on a sacrifice fly by Burrus. After this Piercy held his own and so did Benton until the ninth, when Tolson, batting for Piercy, singled. Kaufmann ran for Tolson and went to second without attracting attention. He scored on Heathcote's single after Adams had fouled out. Kelly was permitted to bat for Schreiber, but he fanned. That brought up Hack and a homer would have been worth a tie, but he grounded to Burrus, and the show was over.

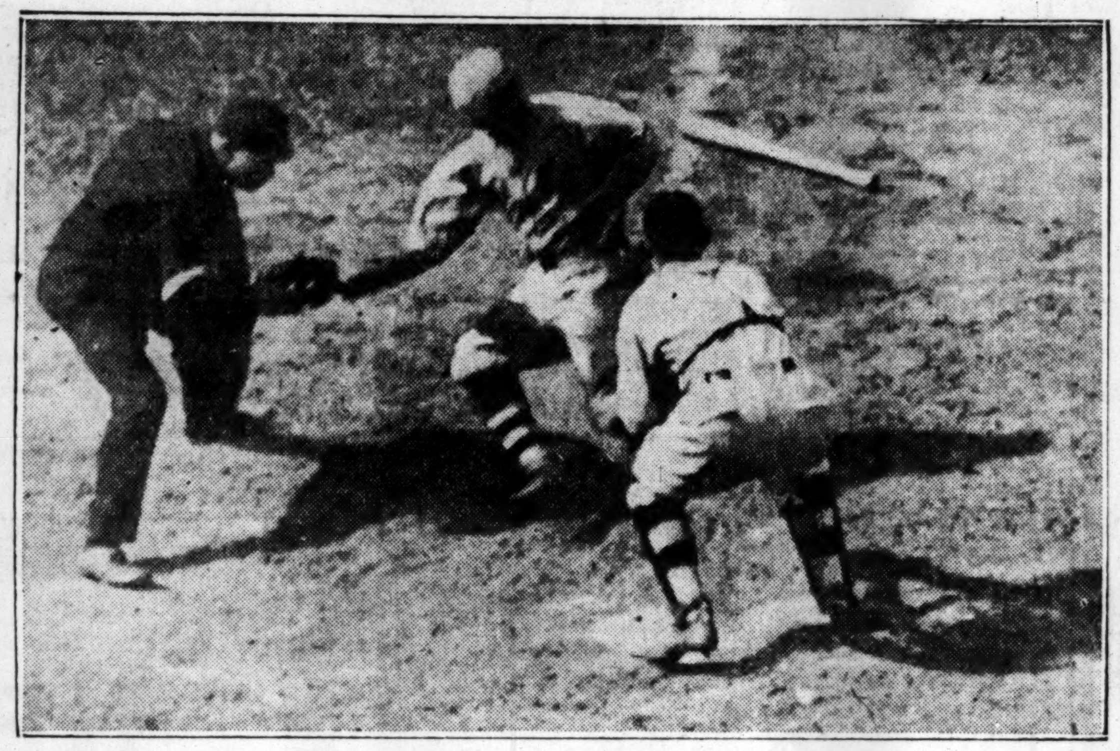
CUTTING DOWN ONE BRAVE'S RUN



A pass, a single, and a passed ball put Braves on the far bases with none out in the sixth inning of yesterday's battle at the Cubs' park, but no runs resulted. One reason was that High tried to race home on Z. Taylor's tap to Schreiber and was nipped on the latter's peg to Gonzales. There wasn't any argument about Ump Pfirman's decision.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS

MOTORING AND LINENS.

TORONTO, Canada, July 8.—[By Mail.]—Friend Don: Before I left on my vacation you spoke of driving up into Canada this summer, so I thought I might tell you how I came out, and if you get any tips out of it you're wekkum, as Mae Tinée says.

Well, we drove up to St. Joseph and across Michigan and I thought it would be nice to stay at a hotel in Ann Arbor all night because at the time of football games you never can get a room in a hotel and I wanted to see what one was like.

Then the next morning I took Mrs. Wake and the little Wakes up to see the athletic field and who should be stepping into the administration building but Fielding Yost. Well, Coach showed us the "Little Brown Jug"—you know the jug that is a tradition or something between Michigan and Minnesota—and other trophies, and gave us a map to avoid Detroit and escape the traffic congestion, because every one in Detroit has one or two cars.

We ferried across the border from Port Huron to Sarnia. The Canadian customs men didn't even look at our baggage. You see, they are not afraid of American tourists taking anything into Canada, because it's so much more plentiful there. So we bowled along to Niagara Falls, which, fortunately, happened to be falling the day we were there, and then to Toronto.

Toronto is said to be a very interesting city. We have been here four days visiting a relative, but I don't know much about the city. You know, I don't get up very early in the morning. Well, I have spent two afternoons in a linen shop. There is a tradition linens are much cheaper in Canada. The ladies also say they are. I don't know about that, either. But I know what the gross amount comes to and if I wire you to forward a salary check it will be because I spent two afternoons in a linen shop.

Now, Don, let me tell you something. Don't pretend to be anything other than an American over here. You can't get away with it. At least you're tipped off as soon as you dine in a public restaurant. Our table manners are all wrong.

The tip-off is the way we handle our forks. Here they keep it in their left hand, never changing from right to left, which they call a "silly American custom." Here's your lesson: Take fork in left hand, knife in right. Hold fork with tines down, back of fork reversed, so it becomes the upper side. Push food on back of fork with knife. Make food stay there if you can. Then elevate to the mouth. I don't see how they manage it with such confidence, but perhaps long practice perfects. I tried it once, then decided to remain an American. If I observe anything else you ought to know, I will write you about it in subsequent letters.

Ontario, as you know, is a dry province. Under the law, however, they are allowed to make anything here for shipment to other places. All they make doesn't get shipped. Hoping you are well,

Yours sincerely,
HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

Faber's Curves Puzzle Griffs and Sox Profit, 10 to 2

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

URBAN FABER.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Old Red Faber buckled down today and pitched one of his old time games while his mates slugged the ball all over the field, and the White Sox won the second game of the series against the champion Senators in a romp. Final count was 10 to 2, and the victory shoved the Sox back into third place.

Red hasn't done much but rest lately because of an injured thumb on his gloved hand, and when the old Cascade hero is well rested he regains all of his youthful vim, vigor, and vitality. He had all those qualifications today, along with a lot of speed, a sharp curve, a breaking spitter, and excellent control.

Rain Delays Game.

If the Senators hadn't thought they could crush the Sox today there would have been no ball game, and a seductive doubleheader would have been staged tomorrow. A gentle rain came up about half an hour before time to start playing, but instead of postponing the game and putting on a bargain show the next day, Boss Griffith had his groundkeepers laying canvas over the diamond.

Griff wants to win another pennant. He's had the last two, but, like all club owners, wanted to hog the glory. He thinks he has a chance, too, and he figured the Sox, after the showing they made in the game yesterday, would be easy, and his idea was to knock 'em off while the knocking was good.

Griffith sent the veteran Coveleskie to the rubber to oppose our old timer. Apparently he hasn't been resting for the last two weeks. Anyway, his spitter didn't break worth shucks, his fast one wouldn't hop, his curve wouldn't hook, and he had none too good control. After four innings, in which the Sox frolicked for six runs, Stan was excused and a young, aspiring fellow, Willard Morrell, finished.

Sox Start Attack Early.

The Sox wasted no time in thumping Coveleskie. With the help of two errors they scored three tallies in the first frame. When one was out Hunnefield walked, Collins was safe on an error, Falk singled, scoring Honey Boy; Sheely singled, scoring the boss; and Falk slid in safely when Joe Harris pegged home wide.

In the fourth Faber singled and stumbled home on Mostil's triple. Hunnefield singled, scoring Mostil. No more should have come in, but Stan Harris kicked one a bit later and Honey Boy counted.

Another cluster of three came in the sixth on singles by Mostil, Hunnefield, and Collins and a triple by Falk.

In the ninth Schalk's double and Faber's single put over the tenth count. Two scratch hits by Myer and Goslin, with a boot by Hunnefield, gave the champions a run in the fifth, and Goslin's hit, an out by Joe Harris, and a single by Bluege produced the other in the seventh.

Berlenbach and Delaney Match Opens Stampede

New York, July 14.—The rumble of the hullabaloo that always breaks out in New York when a prize fight of major importance is about to transpire can now be heard with the naked ear in several localities.

Paul Berlenbach, the popular horrible example who likes to tell people how he saw the light and was saved from the wrestling business, drew a noisy quorum of neighbors to the Berlenbach front stoop as he arrived home this evening from his two weeks' training holiday down in the applejack distillery belt of rural New Jersey.

Over in Brooklyn, where Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Dodgers comprise a rather shabby athletic ideal, there was some curious milling around and knot hole peeping at the Dodgers' ball yard, where Berlenbach and Jack Delaney will resume their prolonged and highly remunerative rivalry tomorrow night.

Ticket Rush Is On.

And up in the office of Humbert Fugazy, the promoter of the fight, on the 44th floor of the Woolworth building, there was a rowdy scene from noon until late at night, which indicated more surely than anything else that the Berlenbach-Delaney fight is one of those ball yard stuffers which promoters lovingly describe as a natural.

It was in Fugazy's office that Single-tooth Abe Yeager, a nervous young handy man around the fight clubs of New York, was dealing out the tickets to the press. Single-tooth aims to be hard of hearing. That is, he could hear a five dollar bill drop on a feather bed at thirty yards, but when Harry Horsehair, the town upholsterer of Little Neck, L. I., drops in with a letter from the editor of the Little Neck Weekly Tonsil, appointing him boxing editor and assigning him to cover the Berlenbach-Delaney fight, Single-tooth can't make out what the letter says.

Paul Will Get $150,000.

The price of tickets for this fight ranges downward from $27.50 at the promoter's office, or at the ball yard, and there is housing capacity for about $400,000 worth of trade, provided, of course, that Single-tooth Yeager doesn't weaken and give away some of the stock right off the shelves. Thus this is to be a pretty big fight and the customers will have the satisfaction of realizing that they were present, at least, even if they should become misplaced in the seating arrangements and find themselves looking on from the bleachers.

Berlenbach says that after this fight he will have about $425,000 in the bank. He expects to be paid about $150,000 Friday morning. He abandoned the evil profession of wrestling about five years ago, but it has been only three years since he began to make himself painfully noticeable to the preliminary guys in the middleweight class of the prize fight profession, while still retaining his license as a hack driver to be sure of a living between fights.

Since he quit the wrestling business and went straight, Paul has retained only one vice that the public knows of. He plays a saxophone.

Two Homewood Records Fall; Winn Sells Hawthorne Track

Transfer of the controlling interest in the Hawthorne race track from Col. Matt J. Winn to a group of Chicago business men headed by John C. Schank, Thomas McHale, and Charles Krutchkoff was made yesterday.

Although there was no official announcement, the deal was taken by Chicago race followers to mean that the new group, composed entirely of Chicagoans, will operate the historic track on the far west side beginning with a short meeting this fall.

New Owners Chicagoans.

Schank and McHale are officials of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., and Krutchkoff is a member of the board of assessors. More than a score of other Chicagoans, practically all of them business men, become interested in the track through the deal, it was reported.

"I believe it will be a good thing for racing if the sport at Hawthorne is entirely in the hands of Chicagoans," Col. Winn declared. While he believed it was the intention of the new Hawthorne owners to conduct racing there, he said he had not been advised of all their plans.

Control of the track passed into Col. Winn's hands last fall after the Chicago Business Men's Racing association had suffered heavy financial losses during a 51 day meeting conducted last summer.

Plans Not Completed.

"The success of the Illinois Jockey club in conducting racing in Cook county at the new Washington park with a modified system of pari-mutuel betting is believed to have convinced the Chicagoans who have purchased Hawthorne they can make a paying venture of the sport there.

"We are not ready with our plans," Schank said last night. "But the purchase of the controlling interest in the track is a sporting venture with us. We are not out for enormous profits. If we race we will give Chicagoans high class sport.

"While the stands and other buildings at Hawthorne are somewhat ancient and out of date, the plant can be put in condition for a race meet within a short time," Schank declared.

Goldie Johnson, diminutive star jockey with E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour stable, rode his way into the hearts of nearly every Chicago racegoer at the new Washington park track yesterday when he displayed horsemanship seldom seen on any track, winning three races, including the Idlewild handicap and the secondary feature. He won the headliner on Cartoon by a nose from Smiling Gus, took the mile and an eighth Jones purse, which was the secondary feature, in the green and white Idle Hour silks on Beneficent, and in the third race got another nose decision with My Destiny.

In each of these victories it was Johnson's riding, his energetic hustling, and his ability to pick a safe and short route which was as big a factor as the running ability of the thoroughbreds he handled.

Cartoon Ties Track Record.

When Cartoon carried away the $1,500 Idlewild handicap he broke the track record and got his decision over Smiling Gus in the most stirring finish that has been furnished the patrons of the Homewood course. He came from last place into the lead while the field was turning into the stretch, then ran Smiling Gus stride for stride all the way down the stretch, and the finish was so close it took the official placing to separate them. The time was 1:39 1-5.

The start was not a good one, Russell Gardner getting much the worst of it; but he soon made up the lost ground, and took the lead before they had gone the first quarter of the mile route. Blockhead ran nearest the leader, with Smiling Gus and Cartoon far back. They raced in this order until turning into the stretch. Then came the duel between Cartoon and Smiling Gus and the finish, which had the 8,000 spectators on their feet cheering.

Beneficent Clips Mark.

Beneficent's victory was the second the Bradley interests have accounted for here, and she was considerably the best, winning handily by two lengths from Spanish Lay, after Johnson had the winner in front all the way. None of the others was dangerous, although Fabian closed a gap and got third money. Beneficent's mile and an eighth in 1:54 3-5 also was a new record.

It was a big day for players of favorites, for Frederick Rapheal, Attica, and My Destiny were all heavily backed as they came nodding down to the judges in the first three races. Attica won the juvenile event like a good 2 year old. She is a Canadian bred youngster and was making her first start here.

Atossa was another favorite when Jockey Tommy McElroy hurried her off to a lead which he held to win the sixth race, despite challenges by Reveillon and Fasuto in the last sixteenth.

OXYGEN GIVEN ILLINI DIRECTOR TO SAVE LIFE

George Huff, director of athletics at the University of Illinois, is barely holding his own in a battle for life in the Nursing hospital in the Mayfair section of England, according to cables received yesterday. Blood transfusions and oxygen were being used, but physicians held little hope for his recovery.

Huff, for thirty years an outstanding figure in the Western conference and in national athletic circles, sailed for England with his wife in May. He was operated on for appendicitis July 1 and was considered out of danger July 7. Monday came word that his condition had changed for the worse, but it was only in the last twenty-four hours that his condition became critical.

Blood Transfusion Made.

Miss Catherine Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huff, who is spending the summer in Chicago, living at 1540 North State Parkway, received a cablegram from her mother yesterday, reading, "Blood transfusion and oxygen. Just holding his own." Later news cables indicated Huff was yielding slowly to the ravages of his illness.

Huff was born near Champaign in 1872, attended school and college in the town and after graduating from the University of Illinois in 1893, returned two years later as assistant director of athletics. He was made director of athletics in 1901 and has held this post since.

University Extends Aid.

President David Kinsley of the university and Robert Carr, trustee, have cabled London university, asking that any service which the heads of that university might extend Mr. and Mrs. Huff be offered and the commandant of the university reserve officers' training corps cabled the American legation in London requesting an attaché wait upon Mrs. Huff.

Rotary International in England has been asked by the Champaign Rotary club, of which Huff was a member, to give any assistance needed. A reply to this message from the secretary of the British Rotary club stated that Huff's condition was causing much anxiety, and that every possible assistance would be extended.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Louis Feustel, trainer of the Log Cabin stud of George H. Walker and William A. Harriman, has resigned his position, it was learned at the Empire City race track today. Crossfire, winner of the third race, was probably the last horse he will saddle for his employers.

It is understood that differences of opinion as to the advisability of starting certain horses led to the final break. Feustel is one of the most widely known trainers in the country, and became internationally famous for his development of Man o' War. He selected the colt for Samuel D. Riddle when the latter paid $5,000 for him to August Belmont, trained him and saddled him in all his races.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Six of the eight fighters who will appear on the card of Jim Mullen's all-star boxing show at the White Sox ball park on the afternoon of July 24 are now in the city and are training at the Randolph street gymnasium. The other two will arrive on Monday to complete preparation.

Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute bantamweight who meets Tommy Ryan of McKeesport, Pa., in the banner event, came in last evening and established himself at the Plaza hotel, so that he can do road work in Lincoln park. Bud welcomed the opportunity to settle down to training and is elated over the fact he will meet Phil Rosenberg for the world's bantamweight championship in Chicago before the close of the outdoor season.

Johnny Adams, holder of the California lightweight title, who will swap punches with Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., in one of the other bouts, came up from Quincy, Ill., accompanied by Manager Tom Jones.

Petrolle came from St. Paul, where he knocked out Johnny Rocco of New Rochelle, N. J., last Tuesday night in the eighth round.

Billy Bortfeld, the Milwaukee welterweight who clashes with Spug Meyers of California in one of the other bouts, arrived from Milwaukee, and was accompanied by his father, who looks after his interests.

Wolcott Langford, who will try to break the winning streak of Sam McVey of New York City, arrived from New Orleans, where he won a fifteen round decision over K. O. White last Monday night. Langford will resume training today, while McVey will arrive on Sunday.

Ryan Will Arrive Monday.

Ryan's signed articles and $500 forfeit were received yesterday by Promoter Mullen. The little Quaker bantamweight stated he will arrive in Chicago on Monday morning.

Local boxing fans consider the show one of the best fight cards staged in years. Requests have already been received for over 300 reservations, and tickets will be placed on sale today. The prices will be $1.10, $2.75, $3.30, $5.50, and $7.70. With the exception of the $1.10 and $2.75 tickets, which will be placed on sale at noon on the day of the fight, other seats are reserved.

Eckersall's Gossip of the Boxers

Eddie Long, manager of Bud Taylor, the Indiana bantamweight, returned yesterday from New York, where he finally agreed upon terms for a match with Rosenberg for the world's bantamweight championship. Long stated Rosenberg and Manager Harry Segal will be here Saturday morning to sign articles and post forfeits. They had intended to be here tomorrow, but at the last minute decided to remain in the east to witness the Berlenbach-Delaney bout in Brooklyn tonight.

Long stated positively that Segal will sign the articles and post his forfeit. Eddie also conveyed the news that Rosenberg's manager has three sets of articles and wanted time to look them over before deciding on the offer he will accept. Promoter Mullen has given Segal the option of a $45,000 guarantee or a privilege of 37½ per cent of 90 per cent of the receipts. If Segal accepts the guarantee he must post 25 per cent of the guarantee with the commission. If he takes the privilege he must post $2,500.

While Mullen does not doubt Long's word, he asserted he will feel more secure when the articles are signed and Rosenberg's forfeit money is posted. Mullen now plans to stage the contest on Labor day.

George Donahue of the Connecticut boxing commission, who is a visitor in Chicago, called on the Illinois commission yesterday. The easterner held a long conference with Commissioner John Righeimer, the only member of the Illinois body who is in the city.

Jimmy Finley, the welterweight of the Long-Stanton stable, has been matched to meet Floyd Hybert in Cleveland, O., on July 20. They will box ten rounds and scale 147 pounds. The show will be staged by Tom McGinty.

Tommy O'Brien, the California lightweight, and Harry "Kid" Brown of Philadelphia, clash in the feature of Wisconsin's first outdoor boxing show, which will be held in the Milwaukee ball park tonight. Tony Sanders of Chicago and Harry Hahn, the Cream City 135 pounder, meet in the semi-windup. The show will be conducted by Tom Andrews.

Paul Allen of Chicago, who learned to box at the University of Illinois, and Mike Dundee of Rock Island have been matched to meet in the windup of the boxing show at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, on July 20. They will box ten rounds to a decision and scale 135 pounds.

FRENCHMAN SETS WORLD RECORD IN 1,000 METER RUN

PARIS, July 14.—(AP)—Georges Baraton, French runner, today broke the world record for the 1,000 meter event in an international meet at the Pershing stadium. He ran the distance in 2 minutes 27 1-5 seconds, breaking the record of Sven Lundgren of Sweden of 2:28 5-10.

The record breaking run occurred at a meet in which Great Britain, Holland and Belgium were represented. Members of the Princeton and Cornell track team, which competed recently in England against Oxford and Cambridge, took part in the meet but had little success.

Has a Speed Trap Operator Ever Held You Up?

Speed trap operators are breaking down respect for the law. The motorist whose violation is trivial knows that he will be obliged to pay court costs the same as the flagrant violator.

Generally the constable is not out to regulate traffic and prevent accidents, but to encourage violators. He sneaks behind bushes when he should be out patrolling the road in full view.

Under the fee system that prevails today, the magistrate trying the case has a direct financial interest. If there is a conviction he gets a fee.

The Chicago Motor Club and the American Automobile Association are fighting to clear up speed traps throughout the country. If you know of the existence of a speed trap, or of any instance of rank injustice, let us hear about it; it will help in our campaign.

The protection of members on the highways is a service the Chicago Motor Club has rendered for twenty years. When motorists are banded together for mutual protection, crooked officials hesitate to persecute them. This is one of the reasons why 50,000 motorists belong to the club. Let us tell you about the many other money-saving features of membership. Mail the coupon today.

Virginia Weltman Defeats Favorite in Parks Golf

BY MORROW KRUM.

Let the name of Miss Virginia Weltman be written in bright ink upon the annals of Chicago public park golf. Miss Weltman, after an absence of five years, yesterday returned to dazzle the public park fans with her play.

Miss Weltman has been playing golf at Lincoln park all this spring and summer. She has played well. Yesterday Miss Weltman jumped into prominence by eliminating Miss Edna Hierman, a favorite, from the women's state public parks' championship.

Six years ago Miss Weltman was a Chicago resident and a Lincoln park golfer. Then she moved to New York. In 1923 she won the municipal championship of Manhattan. In 1924 she did not defend her title. Last year she was runner-up for the title. Now she is a favorite to win the state parks championship.

Wins on 17th Green.

Miss Weltman and Miss Hierman, runner-up for the title last year, had a close battle yesterday. At the ninth Miss Weltman was 2 up. At the thirteenth Miss Hierman had cut the lead to 1 hole. They halved the fourteenth, fifteenth, and sixteenth. Miss Weltman won the seventeenth with her putter and the match was over, the New York star winning, 2 and 1.

Meanwhile Miss Florence Beebe was having a strugle with Mrs. V. S. Sidney. At the fourteenth Miss Beebe was 2 down. She won the fifteenth with her long wood shots, the sixteenth was halved, and on the 481 yard seventeenth Miss Beebe was just short in 2, on in 3, and took two putts. Mrs. Sidney needed 6 strokes to get the ball into the cup. The match was squared.

Both Players Stymied.

The eighteenth at Lincoln park is 372 yards long and Miss Beebe was on in 3 and her opponent in 4 strokes. Miss Beebe's ball lay fifteen feet from the cup and Mrs. Sidney's lay directly in her path. It was a dead stymie, but a roll of the green gave Miss Beebe a chance. She curved her ball around that roll and it passed her opponent's ball, but stopped on the lip of the cup, laying Mrs. Sidney a stymie. Mrs. Sidney putted and the two balls hit, but neither went in. Miss Beebe got a 5 on the hole, while Mrs. Sidney needed a 6, Miss Beebe winning the match, 1 up.

Other results follow: Mrs. F. E. Malcolm, Garfield, defeated Miss Edith Wallace, Jackson, 4 and 3; Mrs. Zerilda Zuber, Lincoln, defeated Mrs. V. S. Cooper, Lincoln, 8 and 6; Mrs. F. Jacobs, Jackson, defeated Mrs. Oscar C. Horn, Marquette, 2 and 1; Mrs. A. R. Campbell, Jackson, defeated Mrs. G. A. Connell, Lincoln, 4 and 3, and Mrs. F. S. FitzGibbon, Jackson, defeated Mrs. Katheryne Hafner, Lincoln, 3 and 2.

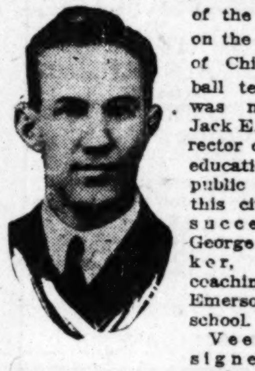
Veenker Will Assist at Michigan.

Gary, Ind., July 14. — [Special.] — Elmer Lampe, for several years one of the mainstays on the University of Chicago football team, today was named by Jack E. Gilroy, director of physical education in the public schools of this city, as the successor to George F. Veenker, on the coaching staff of Emerson High school.



ELMER LAMPE.

Veenker resigned several weeks ago in order to accept a position as assistant coach in football and basketball at the University of Michigan after a five year record of successes believed unparalleled in scholastic athletic history of Indiana. During the last five years Emerson football teams have chalked up a record unequaled by any high school team in the country.

He will report for duty here Aug. 20, at which time he will accompany Coach Veenker and a squad of 45 candidates on the annual two weeks' training camp to be held at Lake Geneva, Wis.

Kenosha Defeats Racine, 6 to 4; Hammond Features

Kenosha, Wis., July 14.—[Special.]—Hammond's hitting was the outstanding feature of the Kenosha Twin Six's 6 to 4 victory over the Racine Eskimos, in a Wisconsin-Illinois league game here today. Fred Marks hurled a fine game for the locals, while Guy Hoffman, former Battle Creek, Mich., star, was touched lively in pinches by the Kenoshans.

Helen Wills Back Home to Defend National Net Title

HELEN WILLS.

Coupled with that announcement by the national champion upon her return from Europe today with other members of the victorious Weightman cup team, came word from Miss Wills, that she will begin practice next week with a view of defending her national title next month at Forest Hills, N. Y. The champion said she was "feeling fine" and expected to resume tournament competition Aug. 2 in the annual invitation event at Seabright, N. J.

The California girl, whose thrilling tennis duel with Mlle. Lenglen last February at Cannes attracted worldwide interest, was unwilling to venture an opinion as to whether she could defeat the French star in a return engagement. But Mary K. Browne, Wightman team captain, frankly admitted Suzanne to be "a most wonderful player—the best in the world today."

Other members of the returning party, which included Elizabeth Ryan, Eleanor Goss, Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, and Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, joined Miss Wills in a tribute to French and English officials and spectators.

"They were very nice to us," Miss Wills said.

U. S. OFFICIALS LAY PLANS FOR SERVICE GAME

Representatives of the U. S. Military academy and U. S. Naval academy yesterday met at the Hotel La Salle with President Edward J. Kelly of the south park board and Supt. George Donaghue to complete arrangements for th staging of the annual service football game on Soldiers' field Nov. 27.

Questions of transportation and housing of the cadets and middies who will be brought to Chicago from West Point and Annapolis were discussed, together with the parade and receptions for various dignitaries of both branches of the service.

Headquarters for the Navy will be at the new Palmer House and for the Army at the Blackstone. The Navy football team will be quartered at the Hotel Windermere and will practice on Stagg field on the day before the game. The Army squad will stay at the South Shore Country club and will hold its final practice drills on the golf course at the club.

Commander Jonas Ingram, athletic director and football coach, and Bill Ingram, field coach, represented the Navy; Col. Koehler, Maj. Copthorne, and Col. Hodges, the Army; Edward J. Kelly and George Donaghue, the south park board, and Harry Savage the mayor's committee.

Kroydon Clubs for LADIES

They are lighter and somewhat shorter than men's clubs, and are perfectly suited to the weight, strength, and physique of women.

All Kroydon Clubs are made in Ladies' Models. Most popular are Model 61, Wood Clubs—and Model 9, Irons.

Ladies' Model 61
Driver Brassie Spoon
With HICKORY SHAFT $6.00
With STEEL SHAFT $8.00

Kroydon Jigger
Ladies' Model M-9
With HICKORY SHAFT $6.00
With STEEL SHAFT $7.50

One of the most useful irons ever made. Has 35 degrees loft—shallow face—and a heavy sole, that gives power enough for long carry. A wonderful club for playing long shots up to the pin.

Hogs scored further advances of 10@15c yesterday, on the smallest mid-week receipts of the year at 11,000, practical top 150@200 lb averages going to $14.55, highest since last Thursday. A scattering of light light at $14.60 was no criterion. Local packers fought the additional rise in prices, resulting in a comparatively slow close. Salesmen, however, refused to release their holdings at steady bids and 8,000 were estimated in the pens at the close, with 18,000 expected today, against 32,616 the previous Thursday. Dwindling supplies offset the narrow shipping demand. Hog receipts this week promise to total around the 100,000 mark, the smallest in some time. Quality graded as poor as any time this season, offerings including many 300@400 lb packing sows, worth $11.25@11.75. A larger proportion of lower priced offerings changed hands and forced the average down to $12.90 in face of the strong to higher market.

Tendency ruled weak to lower in cattle again, heavy beeves selling to the poorest advantage and as low as any time this year. Strictly fancy light steers and yearlings were scarce and held to steady price levels, 1,073 lb. long yearlings topping the list at $10.50, with 966 lb. averages at $10.40 and a fair showing of 854@1400 lb. averages at $10.25. The majority of sales are 35@50c under a week earlier, bulk of prices yesterday at $8.50@10.00, comparing with $9.25@10.40 the previous Wednesday. Butcher stock continued dull at the $1.00@1.50 decline since ten days ago. Canners ruled weak to 25c lower. Calves slumped 25c, with bulls off 10@15c. Stockers and feeders show decline of as much as $1.00 compared with two weeks ago.

Lamb Market Stronger.

Sheep receipts at 14,000 exceeded expectations and compared with 12,465 a week earlier, but with demand brisk on both local and shipping account, prices strengthened slightly. Choice Idaho range lambs topped at $14.40, highest of the week, with fancy ewe and wether native lambs to city butchers at $14.25, bulk of the latter bringing $13.50@13.75. Strong weight native culls brought $10.50@11.50 and buck lambs $12.00@12.50, buyers showing an aversion to bucks exceeding 90 lbs. in weight. Matured sheep were scarce as usual and quoted steady, light ewes at $6.50@7.00 and heavy at $4.50@5.00. Feeding ewes sold at $6.00.

RECESSION IN COTTON

Cotton trading was not as heavy, although a fair aggregate was on, with a lower range of values. Profit taking by buyers of Tuesday was a factor in weakening values as Liverpool started strong and higher, only to react and close 2 to 4 points higher for the day.

The weekly weather crop bulletin was favorable with weather seasonal. Rains were reported in parts of the southeast. After a break a rally came and New York closed 6 points lower to 1 point higher, and Chicago 15 to 30 points lower. Spots in New York was unchanged at 18.55c, and in New Orleans 16 points off at 18.07c.

PLATTE RIVER LIKE AMERICAN VALLEY OF NILE

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Fremont, Neb., July 14.—[Special.]—Platte river valley is a veritable granary. More than four hundred miles long and fifteen miles wide, with the sky for its roof and the high bluffs on each side for its walls, it is now filled with wheat, oats, and corn. The valley's floor is covered with patterned carpet made up of squares of golden wheat, green tinted patches of oats, and solid green blocks of corn, stretching up on to the tableland country for many miles north and south.

Veteran growers who have worked in this great granary for more than fifty years stand in awe as they look from the hilltops across "America's valley of the Nile," declaring that they never have seen such crops here in the fertile land that lies in the forks of the Platte and Elkhorn river.

Most of the oats has been cut in Dodge, Washington, Saunders, and Douglas counties. Growers conservatively estimate that oats around Fremont will average above 40 bushels to the acre, but the crop is probably much better here than in most parts of the state. Lower down in the valley to Omaha the oats are lighter. Up on the table land bordering the valley the wheat and oats yields are high.

Corn on the rich table lands as well as in the valley is above a man's head in many fields. There are thousands of acres of it. The stalks are of uniform height, growing rapidly, and of a dark green color. Along the Elkhorn river bluffs in Washington county tassels are beginning to come out. The corn is higher here than in any part of central Iowa directly east of Fremont.

Merger Is Completed of 7 Flour Mill Companies

New York, July 14.—(AP)—The consolidation of seven flour milling companies in the middle west into an enlarged company known as the Commander-Larabee corporation, has been completed. New York bankers have underwritten $5,500,000 of the new company's securities.

The merger will combine all the flour milling and grain elevator properties of the Commander Mill company and its four affiliated corporations, the Larabee Flour Mills company and some of the properties of the J. C. Lysle Milling company. The enlarged company will control and operate thirteen mills with a total daily capacity of 25,225 barrels and elevator and terminal facilities with an aggregate capacity of 6,927,050 bushels.

Middle West Utilities to Sell $7,000,000 Stock

The Middle West Utilities company, one of the large Insull properties, will issue an additional $7,000,000 of its 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, of which $50,000,000 is authorized and $37,200,000 now is outstanding. A banking syndicate has bought the stock and will make a public offering. It is understood the proceeds of the stock sale will be used for expansion, including purchase of a considerable interest in the Illinois Light and Power company in conjunction with the North American company. The Middle West Utilities company now owns or controls public utility operating companies serving 1,683 communities in 13 states.

WHEAT FUTURES BOUGHT HEAVILY ON CROP NEWS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Continued unfavorable crop reports from the American and Canadian northwest with black rust discovered in southern Manitoba brought in aggressive buying of wheat futures, and carried the September up 1⅜c to $1.43⅝, a new high on the present movement, and December to $1.46⅝, a new high on the crop. While there was a sharp break at one time due to heavy profit taking sales, the finish was ½c to 1⅛c higher, with July $1.44⅛@1.44¼; September, $1.42⅞@1.43, and December $1.46⅛@1.46¼. Outside markets were somewhat unsettled, with Kansas City ⅛c to ⅝c higher, and Minneapolis ⅞c to 1½c higher, while Winnipeg was ⅛c lower to ⅞c higher.

July corn showed an easy undertone and closed ½c lower at 74⅝c, after a range of 1¼c, while deferred deliveries were unchanged to ⅛c higher with September 80½@80⅝c, and December at 81⅞@81⅞c. Oats were unchanged to ⅛c lower with July 38¼c and September 40⅝c. Rye was 1½@1⅝c higher, with July $1.04 and September $1.07⅛@1.07¼.

Fear Rust Damage In Wheat.

No rain was reported of consequence in the spring wheat territory either side of the international line, and there was growing apprehension of black rust damage. It is now being found in southern Manitoba, but the reports of its appearance were not given circulation to any great extent, houses that had them being reticent about putting them out. Cromwell, however, commented on its possible appearance in the Canadian northwest. The Bryant Le Count and Kinyon reports were construed as bullish and led to considerable buying early.

At one time September showed a reaction of 2¼c from the early high, the selling being largely in the way of profit taking based on the fact that values had advanced around 12c from the recent low. On the break there was reinstating of lines sold out on the first bulge, and at no time did the market show any easy undertone. Liverpool, after dragging early, closed 1@2¼d higher. Foreign weather reports were generally more favorable.

Export demand was slow with no sales of consequence reported, and the spot basis at the Gulf was unchanged, with first and last half August held at 6c over Chicago September. Threshing has been resumed in the southwest after having been interrupted by rains. Scattered thundershowers are forecast for the greater part of the belt.

July Corn Easier.

Trade in corn was not large, and while there was a sharp rally at one time in sympathy with wheat the bulges ran into selling orders, and the finish was at intermediate figures with July 5⅝c under the September at the last, showing independent weakness due to a lack of demand. Spot basis here was 1c higher to ½c lower with only moderate offerings to arrive. First trade of the season was made in May corn with sales at 87c or 5c over December.

Oats held within a range of ⅝c with the action of the market largely dominated by wheat. A big trade was on in rye, and while there was considerable selling at times on the break in wheat the undertone was strong and the market developed independent strength toward the last. The three northwestern states have a crop of around 15,000,000 bu, or 20,000,000 bu less than the average of the last five years.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Resellers offered wheat abroad as much as 4½c per bu under first hand offers from this side, and with buyers holding off sales at the seaboard were limited. There was a noticeable lack of pressure of offerings at the gulf.

Chicago handlers sold 67,000 bu corn; 83,000 bu oats, and 13,000 bu barley to the domestic trade and bought 155,000 bu wheat, 75,000 bu corn, 110,000 bu oats, and 3,000 bu barley to arrive. Deliveries on July contracts aggregated 248,000 bu corn, 218,00 bu oats, and 21,000 bu rye.

Demand for cash wheat here was less aggressive and premiums on winters declined 1c with No. 2 red 3@4c and No. 2 hard 4@5c over the July. Two cars of new No. 2 red winter were received from Illinois and applies on to arrive contracts while a car of sample grade new hard winter from northern Iowa with 17.2 per cent moisture sold at $1.41. Practically all of the wheat arriving is from the southwest and going direct to mills and to handlers for shipment to the east. Premiums at Kansas City and St. Louis were unchanged. Spring wheat at Minneapolis was little changed with No. 1 hard and No. 1 dark hard from the southwest quoted at 7@16c over Chicago September.

Offerings of cash corn were not large and the basis 1c higher to ½c lower with No. 2 grades ½@1⅝c under September; No. 3 grades, 2@4c under and No. 4 grades 3@5¼c under September. Outside markets were unchanged to 2c higher with St. Louis showing the most strength.

Demand for cash oats was fair with the basis ¼c lower to ¼c higher. No. 2 white sold at ¼@1c over and No. 3 white ¼c under to ½c over September.

LARD AND MEATS HIGHER

Interest in lard was light, with no great pressure to sell and a limited buying during the morning. In the last hour the strength in grains coupled with small offerings and a little buying sent prices up and made a strong close at net gains on lard of 7½@15c, the latter on January. Meats received more attention and short ribs gained 22½c and bellies 15c. Cash trade in meats was good and in lard light. Lard in Liverpool was 9d to 1s higher.

Packing in the west the last week, as given by the Price Current Grain Reporter, was 621,700 hogs, against 679,200 the previous week and 488,000 last year. Total since March 1 aggregates 11,189,000, against 10,966,000 hogs for the same time last year. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A more friendly feeling toward the buying side of wheat is observable among traders, with a disposition to buy on sharp breaks for quick turns. Prices have had an unusual advance, all things considered, and have gone too fast to suit many of those who would ordinarily buy freely on the character of the news of the last few days. Outside interest has increased, while exporters are not doing much, and there are resellers of wheat at comparatively low prices.

Country holders of wheat are free sellers on bulges. So far the rush of grain has been in the southwest. As harvest in the midwest is late, there has been no movement of new wheat from Illinois and Indiana to Chicago. Indications are that within a week or more Chicago will begin to get a fair run from nearby territory. Thirteen cars of wheat came in on the Eastern Illinois railroad yesterday which was credited to Illinois and Indiana.

Corn prices have had a good advance of late despite the bearishness of the trade in general. To old time corn specialists the market has shown that prices had reached bottom, and despite efforts to depress values further they have advanced. For several days several active local operators have been buyers in an effort to boost prices. Selling of December and buying of September to close spreads by a large local operator was one of the attractive features.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(AP)—The cotton gray cloth market was moderately active today, with prices holding firm. Printers and bleachers bought various print cloths and there was a little more doing in fine combed goods for spot nearby delivery. Broadcloths were in fair demand and sheetings were sold for August and September delivery. Following large corporations' lead, independent manufacturers of tropical weight men's wear opened 1927 lines at reductions of 8 to 12 per cent. Buyers were holding back, being anxious to see surplus retail stocks moving before preparing new schedules. Manufacturers of ribbed and balbriggan will meet Friday to decide on unified opening of 1927 lines.

THE NORTHERN TRUST COMPANY, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, TRUSTEE

A letter to us from Mr. J. Ross Lee, Vice-President of the Company, is summarized by him as follows:

Business and Territory: The Iowa Southern Utilities Company owns and operates an extensive system of electric light and power properties furnishing, without competition, electric light and power at wholesale and retail to 125 thriving towns and cities in the agricultural section of Southern Iowa, a territory 200 miles long and 50 miles wide, including Ottumwa, Burlington, Centerville, Creston, Washington, Grinnell, and Newton. The population is estimated at 200,000. These are long established communities of steady growth, possessing numerous and diversified industries which afford additional markets for electric power. The Company owns and operates the electric interurban railway connecting Centerville, Mystic and Albia, and the street railway systems in Ottumwa and Burlington. Of the net earnings 79.3% is derived from the electric light and power business, 8.4% from railway and 12.3% from gas and steam heat.

Security: These First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds will be direct obligations of Iowa Southern Utilities Company and secured by a direct first mortgage on the electric generating stations and distribution systems at Ottumwa, Creston, Grinnell, and Lamoni and the distribution systems at Cromwell, Kellerton, Pleasanton, Davis City, Brooklyn, Malcom, Newburg, Kellogg, Kilduff, Lineville, Searsboro, Murray, Truro, Peru, New Virginia, and Grand River, together with the transmission lines connecting Creston with Mount Ayr and Chariton and Allerton. The bonds are also secured by mortgage on the remainder of the properties subject only to $4,520,800 divisional bonds.

Gross Earnings	$3,480,085.13
Operating Expenses, including taxes and maintenance	1,971,052.11
Net Earnings (available for interest, depreciation, Federal taxes, etc.)	$1,509,033.02

Mortgage Provisions: The mortgage provides that the Company must set aside or expend a fund each year for maintenance and improvement to the properties; also before the payment of any common stock dividend there shall be set aside in a "Depreciation Fund" a sum amounting to 5% of the gross earnings. Additional bonds may be issued by the Company only under careful restrictions.

Purpose: The proceeds of this issue will be used to reimburse the Company for additions to the properties, for improvements and for other corporate purposes.

Management: The management which has been successfully operating the Company will continue in control.

We offer these bonds when, as and if issued and received by us subject to the approval of counsel. All legal details will be passed upon by Messrs. Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt. It is expected that definitive bonds will be ready for delivery on or about July 28, 1926.

GOOD backing counts for as much in an investment as it does in an individual. There are classes in investments, as there are in society. Good bonds are of the aristocracy.

They are well connected, conservative, dependable. When sponsored by reliable investment dealers, they are good company for your funds to associate with. And yet they are as available for the man or woman of small means as for the wealthiest individual, bank or other institution.

Are your investments of a good family? Or are they unknown orphans, without connections or backing of any sort—devoid even of any individuality of their own?

When you invest in sound Municipal, Public Utility or Industrial Bonds, your money joins the Aristocracy of Safety. May we send you our list of safe bonds?

FINANCIAL NOTES

Imports of crude rubber into the United States in June at all ports aggregated 30,107 tons, against 30,411 tons in May, and 30,337 in June last year, the Rubber Association of America reports. Total importations at all ports for the half year were 208,637 tons, compared with 181,787 tons in the same period of 1925.

The American Smelting and Refining company advanced the price of lead from 8.40c to 8.50c per lb. An advance of 50c a ton for heavy melting steel scrap is reported from the Pittsburgh district. New quotations ranging from $17.00 to $17.25 a ton.

The Keith Car Manufacturing company of Sagamore, Mass., has purchased control of the Standard Tank Car company, Sharon, Pa. The latter company builds tanks for railroad use and steel tanks for storage and other purposes and controls the Standard Transit company, which owns and operates 3,500 tank cars that are leased to oil and railroad companies.

The Universal Gypsum company has changed its name to the Universal Gypsum and Lime company. The change in name follows the company's absorption of the Palmer Lime and Cement company.

Production of refined lead in June amounted to 66,490 tons, a decline of 2,367 tons under the output for May, but a slight increase over April. Production for the half year totaled 401,016 tons, against 384,372 tons in the first half of 1925.

French manufacturers of cast iron pipe, in competition with American companies, have obtained a contract for 14,000 tons of 30 inch cast iron pipe for Amarillo, Tex., through B. Nicoll & Co. This is said to be one of the largest orders placed recently.

Export orders for 8,500 tons of steel rails, comprising 5,000 tons for Central America and 3,500 tons for Cuba, have been given to United States Steel Products company, export subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation.

Production of copper by mines of this country in June was 141,414,000 lbs, a reduction of 5,670,000 lbs from May and smallest month's mine output thus far this year. In the first six months production totaled 432,588 short tons, or 865,176,000 lbs, against 859,584,000 lbs in the first half of last year.

The General Electric company's bookings in the quarter ended June 30 totaled $78,972,062, against $66,468,992 in the second quarter of 1925. Six months bookings were $165,406,720, against $150,315,228 in the same period last year. Earnings for the half year will be issued before the end of July and will be reported quarterly hereafter.

"Orders already on the books assure a better volume for this year than in 1925," said President Humphrey of Westinghouse Air Brake. Unfilled orders of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company as of June 30 aggregated $12,866,000, against $10,787,000 on March 31 and $9,669,730 a year ago.

Chicago stocks were unusually active yesterday and prices generally were higher. A further fractional advance in Morgan Lithograph followed announcement that the company had acquired the Otis Lithograph company and that gross business of the merged concerns will run over $5,000,000 a year. The plants of both concerns are in Cleveland, O., and the merger will permit operating economies. The companies have the major part of the poster lithographing of the motion picture industry and these contracts assure operations at 80 per cent of capacity regardless of seasonal fluctuations in other lithographing business.

Fractional gains also were made by National Standard, Gossard and Illinois Brick. Stewart-Warner, Real Silk Hosiery, and Central and Southwest Utilities warrants were about steady. Swift International declined 1¼ and Auburn Auto lost a small fraction. On small sales, Hupp Motor and American Shipbuilding gained a point each, while Pines Winterfront relapsed 2 points on profit taking.

PLAN 18 STORY BUILDING FOR PLYMOUTH CT.

BY AL CHASE.

Plymouth court is to have another tall building. Joseph H. Beuttas, builder, has purchased a site at Nos. 329 to 333, and contemplates erecting an eighteen story office building, as soon as leases permit. The name of the architect will be announced later.

The site, fronting west seventy feet on Plymouth court, with a depth of ninety-three feet, was bought from Mrs. Alicia L. Byrne for an undisclosed consideration, through Coffey & McKeown, brokers. It is improved with a six story building. This is across the street from the new Standard club and just south of the City and the Harvard-Yale-Princeton clubs.

Selig Film Plant Sold.

The property formerly used by the Selig Polyscope company at Western, Claremont and Bryon has been sold by the Union Trust company, as trustees, to Max Goldstine, Peter J. Schaefer and others for an undisclosed consideration, through Mark Levy & Brother. It fronts 440 feet on Western and Claremont and 264 on Byron.

There are nine buildings on the property, all used for manufacturing purposes, containing a total floor area of approximately 71,711 square feet. This property was bought by Selig when the film industry was in its infancy and Selig was an important cog in General Film, which then controlled the picture industry.

The buildings were all erected for film uses but as Hollywood gradually captured the movie business Selig moved west. The property was sold in 1922 and taken back early in 1924 under a foreclosure decree for approximately $275,000. The new owners have no immediate plans for the improvement or disposition of the property.

Buys Du Page County Acres.

E. L. Adams, real estate dealer, has bought 157 acres on Butterfield road, extending north to the 22nd street section line, from George W. Boeger for $205,000, according to Lindheimer & Wells, brokers. Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautman & Levinson, Carnahan & Slusser and Edgar B. Fischer were attorneys.

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Alternate periods of heaviness and strength characterized today's stock market. Prices started upward soon after the opening under the leadership of General Motors, which attained another new record high at 161⅜, turned downward around midday when weakness developed in some of the food stocks and then bounded upward again in the last hour under the stimulus of aggressive pool operations in Dodge Brothers A and a few specialties. Total sales were 1,829,200 shares.

While operators for the advance were again forced to contend with a large volume of selling for both accounts, based on the speculative theory that a technical reaction was overdue they were aided by a series of constructive trade developments.

Advance in Rails Checked.

The advance in the rails has slowed up temporarily although a strong investment demand is reported for several of the high grade issues. In some quarters there is a tendency to await further developments in the negotiations for the adoption of the revised Nickel Plate plans because of the opposition which has developed in the last few days. Uncertainty over the interstate commerce commission's decision on applications for a revision of freight rates on western roads was another restraining factor.

Frequent shifting of speculative interest took place in the industrial group, with more than a score issues mounting to new high levels for the year. At the close the average of 20 leading industrials showed a small net loss, but final quotations also disclosed a varied list of individual net gains ranging from 1 to 4 points.

Motors Gains 1¼ Points.

General Motors closed 1¼ points net higher at 159¾, with total sales running over 175,000 shares. Dodge Brothers A was bid up 2½ points to 31⅛ on sales of over 75,000 shares. Other outstanding strong spots were Bethlehem Steel, Bush Terminal, Commercial Solvents B, General Electric, International Harvester, International Nickel, Westinghouse Manufacturing and Westinghouse Air Brake.

$500 and $1,000 Bonds. Maturing Semi-Annually 2½ to 15 Years. Interest Payable Jan. 1 and July 1

Security—These Bonds are secured by a Closed First Mortgage on valuable land, 160 x 125 feet, owned in fee, and comprising what is considered the most active corner in the heart of Gary, Indiana; nine-story and basement, hotel, apartment, store and Commercial Club building of fireproof construction, to contain 354 rooms; furnishings, equipment and earnings.

Valuation—Independent expert appraisal of the property, when completed, places the total value at $2,875,000, which makes this Issue a 59% loan; substantial serial payments of principal semi-annually increase the already large margin of security.

Assured Income—The structure will be leased to C. G. and C. L. Holden for 25 years at a net annual rental of $198,500 for five years and $173,500 for twenty years, which is considerably more than sufficient to meet annual interest charges and principal payments. The Messrs. Holden are nationally known through their experience for more than 30 years in the operation and management of first class hotels and prominent clubs in the larger cities.

Approval of Project—Plans for the new hotel and the method of financing have been approved by the Gary Land Company, subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, which has been instrumental in the rapid development of the City of Gary. Unqualified approval of the new hotel has also been given by the Chamber of Commerce and The Commercial Club of Gary, the latter organization having taken a 20-year lease on space in the building.

Ownership and Personal Guarantee—The Bonds are a direct obligation of the Hotel Gary Company, headed by Marcello Gerometta, who is a leading contractor and builder in Gary, having erected many buildings for the steel corporation and other prominent concerns. In addition, Mr. Gerometta personally guarantees the prompt payment to investors of principal and interest.

Safeguards for Bondholders—The Trust Deed provides for monthly deposits in advance with Greenebaum Sons Bank and Trust Company, to meet interest and principal payments. Mortgage Title Guarantee Policy and Fire Insurance Policies are held for the benefit of Bondholders. Completion of the building is guaranteed to investors.

STEEL BUSINESS FOR JULY SHOWS GAIN OVER JUNE

BY O. A. MATHER.

With midsummer at hand, there still is no sign of a slump in the steel industry. The United States Steel corporation is operating at 85 per cent of capacity and incoming orders for the first ten days of this month averaged 2,000 tons a day higher than in the corresponding period in June. Independent companies are operating around 75 per cent of capacity.

"The stepping down from 92 per cent in March to 88 in April, 84 in May and 80 in June is an unusually gradual decline," the Iron Age says. "It is expected the 4 per cent gap will widen somewhat this month, but to no marked extent. If the average operation should prove to be 75 per cent, or slightly less, it still would be well above the 65 per cent of July, 1925.

Shipments at Better Prices.

"While some of the heavier products are not figuring in mill shipments to the same extent as in the spring months, there is sustained consumption in a wide range of other finished forms which promises an exceptional July-August operation of mills. Shipments in the second quarter were at a rate which represents good economy in production and at better prices than the average for the like period last year.

"Incoming tonnage has been better than seemed reasonable to expect and the customary dullness of the July-August period is not yet in sight," the Iron Trade says. "A number of mills, particularly in the Chicago district, find themselves with virtually 60 days business on hand. Further buying of pig iron for the third quarter and last half year delivery has added over 200,000 tons, bringing the grand total of the present remarkable coverage movement since June 1 to approximately 1,600,000 tons."

Trade Outlook Favorable.

Predictions that generally satisfactory business conditions will prevail during the next three months in the middle west were made in reports presented at a meeting of the Midwest Shippers Advisory board at Davenport, Ia. Increased business, compared with a year ago, was forecast for dairy products, soap, agricultural implements, clay products, iron and steel, confectionery, grain and corn products, fresh fruits and vegetables.

Continuation of about the same level of activity as in the third quarter of 1925 was predicted for furniture, scrap iron, canned goods, groceries and food products, and livestock. Decreases were forecast for lumber, paper and pulp products, sand, gravel and crushed stone, and hides and leather. The forecasts were made by each committee for the territory covered by the board, which includes Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and parts of Indiana and Michigan.

A. T. T. Earnings Increasing.

Expansion of its business and increasing earnings were reported by the American Telephone and Telegraph company, one of the largest American corporations, yesterday.

"The business maintains its usual increase at a rate considerably greater than the increase in population," President Walter S. Gifford said. "This means not only a numerical increase of telephone users but also a greater number of users in proportion to the population."

The company had net income of $55,917,345 for the first half of 1926 after taxes and charges, equal to $6.05 a share on the average number of shares outstanding during the period, against $52,341,128 or $5.80 a share in the first half of 1925. The amount of stock outstanding in the last half of the year will be substantially increased by the company's issue of $154,000,000 of new stock payable from August 2.

The stock of Butler Brothers was listed on the Chicago stock exchange yesterday and trading will begin today.

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, July 14.—(AP)—Confused price movements characterized today's curb market. Prices sold off around midday after a firm opening, but registered irregular recovery during the afternoon. An extreme gain of 6 points in Standard Oil of Kentucky, nearly half of which was lost in a late wave of realizing, was the outstanding feature in the oil group.

Motors held relatively firm, a gain of 1⅝ points in Federal being the only change of consequence. Baking shares moved within narrow and irregular limits. Consolidated Laundries lost ground on profit taking. A bear drive against American Rayon broke that stock 5 points to a new low record for the year at 15, but it recovered half its loss before the close.

Sharp gains were again recorded by a number of ordinarily inactive specialties, including Alpha Portland Cement, Blaw Knox, Bucyrus, Moore Drop Forge, and Procter & Gamble. Establishment of a new high record for the year at 21 by Hazeltine featured the radio group. A 2 point gain in Electric Bond and Share stood out in the public utility section.

Reactionary tendencies predominated in the bond market, prices of virtually all domestic corporation issues worked lower, but several foreign obligations and most of the United States government bonds moved counter to the general trend.

The initial reaction of Liberty and treasury bonds to the upward revision of money rates placed the prices of these issues at levels which were attractive to certain classes of investors. Several large buying orders were placed and the bonds regained virtually all of the ground recently lost.

The possibility of virtual financial dictatorships in France and Belgium strengthened these bonds. French government 7½s and 8s and the Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean 7s were exceptionally strong. German issues also retained their popularity, the Agricultural Bank 7s crossing par for the first time.

FOREIGN TRADE UP HALF BILLION ON HUGE IMPORTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—The country's foreign trade in the fiscal year ended last month was in excess of $9,000,000,000, an increase of more than $500,000,000 over 1924-'25. The huge gain was entirely in import trade, the total value of which was $4,466,687,493, an increase of $642,559,118.

Export trade totaled $4,753,516,204, a decline of $111,064,960 from last year, reducing the favorable trade balance to $286,828,711, as compared to $1,040,452,789 a year ago. In spite of the marked reduction in the merchandise export surplus, there were net imports of gold of more than $97,000,000.

"The marked decrease in the trade balance is due to a slight decrease, about 2½ per cent, in the value of exports, chiefly because of lower prices for cotton and decreased grain production, and an unusual increase—about 17 per cent—in the value of imports," Secretary of Commerce Hoover stated.

"The increase in imports is due to larger quantities of raw materials, natural in prosperous times, and to the increase in prices of some lines," Mr. Hoover explained. He pointed out that "the average import cost of rubber per pound was more than twice as high this fiscal year as last."

"The decrease in exports was substantially confined to grains and cotton," he continued. "Exports of foodstuffs of all classes fell off by $270,000,000, the decrease in grains alone being nearly that much."

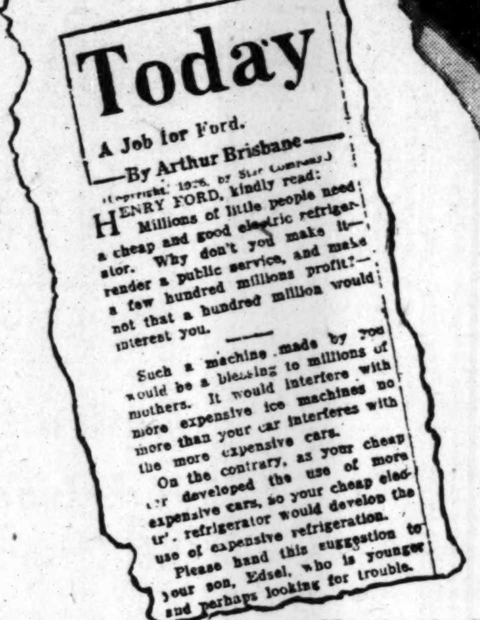
Here It Is,
Mr. Brisbane



Today

A Job for Ford.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright, 1926, by Star Company.)

HENRY FORD, kindly read: Millions of little people need a cheap and good electric refrigerator. Why don't you make it—render a public service, and make a few hundred millions profit?—not that a hundred million would interest you.

Such a machine made by you would be a blessing to millions of mothers. It would interfere no more expensive ice machines no more than your car interferes with the more expensive cars.

On the contrary, as your cheap car developed the use of more expensive cars, so your cheap electr. refrigerator would develop the use of expensive refrigeration.

Please hand this suggestion to your son, Edsel, who is younger and perhaps looking for trouble.

REVOLUTIONARY

By Far the Lowest-Priced Complete Electric Refrigerator in America

COPELAND has taken the most decisive step forward in electric refrigeration since it was first made practical for the home! Convinced that the public understood and wanted this great convenience, Copeland gave its engineers the task of creating a complete electric refrigerator that should be within the means of all the public rather than a fortunate fraction. The task is complete. The result is revolutionary. Not only has cost been lowered — design has been vastly improved and service brought to the maximum of efficiency.

Built of Eternal Steel

The new Copeland is built of steel for unending service, beautifully finished in enduring white pyroxylin. It is insulated with solid corkboard and metal-lined in clean, sanitary white. The cooling section, with trays where 108 ice cubes can be frozen at a time, is built in one unit on a cork insulated base which forms the top of the cabinet. Here great savings in production costs are made, to be passed on to you. In the rare instances when attention is needed, the service man lifts off the complete cooling unit and replaces it temporarily with a loaned unit in about the same length of time it now takes to fill your present refrigerator with ice.

Ample Food Storage

Five and three-quarters cubic feet of food storage space makes the new Copeland fully adequate for the average family. Compactness makes it practical for the tiniest bungalow or kitchenette—its outside dimensions are: width, 26¼ inches; depth, 21 inches; height 62½ inches. And food is kept perfectly in crisp, dry air constantly maintained well below 50°. Ice cubes and delicious frozen desserts can always be available.

Installed Like an Ice Box

The new Copeland is a complete, automatic refrigerating and storage unit, with no need of basement installations or pipe connections of any kind. It is brought to your home as an ordinary ice box would be, the unit dropped into place and the cord plugged into the nearest convenience outlet. In five minutes you are in full possession of the greatest of all home conveniences in its most modern and economical form. There is nothing to equal it at its price. No other can match its low upkeep. A few cents a day covers the cost of the current the compact unit consumes.

Sold on Amazing Terms

Through a special arrangement the Cusack Home Utilities Company and its dealers are able to offer amazing terms to purchasers of the new model Copeland. Although its price is so low that most people can easily pay the complete amount at once, there is no need of that. A fraction of the price when the order is placed assures immediate installation, and you pay for it as you enjoy its convenience, in monthly payments just a trifle greater than your average ice bill is now:

On Display Today

You can see the revolutionary new model Copeland today at the beautiful display room of the Cusack Home Utilities Company or at any of its dealers.

Provision has been made for a big demand, but there is every likelihood of a volume of orders that will soon make immediate delivery difficult and perhaps impossible. We urge you to see the new Copeland today for your own protection.

The Law of the Talon

By Louis Tracy.

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Parke, Hudson Bay company's agent at Moose Lake, is greatly disturbed by a news item in an English paper announcing the coming marriage of Alistair Spencer Panton to Eileen Grant and referring to the prospective bridegroom as the heir presumptive to Lord Oban, whose only son, John Bridgnorth Panton, disappeared some years ago and whose death is about to be presumed by law. Parks decides to leave Moose Lake and go back to England.

Arrived at Edmonton, he tells Mr. Leslie, temporary head of the Hudson Bay company, that he is John Bridgnorth Panton. Maple, Leslie's daughter, is a sympathetic listener to the tale and she encourages her father to help young Panton.

In the meantime, Eileen Grant is married in London to Alistair Panton. Immediately after the ceremony she learns that John Panton is alive and is on his way to England to claim an inheritance left him by his aunt. Lord Oban, John Panton's father, tells Eileen that his son had been dismissed from the army for cowardice under fire and drunkenness and that he is unable to forgive him. Eileen goes off to Inverlochtie with Alistair as planned, but she tells him that she will not live with him as his wife until the matter about John is settled to her satisfaction.

John accompanied by his dog, Spot, arrives in England. He carries a letter of introduction to Mr. Leslie's brother, a lawyer, living at Wimbledon. The Leslie invite him to stay with them, and he accepts their hospitality. Shortly afterward Maple arrives.

While walking through the streets of London John meets an old army friend, Sir Arthur Frensham, who tells him that he has evidence that he had been drugged by one of his men on the fatal day he refused to lead his men out of the trenches.

John imparts this bit of information to Mr. Leslie and the latter calls a meeting at his home of Inspector Winter of Scotland Yard, his assistant, Furneaux, Mr. Mountford, judge of the Probate court, and Frensham.

Eileen reads letters which come from John to his father and to Alistair, and she is confirmed in her belief of John's innocence. She quarrels bitterly with Alistair, and writes to John, asking him to come to Inverlochtie. On his arrival there he discovers that Connington, one of the men of his former regiment, has just arrived, presumably to see Alistair, and his suspicions are again aroused against his cousin.

John meets Eileen in the village and she tells him her faith is unshaken. That night after dinner Alistair walked down to the lake and he is hardly out of sight of the house when a police whistle disturbs the neighborhood. Alistair is found dead on the boat house pier and presumably has been murdered.

INSTALLMENT LVIII.

CONNINGTON ELUDES THE SEARCHERS.

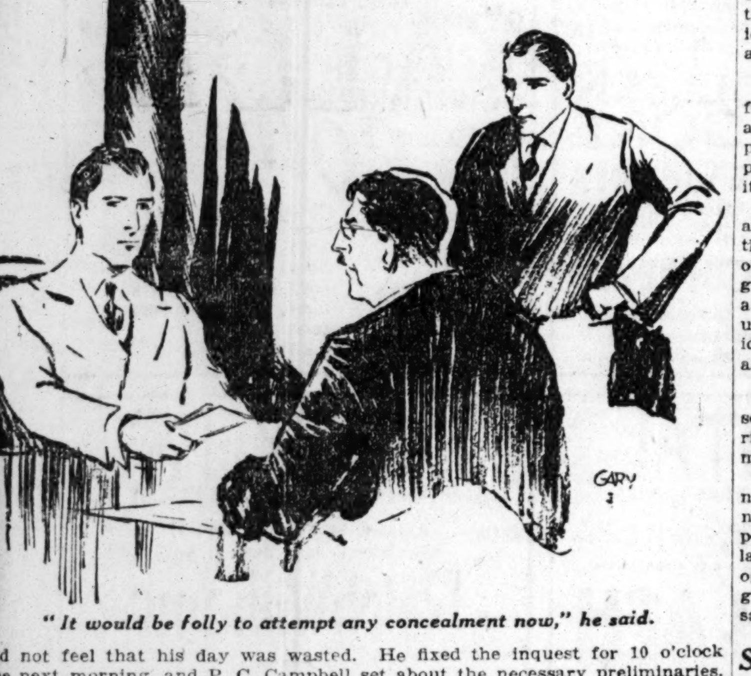
Sheldon's speech, of course, was a sop to the inspector for an overnight reticence. Probably it served its purpose. At any rate, Sheldon heard no more of any grievance in that respect.

Campbell, too, did admirably. His evidence did not deviate a hair's breadth from the literal truth. He showed that the dog's leash was attached the instant he became excited, and that man and dog together found Alistair's body. Moreover, Spot was not at all concerned about the dead man. He was eager only to reach the water's edge. When given his head he went straight to the small stanchion to which, presumably, Connington's boat was tied.

Here Sheldon thought it advisable to strike in. With the lucidity born of long practice he lent a definite sequence to a number of apparently chaotic incidents. Dingwall was a man of the judicial mind, and eminently reasonable withal. When, an hour later, Angus Macpherson, Col. Grant's gillie, brought specially from Loch Inver for the purpose of telling what little he knew, had described the man and dog he had seen crossing the roadway, the procurator-fiscal had utterly abandoned the fantastic theory that Spot might have killed Alistair.

The inspector was the next to take action. He had already circulated a recognizable description of Connington, but Lord Oban, Betty, the butler, and Minter, the village grocer, were able to add specific facts as to the man's clothing and appearance which would help materially in identification, so he hurried back to Mallaig.

The doctor, after more detailed examination by daylight, was led to accept the boat hook theory of that deadly wound. So, after all, Mr. Dingwall did not feel that his day was wasted. He fixed the inquest for 10 o'clock the next morning, and P. C. Campbell set about the necessary preliminaries.



"It would be folly to attempt any concealment now," he said.

The day wore, yet there came no news from the hills. Frensham and Lansing, finding time heavy on their hands, got together a second party of scouts, and crossed the loch. They vanished like the others. Six, seven o'clock came, but no one returned. It was fully eight before the launch, now in working order, towed a couple of boats back to the north side. All the searchers were on board. They had been vouchsafed neither sight nor sound of Connington or Spot. Many square miles of wild country lying east and south of Inverlochtie had been scoured most thoroughly. The utterly barren and impracticable district to the north must be dealt with next day, together with the ten miles westward to Mallaig. In this latter direction, however, Connington's ultimate escape was almost impossible, because it ended in a bottle neck, and the road, traversed at all hours of the day by vehicles and bicyclists, ran along the watershed in many sections.

But if the long hours proved disappointingly blank for the people mainly concerned in the extraordinary crime which had shaken the little community like a sharp and destructive earthquake, they provided sensation in plenty for the outside world. By midday the newspapers throughout the kingdom were publishing the first vague and carefully worded accounts of the affair. At first there was a complete avoidance of that ugly word murder. But, as the press correspondents began to arrive on the scene and depart even more hurriedly than they came, so as to reach a telegraph wire, comment grew more open and description more detailed. Files were searched at headquarters for the half forgotten reports of the legal proceedings which restored John Panton to a legacy and a recognized existence. "The Inverlochtie Tragedy—Latest," figured in many headlines that evening, while the morning newspapers might be expected to contain columns of excitement. The mere presence of the Scotland Yard men in that remote place was highly significant. It added to the piquancy of a strange story in which a fugitive criminal, pursued by an exceptionally intelligent dog, was being sought for among the hills. There was no rival sensation in the field. Though the statement would be scoffed at by every true highlander, millions of people were made aware that day that such places as Mallaig and Inverlochtie existed.

Sheldon was hard put to it when he had to decide whether the police should avoid the newspaper men altogether, or sate their appetite by a reasonable detailed account of the actual crime. He elected in favor of the latter course. He knew well that no efforts by the authorities could stop all tongues from wagging. It was better that some of the truth should be allowed to appear rather than the wild rumors which were already current throughout the countryside. So Campbell and the inspector, when he came back, were primed with the accepted version. It sufficed, for a little while. Next day's inquest, of course, would widen the field. It was simply hopeless to think of muzzling the press when a news item of such dramatic scope was available for public consumption.

Tired though he was, John Panton agreed to meet Mr. Dingwall forthwith. Happily, Furneaux rushed into a bath. His bones were so stiff after mountaineering on the back of a pony that he would certainly be in a very bad temper, and feathers might have been ruffled. As it was, John's recital fitted into its place quite easily. He made no effort to palliate that provocative letter. He regretted ever having written it, and said so.

"I was an angry man that day," he explained, almost curtly. "My world had gone wrong, and I was ready to lash out at everything and every one."

"The position had eased considerably before you came north, I take it?"

"Yes, and no. I was taking life more philosophically, perhaps, but when the call for action came I was ready."

"It would be folly to attempt any concealment now," he said. "Read that and you will understand. Then this, and this," handing over Betty's letters. "I'm sorry Alistair died as he did, Mr. Dingwall, but there cannot be the least doubt that he was in for a horribly bad time had he lived."

The lawyer looked grave as he went through the three documents.

"You must be aware, Mr. Panton," he said, "that in the absence of certain almost accidental circumstances which point to another man's guilt, you would now be in an extraordinarily difficult position?"

"Of course I know it," said John, simply. "Why should I require telling that a man can be convicted wrongfully by due process of law?"

Mr. Dingwall coughed. That was not exactly what he meant. However, he saw fit to get away from that particular aspect of the affair.

"No one living in this part of Scotland could fail to have heard of your unhappy experience," he went on. "There are allusions here," and he tapped the sheets of note paper in his hand, "which point to matters quite outside the scope of this inquiry. At least, I hope it may prove to be so."

America Great, Irish Primate Tells His People

Chicago Congress Fine Success, He Says.

BY ROBERT SAYERS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELFAST, Ireland, July 14.—Cardinal O'Donnell of Armagh was greeted enthusiastically today on his return from the Eucharistic congress in Chicago.

"The Chicago congress was a glorious success," the cardinal said, in replying to a welcome address. "One session of it would have amply compensated for any trouble in going so far to those celebrations. The mind of America was fully attuned and, although it is a land of different religions, there was a feeling of respect on all sides for the Eucharistic congress

"America is a wonderful country for those who visit it for the first time, and even with peoples of all nations pouring into it the great western republic retains a wonderful individuality among the nations of the world.

"America brings the assimilation of all peoples, who are made one, and that one people is a mighty human organism with a great purpose and a great life. There is no foundation for attributing a worldly spirit to America unless one takes it into his head to identify worldliness with greatness and success.

"America undoubtedly has its mind set on intellectual greatness and material greatness, but it is also determined not to let religion lag behind.

"Greatness of intellect and greatness of material progress alone will never satisfy the heart of that great people. There is abroad in that great land a feeling for God as well as recognition of the rights of man that gives religion a splendid chance to sanctify and to save."

New Hourly Nursing Service Instituted by Education Council

An innovation that is destined to bring relief, both financial and otherwise, to those requiring the services of a graduate nurse for a part of the day only, was introduced yesterday by the Central Council for Nursing Education, with the announcement of a new hourly nursing service in Chicago.

The Central council, comprising the leading hospitals of the city and the first district of the Illinois State Association of Graduate Nurses, which takes in 3,600 hospital trained nurses, have combined in the institution of this new service. By this arrangement one nurse will be able to serve several patients on a given day, thus reducing the cost to the patient.

The Chicago Nurses' Club and Registry, 116 South Michigan avenue, will handle requests for the service and assign hourly nurses while continuing to supply full time nurses.

The service is limited to three hours daily, and the charge will be $2 for the first hour or fraction thereof, and $1 for the second and third hours, or fraction thereof.

Under the hourly service plan, when a physician sends his hospital patient home, he can be assured that with the services of an hourly nurse, baths, dressings and hypodermics will be properly administered, that the new mother will have assistance in carrying out instructions in the care of the infant, and that those caring for chronic cases will have relief at stated intervals.

Aside from the immense saving to the patient, the new service relieves families living in hotels or in small apartments from the, at times, embarrassing problem of providing food and lodging for a full time nurse.

Astors Depart Today for McCormick Farm

Viscount Waldorf Astor and his young son, William Waldorf Astor, who left his English school to spend the "long vacation" in America, today will conclude their three day Chicago program of education via the pleasure route, when they leave by motor this morning for Byron, Ill., to visit the farm of Mrs. Medill McCormick. Mrs. McCormick, at whose town house, 1100 Lake Shore drive, the Astors have been stopping, returns today from Willoughby, O., where she was called by the death of her aunt, and will accompany her guests to Byron.

Later in the day Lord Astor and his son will motor on to Joliet, where they will board the Santa Fé limited en route to the Grand Cañon, Ariz., California, and the Canadian Rockies. The last of August they will journey to Maine, there to meet Lady Astor and the other children and to visit with Lady Astor's sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, and her husband.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

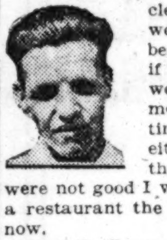
The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question J. L. Evert, 628 Grace street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Would you want a girl to prove she is a good cook before you asked her to marry you?

The Answers.

Guy Webb, Oklahoma City, newspaper reporter—On the spur of the moment I would say yes. I'm not married, am used to good cooking at home, and it is quite certain that for a wife good cooking would figure as an item. I would want her to invite me to her home for dinner and show me she can cook.



Albert Linn, 15 East Monroe street, clerk—Yes, I would. I would like the girl to be a good cook, because if she wasn't there wouldn't be any enjoyment at home at mealtime, and mealtimes either make or break the day. If the meals were not good I would want to dine in a restaurant the same as I am doing now.

John P. Gregg, 2222 Leland avenue, accountant—I don't believe that would matter much. My wife was a good cook when I married her—that was my good luck; I didn't know it. That isn't the all important matter in choosing a wife, but it is important that she have in her the making of a good cook.

O. W. Wagner, Elmhurst, college student—Not at all. If the girl is willing to learn the meals will be at least enough to live on until she gets next to the trick. I think the fellow ought to be willing to help the young wife, making it a fifty-fifty proposition even with the wife's cooking.

John Landers, 5600 Normal avenue, chauffeur—Yep, that's what I'd want. I live at home and mother is as fine a cook as there is. If I get a wife that is one-tenth as good a cook as she is, I am lucky. Most girls one sees around this town are clever at a lot of things, but I wonder if they can prepare good meals.

Lowden Learns How Danes Keep Boys on Farms

Schools Teach Them to Make Soil Pay.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ODENSE, Denmark, July 14.—Frank O. Lowden, Illinois' former governor, after putting in a thirteen hour day studying Danish agricultural education yesterday, started before 8 a. m. today on another long day of hard work.

Accompanied by the American commercial attaché at Copenhagen, Harry Sorenson, and THE TRIBUNE correspondent, Mr. Lowden left Copenhagen at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, motoring to the island of Fyen, where probably the best farming in the world is done. The island is the birthplace of the coöperative marketing movement. We arrived at Odense, which is the capital of Fyen and the third largest city of Denmark, in time for lunch and after lunch we visited the famous agricultural college at Balum, the leading institution of its kind in Denmark.

Unlike the case with most American agricultural schools, virtually 100 per cent of the students at Balum return to the farm, applying to the soil of Denmark the lessons they have learned.

"Balum," said Mr. Lowden, "has solved the problem of getting scientific agricultural knowledge back to the farm."

Balum's 250 students are virtually all farmers' sons who take a nine months' course. The farms run in connection with the school, pay their own expenses, and make a profit, so that the students see the beneficial effects of the theories put into practice.

The school is a private enterprise governed by an association of alumni who return every year for the reunion and a series of lectures explaining the latest developments and discoveries in agricultural science. Out of 7,000 graduates in forty years, 3,000 are now active members of the alumni association.

The most interesting visit of the day was to the famous Ollerup Gymnastics High school, under the direction of Niels Buck, who is one of the most famous teachers of gymnastics in Europe and who was a Danish farmer until he was 28 years old. We found there thirty-three American school teachers who had come to study the Danish system and they voiced loud praises for the Buck plan of education.

Sally Picks Circus Party Guests Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

I suppose you're wondering, girls and boys, who my lucky hundred guests will be at our circus party a week from today. I'm wondering, too, but I'm going to find out today, so I can let you know next Sunday. It's going to be hard because every one expects to have a wonderful time and the best hundred will be difficult to choose.

I'm not surprised, though, at the fine letters when the circus is going to be so much fun. I can't begin to tell you all the new things we'll see—but I can't help telling you about one. The circus this year has some wonderful acrobats from South America—the Yacobs, from Rio de Janeiro—and not only do they stand on each other's shoulders three high but they actually work four high! Won't you like to see people strong enough, and skilled enough, to do that?

And the circus has more than eight hundred performers—so this act will be only one treat in the whole wonderful afternoon.

Now a word to my guests at today's party to see Colleen Moore in "Ella Cinders" at the Chicago theater. You have your invitations by now, and I hope you're all set to come. But be sure you're there on time, because the Chicago theater tells me there will be lots to see, and you wouldn't want to miss any of the fun by being late.

LONDON, June 14.—Sylvia Thompson, author of "Hounds of Spring," which is a best seller both in America and England, will be wed to Peter Luling of Wanham, near here, tomorrow. She is 22 years old and wrote her first novel when she was only 16. She and her fiancé are students together at Oxford.

Algonquin Shortage in Swimming Suits Is Relieved in Part

A welcome gift from G. O. Ballin, proprietor of a men's clothing store at 64th street and Ashland avenue, yesterday provided bathing suits for eight small youngsters at Camp Algonquin.

Appreciated as it was, Mr. Ballin's gift goes but a short way toward relieving the dire shortage of swim suits that prevails at the camp where the daily splash is the most coveted of the day's adventures.

Not one in a score of the children who come to the camp possesses such a luxury as a swimming suit, consequently the less fortunate ones are compelled either to resort to such makeshifts as old aprons—as good in many instances as their Sunday best—or to stand miserably on the shore, watching their companions frolic.

At least one hundred suits would be required to provide this season's groups with an opportunity for the water frolic. If any manufacturer or merchant has on hand a quantity of the suits that are either slightly damaged or represent broken lines that cannot be disposed of profitably, Camp Algonquin would welcome them with shrieks of delight and with untold gratitude.

Woman Calls Her Sisters Weak Straws in Wind of Fashion

Des Moines, Ia., July 14.—[U. N.]—Women dress revealingly to attract men, but short and even shorter skirts are not demanded by women. They are products of dress manufacturers' designers who seek to make dresses with the least amount of cloth.

In these words Mme. Hall, middle aged modiste of Leavenworth, Kas., explained to delegates attending the national convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs the reasons for dresses which are worn high and are gradually going higher.

Questioned as to whether girls of the middle west would adopt fashion's latest edict, elevating knee length dresses now in vogue four inches higher, Mme. Hall said:

"Certainly. Girls from the Kansas wheat fields and Iowa corn country dress as well as their eastern or western sisters and if the manufacturers give them dresses without skirts they will wear them.

"Booth Tarkington has made the statement that the woman fifty years hence would wear no dresses at all. I would say that at the present rate of abbreviations woman will go unclothed in half that time.

"She has been likened to a bungalow—a painted front, shingled top, and no upper story—and that illustration is oftentimes correct. But I have abiding faith in the so-called flapper of today, no matter how she dresses."

Jazz Age Nears End, Is View of Bishop Manning

N. Y. Prelate Has Faith in Youth of Today.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The end of the jazz age is in sight, said the Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, Episcopal bishop of New York, today, when he sailed aboard the Cunard liner Berengaria for a vacation abroad with his wife and two daughters, the Misses Elizabeth and Frances Manning.

BISHOP MANNING.

"None who read history," said Bishop Manning, "can think that the world is growing worse. On the whole, it is becoming better.

"Smoking and drinking among women is but a part of the jazz period and is beginning to right itself. The young of this age have too much sense to continue this sort of thing. A canvass of colleges recently indicated that less liquor is being consumed.

"The jazz age has reached its peak and we are coming to a more normal outlook. Music, literature, and the other departments of life have reflected the jazz age, but they, too, are showing signs of returning to normalcy.

"Because of the sincerity and desire to face facts, the youth of this age, more than in any other age, is asserting itself through its religion and good sense. They will right themselves."

Dr. Manning, who will attend a meeting of the continuation committee at Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 23 to 25, as a representative of the Episcopal church, is hopeful of the eventual reunion of Protestants and Catholics in one church. For the last ten years a committee has been planning a world conference on "faith and order," to be held at Lausanne in August, 1927.

That meeting, Dr. Manning trusts, will result in unity of all Christians.

"We hope in time it will lead to complete unity," he said.

One of the first questions to be taken up will be uniform laws for marriage and divorce in all churches.

Here's Tardy Eulogy for Lightning Rod Salesmen

People who believe in the efficacy of lightning rods are not silly, members of the agricultural committee of the National Fire Waste council were told yesterday by Prof. G. I. Christin of Purdue university. He asserted that lightning caused a major share of rural fire losses and that properly installed rods would protect buildings. His estimate of the annual fire toll on farms was $150,000,000.

Members of Fair Sex Should Play Fair, Contends Doris

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am in love with a young man a few years my senior. I was introduced to him at a party given by my girl friend's sister. I did not see him for six months, until I was invited to a picnic at which he was present, but with another girl. I fell in love with him, but I don't know what to do because of this girl. His friends say he goes steadily with her, but he showed me some attention. I think he cares for me a little and I would like you to advise me if I should try to win him. KID BOOTS."

You are one of those modern gals we hear about, Kid Boots, who wants what she wants when she sees it. It is probably quite an improvement on the old ways of seeing what you would like for a husband and never raising a hand to get him.

But—I'm wondering if the odds are against you a bit in this case—if you wouldn't give yourself a better run for your energy if you aimed for a gentleman with no encumbrances at all. A girl a man is going steadily with is somewhat of an encumbrance, you know. There is so little you can do to get her out of the way and keep within the law.

I wouldn't give many counts in your favor to the fact that he paid you some attention. Men are inclined to be pleasant to everybody when they have a girl along whose mere presence puts them in a good humor. He brought the other girl to the picnic and he took her home from it. And he let six months go by after meeting you without attempting to hunt you up.

I just think it would be waste of time, somehow, and then, too, I have an old-fashioned idea that there ought to be fair play between girls. If he is the other one's suitor, why not let her have him? It isn't as if there weren't a lot more good fish in the pond, and a girl with your go-getting spirit shouldn't have any difficulty landing something.

This may be running contrary to that old axiom about all being fair in love and war, but my chief motive is to save you the experience of running after some one who might embarrass you with his indifference. And unrequited love doth make a lady wan and sad, which is not a becoming rôle for our modern girls, at all.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Yarmouth Bloaters.

The red herring is quite universally popular among men eaters. It is piquant and vigorous of flavor. A boy seeing some bloater fritters and tasting of them, even though they were cold, decided that they were one of the things he could make while camping in the Yellowstone with a party of friends, among whom he would be chief cook.

It is said that even the French say of the Yarmouth bloater that it is the model red herring, superior to all other kinds of herring, either salted or smoked, and this is certainly the height of something in the way of commendation.

Since the English eat red herring in unbelievable quantities, besides making an infinite number of jokes about it, often illustrated in black and white or colors, one would expect to find many recipes for the use of it in their cook books, but there are but few, even in those of the renowned Mrs. Beeton, the voluminous. Her largest cook book contains over 2,000 pages.

But it was in one of the small ones that we found the recipe for "bloater fritters," which we found needed some altering, but when fixed up and used with pieces of the fish gave an interesting and "tasty" product.

With the revisions the quantities are: One cup flour, two tablespoons of melted butter, one tablespoon of cream, the yolk of one egg, the whites of two, and about half a cup of tepid water. Following the English method, sieve flour and salt, and work into it the yolk of the egg, butter, and cream, stirring well and then gradually work in the water. Beat this all well and set it aside for at least half an hour, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. It was when the batter had stood for half an hour that it had changed to a dough and had to be thinned before the whites could be folded in to make a batter of frying thickness. The character of the flour will have a great influence here.

For the bloater fritters add to this frying batter one ounce of cheese, beating it in well, coat good sized pieces of fish in it, and fry in deep fat until light brown. Serve as hot as possible.

A Friend in Need

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

A Small Request.

"I wonder if any one has a stamp album or any foreign postage stamps he does not want. I am a tuberculosis patient and I would like to start a stamp collection. M. B."

This poor fellow has so little to fill the long hours, I hope some one will have the album and the stamps he wants. It is such a trifle to ask!

Asks for a Tent.

"I wonder if any of your readers has a discarded tent? We have eight children, the oldest is 13 and the youngest is 3 months old. My husband is not well and his wages are small. We could get out in the country over Sunday if we had a tent for over night. MRS. C. W."

Have you the tent to make the summer a healthy and happy one for this large family? They'd enjoy it so much and it might be the means of restoring the father's health.

Has Written a Book.

"Has any one a typewriter he or she is no longer using? I have written a book and want to submit it, but manuscripts must be typewritten. "MRS. H. W."

Can you assist our authoress with the typewriter she needs to be a success?

Offers an Organ.

"I have an organ in good condition which I will give away. I would like to know if you could find some one who would like it. MRS. G. S."

How would you like to have this organ Mrs. G. S. so generously offers? Write us for it.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Five year old Ben, convalescent from a slight attack of the flu, and thoroughly enjoying the fuss that was being made over him, was explaining the seriousness of his illness to one of his playmates who had just dropped in to see him.

"One night," said Ben, who loved to exaggerate, "I was so sick my temperature went up to over a hundred in the shade." I. F.

Buddy was visiting his aunt. It being his first vacation without his mother and being only 4 years old, he was quite brave until the first week-end. Aunty noticed that he felt pretty blue and was not eating any dinner. "Why, dear," she said, "what is the trouble? You are not eating a thing.

The tears came fast then and Buddy said, "O, I is so hungry for my mamma." W. D.

Billie's teddy bear had reached the point where it was but a remnant of its former self. With a down hearted sigh, Billie remarked, "If only my teddy was living, I'd be so happy! I sure need him to play with!" M. K. M.

Insull-Pierce Wedding Today to Be Last Word in Quiet Simplicity

BY NANCY R——.

The marriage today of Samuel Insull Jr. and Miss Adelaide Pierce, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingals Pierce, 1337 Astor street, is the principal social event of the twenty-four hours, though the extra quiet nature of the wedding — no bridesmaids, ushers, or general company—almost puts it out of the reach of a society column with its escorting battery of photo-reporters.

By the way, don't you think that we're all turning away with a slight feeling of satiety from the big weddings with their exhausting series of ante-nuptial festivities, choking mass of wedding gifts, heavy church ceremonial and subsequent exhausting reception? I think there's a tendency to revolt from a custom that has become burdensome on all concerned.

One father I know told his daughter that if she'd elope he'd give her $10,000 and also hold the ladder for her. But even better than eloping is the super-quiet wedding like the Insull-Pierce one today.

Miss Pierce's gown is to be most simple. Her mother describes it: "Of white satin, square necked and with long sleeves and a tiny silver girdle. Her veil is of tulle, and will be short, only hanging to the floor." There are to be no trimmings of ancestral lace, no orange blossoms, or fussiness of any kind. Ogden Ketting is to be best man for Mr. Insull, and there have been absolutely no invitations issued, except to the closest members of the family and those by word of mouth.

The Rev. E. Ashley Gerhardt of Christ church is to read the service at 4:30 o'clock at the Pierce residence and the bride and bridegroom are to depart almost immediately to sail for abroad. They will be away for about three months, and on their return will occupy their new apartment at 1244 Stone street.

Day's News in Society

Chicago colonists are arriving now in large numbers in the White mountain resorts. Mrs. John H. Winterbotham of 40 East Huron street has opened her place at Sugar Hill, N. H., and nearby are her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Poole, the latter's author husband, and the Poole children, who have a house on a hill overlooking the Presidential and Franconia mountain ranges. John Sumner Runnells is expected at his lakeside place, Willowgate, at Chocorua, which is in process of preparation and renovation. Prof. and Mrs. William James of Harvard are to join Mr. Runnells, who is Mrs. James' father, when they return from Prof. James' sabbatical year abroad.

Mrs. Mark Skinner Willing is at Jefferson, N. H., with Mark Willing Jr. at Wyndybrae. The John V. Farwells III. (Margaret Willing) are at the Willings' Virginia estate, Bushfield farm at Mount Holly. They are expected to visit in Jefferson later in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Forsythe and Holmes Forsythe Jr. are newcomers at Jefferson colony this year and are planning to be at the Waumbek for some time.

Maj. Henry Leonard of Washington, D. C., and Colorado Springs, a retired marine officer and interesting figure in the army and horse world, is to judge the hunting and jumping classes of the show. He is expected to arrive today and will be the guest of Mrs. William E. Swift. Mrs. Swift is to give a dinner for him on Saturday evening.

The Lake Geneva Garden club, of which Mrs. William Nelson Pelouse is president, met yesterday afternoon at Flowerside Farms, the summer place of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin, for a musical by Miss Marian McAfee.

John J. Mitchell, who has been at St. Luke's hospital seriously ill for some time, was taken by private car on Tuesday night to his summer place, Ceylon Court, at Lake Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coleman Crowell of Winnetka are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Mary Coleman Crowell, on Tuesday morning, July 13, at the Evanston hospital. Mrs. Crowell was Miss Lucy P. Kimball.

Mrs. Joseph J. Morsman of the Chicago Beach hotel, and her daughter, Miss Margaret Morsman, are in Europe for the summer. Miss Morsman's marriage to J. Harvey Page, son of Mrs. J. Murray Page of 25 East Walton place, is to take place in September.

Three silver cups and several gold and silver medals will be awarded as prizes in various events. Proceeds of the show will go to the Lake Bluff orphanage.

Prussia Offers Kaiser Farm if He'll Work It

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 14.—If the former kaiser and the Hohenzollerns will knuckle down to farming their private estates, Prussia will return 51,000 acres of their properties to them, the Prussian government has informed the legal representatives of the former kaiser. This land, the republicans assert, if properly farmed, will yield $1,000,000 a year, which they consider sufficient sustenance for Wilhelm Hohenzollern.

The former kaiser also is demanding a cash settlement for 140,000 acres which the republic refuses to return to him. Prussia's new offer to the kaiserists called for the return of the crown prince's headquarters at Oels to the national government, as well as other concessions.

On receipt of the detailed offer from Prussia, the crown prince, accompanied by the former kaiser's legal adviser, Herr Berg, proceeded to Doorn to submit the compromise on the farming plans to Wilhelm.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, July 14.—As a reward for good conduct, 700 Florence school children, accompanied by three juvenile bands, today made a trip to Rome, where they paraded and were received by Premier Mussolini.

He expressed gratitude at the devotion of the children and admonished the teachers to bring up the boys and girls the way that he urged in the new text books, "so that they will understand the struggles of the present generation and will preserve the liberties and enlarge the frontiers, preparing for our great future."

Sailors from Ostia, where the fleet has been stationed, paraded before Premier Mussolini at Chigi palace today and laid a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier. The fleet sailed from Ostia tonight.

Bastille Day Celebrated by French in Chicago

French men and women in Chicago made holiday yesterday in memory of the fall of the Bastille and the beginning of French independence. The festivities began with a reception at the French consulate in The Tribune Tower, at which M. Charles de Ferry de Fontnouvelle, French consul, decorated Alphonse Campion with the emblem of a chevalier of the legion of honor. M. de Fontnouvelle was the principal speaker at a dinner following a picnic held at Pilsen park during the afternoon and evening.

Students Here Today to Recall French Pioneers

Fifty high school students, many of them from France, winners of an oratorical contest in the east and in France on the subject of "French Pioneers in America," will arrive in Chicago this morning. They will follow the trail of French pioneers in America. The group will be the guests of the Chicago Historical society while here.

The French students arrived in the United States as a result of Miss Ann Morgan's activities in the American Good Will association.

The party will leave this evening at 6 o'clock for Minneapolis. Accompanying the students will be writers from the United States and Canada, secretaries of many historical societies, and representatives of several chambers of commerce.

Mexican Capital Host for Week to U. S. Admiral

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mexico, City, July 14.—Admiral Julian Latimer arrived here today after his reception at Vera Cruz yesterday. The U. S. S. Rochester, Admiral Latimer's ship, gave the regulation salute on entering the bay, but as the city possesses no guns and no Mexican gunboat was present, the salute was not answered. Although President Calles, Foreign Minister Saenz, and Minister of War Amaro are absent from the capital, the government will extend an official welcome and banquet to Admiral Latimer. The American embassy has arranged receptions and a banquet to be given during the admiral's week here.

Smoking Suit—By Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Poor, dear, artless old great-grandmother! How she was deprived of the blessings of our modern civilization! For when she got out her corncob pipe there was no special costume devised for the rite. She just pulled away in her everyday dress.

Nowadays — well, wherever there's smoke there's pajamas! At least, so reasons the creator of negligees, and among modern habiliments for the boudoir the "smoking suit" holds a position of recognized authority.

Here is something so gay that it looks as if it might have come straight from the Wiener Werkstadte. To begin with, there are trousers of a checked material, and the check is made up of gold and emerald green. Topping these is a short sleeved blouse of heavy white Jap silk. A black satin coat is here to rebuke the frivolity of the trousers, but again lightness of sentiment scores in that band of gold ribbon tied about the throat.

The bolero has been tried out in these smoking suits, and one stunning costume seen recently comprised a bolero of metallic cloth with trousers of orchid satin cuffed in black. To complete the Spanish note of the bolero came a sash of purple velvet girded tightly about the hips and intruding upon a blouse of white crêpe.

"Mother of British Stage" Is Dead at 92

LONDON, July 14.—[U. N.]—Miss Dolores Drummond, "the mother of the British stage," is dead. She was 92 years old. Miss Drummond was known to every follower of the theater in England. She had played with Henry Irving and practically all of the leading British actors who had made outstanding successes during her lifetime. Her interest in the stage was keen even in the declining years of her life.

Nearsighted.

One day while spending Sunday with my son and his family, several friends dropped in about dinner time. While they were visiting in the front room, I went out to the shaded back porch where my daughter and children were. I am nearsighted, and only noticing my daughter, I said anxiously, "Are they all going to stay for dinner?" As soon as I had spoken, I noticed that one of the guests was also there. Imagine my embarrassment as my daughter replied, "Well, I hope they are!" M. N.

Forgot to Remove Her Picture.

I am a young man who had never had a watch until two years ago when a friend, whose wife had presented him with a new one, gave his old one to me. It was an excellent timekeeper and I never had occasion to open the back.

The other evening I was with some friends, and they, noticing I had consulted my watch, asked to see it. They handled it, and when one of them opened the back, what do you suppose confronted us? The picture of the wife of the man who had given me the watch! Did they shout? Was I embarrassed? Whew! C. Z.

NO LAUNDRY

We do have AVERAGE salesmen earning $8,000.

We do promote salesmen with Sales Records to Executives.

A connection in this organization means securing a permanent territorial franchise, with a nationally known organization. A proven future without investment, except your brains, for active salesmen between 27 and 40 years of age.

I will interview privately and employ two men for nearby territories, so do not consider this unless you are prepared to start AT ONCE, should a connection be agreed upon.

Let's get down to "brass tacks." We only want to interview salesmen who are sincere in their desire to make a permanent connection. Remember, no quick clean-up here, but an opportunity which you will immediately recognize after talking it over with me.

LINCOLN—DE LUXE 7 PASS. TOURING. This car's owner believed in having every comfort together with smart appearance, such as 2 fender trunks, seat covers, 2 spotlights, snubbers, 6 excellent tires, auto w. s. cleaner, mirror, motometer, etc., and had it rebuilt from front to rear in preparation for a drive to California. We would be glad to put interested persons in touch with the former owner who will gladly give any information about how it was handled. We do not know where a similarly fine Lincoln buy can be had without paying $500 more than our price of $1,250.
